Phillips One of Four Senators Appointed

OTTAWA (CP) — Appointment of Dr. Orville H. Phillips, Progressive Conservative MP for Prince, P.E.I., to the Senate was announced Tuesday night by Prime Minister Diefenbaker.

The appointment of the 39-year-old Alberta dentist was the fourth Senate appointment announced by the prime minister Tuesday.

The three others were former works minister Walter of Toronto, defeated in the 1962 general election; Rhea Bell of Ontario; and Professor Paul Yuzuk of Winnipeg, professor of Slavic studies and history at the University of Manitoba.

Dr. Phillips has been MP for Prince since 1967. He is a graduate of Dalhousie University and served in the RCMP from 1941 to 1945.

New Senate standings are: Liberals 52, Progressive Conservative 27, Independent 2, Independent Liberal 1, vacant 3, total 85.

Mr. Walker, 54, a longtime member of the prime minister's cabinet, was named in his office Monday and died with him.

A lawyer specializing in the law of criminal negligence, he was first elected to the Commons in 1957 and appointed parliamentary assistant to the justice minister. He was re-elected in 1962 and appointed works minister in August 1962.

COUNCIL HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

Optimistic Reports Given By Mayor, Committees

Tabling a financial report indicating a surplus on current account of $18,000 for the year, city finance chairman H. E. Hysman told the 107th annual City Council meeting Charlottetown was in good financial condition despite an increase in the debt.

While the latter had jumped over $1 million, at the same time 100 new elementary schools had been opened and a great amount of permanent work completed.

"Another feature of the meeting was the tabling of the long-awaited housing report by town councillor Walter deSilva after a meeting with CMHC and the housing advisory committee Tuesday afternoon.

Lord Samuel Dies In London

LONDON (Reuters) — Lord Samuel, a leading British Jew and former parliamentary leader of the Liberal party died Tuesday night, aged 92.

Samuel, who served as the first high commissioner for Palestine after World War II, had been ill in London home for several weeks.

His wife died in 1956. He is survived by three sons and a daughter.

With Sir Winston Churchill, a close friend, he was the last surviving member of the Liberal government formed in 1905 which laid the foundations of the modern welfare state with its program of national insurance against sickness.

Mental Health Scheme Proposed By Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy urged today "bold" programs he said would eventually free hundreds of thousands of mental patients from U.S. hospital beds and lighten the tragic toll of mental retardation.

The cost for the first year would be $1,350,000, but it might cost many millions more when the program accelerates.

His proposals were in a special message sent to Congress on mental health — the first such message sent to Capitol Hill by a president.

Kennedy asked for an accelerated legislative program for:

- New community mental health centers;
- Centres for bringing the mentally ill back to a useful life and preventing new cases earlier;
- More pre-natal care for mothers-to-be to help ensure their infants will not be doomed to mental retardation;
- More health care to detect and treat threatened cases earlier;
- More trained personnel and facilities for training and re-

U.S. Will Buy 1,000 Phantoms For Air Force

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Air Force will buy more than 1,000 Phantoms — "the best fighter aircraft in the world" — by 1967, Lt.-Gen. Gabriel P. Dosey announced Tuesday.

The Phantom is a navy plane which the air force is adapting as a tactical fighter for close air support of ground troops, winning air superiority over the battlefield and knocking out enemy placements.

All three take effect March 1. Commander O'Dea, 44, was born in St. John's and is a lawyer there. Educated at the University of Toronto, Dalhousie and Oxford, he was named a Rhodes scholar for Newfoundland in 1939 and attended Oxford in 1945 after five years with the Royal Canadian Navy in wartime service.

Paper Suggests Dief Quit Post

TORONTO (CP) — The Globe and Mail says in a front-page editorial that Prime Minister Diefenbaker should give up the leadership of the Progressive Conservative Party.

The editorial says the precipitating factor in the expected election is "the indecision of Prime Minister John Diefenbaker."

Chief Justice Kerwin Held In Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) — Final tribute was paid Tuesday to Hon. Patrick Kerwin, chief justice of Canada, as a wise, humanitarian judge whose career led to a permanent mark on Canadian society.

More than 400 members of the federal and Ontario governments, the City of Ottawa, the bar and bench and the Ottawa diplomatic corps attended funeral services in St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church.

A pontifical high mass was solemnized by Archbishop M. J. Lemieux officiating, interment was in Notre Dame cemetery here.

Lt.-Governors Named For Three Provinces

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker Tuesday night named three new lieutenant-governors — Fabian O'Dea for Newfoundland, Henry P. Mackeen for Nova Scotia and Robert L. Hanbridge for Saskatchewan.

RUSSIA FINDS BOGUS DOCTOR

MOSCOW (Reuters) — The newspaper Medical Worker has unmasked Stan ex-convict who posed as a doctor for 10 years and held the post of hospital chief near Moscow for four years.

The newspaper said Tuesday the ex-convict took over the hospital's medicinal alcohol supplies for his private drinking bouts and specialized in carrying out abortions.

Medical Worker said the bogus doctor, Ivan Pavlovich Romanov, had previously been convicted three times. His offences included fraud and raping a nurse.

Speculate Yanks Back Pearson

WASHINGTON (CP) — A Washington columnist speculates that the state department's public criticism of Canadian nuclear policy was designed to help Liberal Lester B. Pearson in his fight against Prime Minister Diefenbaker.

Doris Fleeson writing in The Washington Star, says: "It could just be that some well-meaning friend here is doing to Mr. Pearson a hard precisely that suggestion is going the rounds with a rather important name attached."

She adds that, presumably, "to quell such suspicions," State Secretary Rusk decided to take over the job of defending his department before a Senate foreign relations subcommittee Monday.

Henry Hicks Named To Dal

HALIFAX (CP) — Dr. Henry D. Hicks, who became one of Canada's youngest premiers at 39, has been appointed president of Dalhousie University here.

The appointment Sunday of the former Liberal premier, who has been vice-president of the university since 1960, was announced Tuesday by Donald McInnes, chairman of the university board of governors. Dr. Hicks succeeds Dr. A. E. Kerr, who retires in August after 18 years as president.

Dissolution Imminent; PM To Call On Gov.-Gen.

OTTAWA (CP) — With calm deliberation, the combined opposition struck down Prime Minister Diefenbaker's government Tuesday night.

Mr. Diefenbaker moved immediate adjournment of the Commons after the Liberal, Social Credit and New Democratic parties defeated the Progressive Conservatives twice on non-confidence motions.

The two votes on the Liberal and Social Credit motions were identical—142 to 111 against the government.

Mr. Diefenbaker said he will advise Governor-General Vanier today of the result of the votes.

He meant that an election likely will be called, probably for Monday, April 8.

The voting went on as spectators struggled vainly to find standing room in the public galleries.

As the Commons adjourned, MPs threw order papers into the air in wild abandon.

Standing in the Commons: Conservatives 115, Liberals 99, Social Credit 20, New Democrats 19, vacant 200—total 353.

CROSSED FINES FAIL

group of eight or more cabinet members had met to consider asking him to step out of the prime minister's job.

Questioned on the reports by the Liberals at the start of Tuesday's House sitting, Mr. Diefenbaker dismissed them as reports inspired by "the Liberal propaganda factory."

Opposition Leader Pearson said the reports of a cabinet split originated from a cabinet spokesman.

SAYS ELECTION NEEDED

NDP Leader T. C. Douglas told the House that Parliament has been reduced to such a state of impotence that an election now is needed.

Gilles Gosselin (St.-La-pointe) shouted out: "You want an election and you are going to get it, eventually."

Mr. Diefenbaker said that if he himself had acted to dissolve Parliament for an election, the Liberals could say the government had denied the country a contributory retirement pension plan and other measures to accelerate the economy.

He pointed to proposed new legislation—notice of which was given Tuesday—of a new organization to distribute grain to Eastern Canadian farmers. He promised to enact a contributory retirement pension plan and other measures to accelerate the economy.

"If you vote against us on this, you're playing into the hands of the official Liberal opposition," Mr. Diefenbaker said to the two smaller opposition parties.

OPPOSITION LEADERS ARE JUBILANT AFTER GOVERNMENT DEFEAT

Opposition leaders are jubilant after the government's defeat in the Commons Tuesday night.

Liberal Leader Lester B. Pearson said Canadians now can replace the present government with one which will do a better job.

"We are very happy that the three opposition parties united to display no confidence in this government because I don't think this government deserves a confidence vote."

Mr. Douglas said: "It is unfortunate that this Parliament wasn't able to give the 'thumbs-down' that the people deserved."

Deputy Social Credit Leader Real Caouette predicted that an appeal for third party support in Quebec, 30-35 per cent of them in Quebec, would be made restrained, offering no predictions.

"I don't really think this was a chance to replace this government with one which I feel confident can do a better job."

The people will now have a chance to replace this government with one which I feel confident can do a better job."

Caouette predicted the Social Credit party would win 160 seats in the election, but his leader was more restrained.
