It is the usual thing to speak of one of those who have been called to their eternal reward in the highest terms which they could possibly merit, but sometimes we are called to record the passing of one who has often called forth spontaneously the appreciation of everyone while still in this life. Such a one was the late Mrs. Gertrude McKenna of Mermaid who died on March 2nd.

Coming as a stranger into our midst about five years ago, Mrs. McKenna soon made herself known to her new neighbors by her spontaneous good will to everyone and by the warm hospitality of her home. It may be truly said that the passing of Mrs. McKenna is deeply deplored by anyone who has ever had the pleasure of knowing her, or experienced her hospitality.

This is a small tribute in behalf of her neighbors and friends, and one way of showing our appreciation of a life that has followed all the standards of true Christianity. It is such a person who is deeply esteemed in life and regretted in death.

Hon. George E. Hughes, Prince Edward Island's "Grand old man of Liberalism," yesterday celebrated his 83rd birthday and was the recipient of many congratulatory letters and telegrams from all parts of Canada.

Members of the Prince Edward Island Pharmaceutical Association, of which Mr. Hughes was the founder, called to see him yesterday, as they have done on his birthday anniversary for several years past, and presented him with a magnificent bouquet of roses. Through confinement to his home by reason of illness and advanced years, Mr. Hughes' mind is still keen and alert, and he enjoys nothing better than a chat over old times with his friends and acquaintances, whose number both in the city and throughout the country, is legion.

A former member of the City Council, a past president of the Charlottetown Board of Trade and of the Maritime Board of Trade, a member of the Legislature, both as a Liberal supporter and a Liberal Government member for a period of twenty-two years, Mr. Hughes' long career as a public man has furnished him with a rich fund of memories and reminiscences. In politics he experienced the "hows" as well as the "whys," having been "snowed under" on one occasion, and on another elected to his constituency by acclamation. He was, however, almost invariably successful in his election appeals. He enjoyed the unique distinction of having sat in the House under seven Premiers. Mr. Hughes was also a charter member of the Provincial Exhibition Association, of which he has been Vice President for several years. The Guardian joins in extending to Mr. Hughes his warmest wishes on this anniversary.

—Dr. A. A. Lockhart of Kensington will practice his profession as dentist in Summerside. He was licensed over the weekend. He was formerly a member of the firm of Leard, McMurdo and Lockhart. MACLEOD—At Phoenix, Arizona, April 6, 1936, Winnifred Grace MacLeod, daughter of the late John MacLeod, merchant tailor, and the late Mrs. MacLeod, of Charlottetown.

The late Mrs. Tulle, who was a daughter of Mrs. Simon Joseph, and the late Simon Joseph, was born in this city and after completing her education in St. Joseph's Convent, entered the dry goods store of her father, at that time conducted on Queen Street, where she was always found an obliging saleslady, and a competent assistant to her father in business.

The deceased was about as usual until Saturday, when she complained of a heavy cold, and on the advice of her physician, was ordered to bed. Pneumonia developed, and despite the constant attention of her physician and a nurse, who was constantly at her side, day and night their efforts proved unavailing.

She leaves to mourn, in addition to her sorrowing husband, manager of the Charlottetown Bowling Alleys six children ranging in age from 2 7/8 to 13 years: George, Alfred, Kenneth, Freda, Thelma and Phyllis. Surviving also are an aged mother, Mrs. Simon Joseph, and three sisters, Annie, Mrs. J. M. McDonald, (Margaret)
