CONVERSATION.—Avoid quotations, unless you are well studied in their import, and feel their pertinence.

For unadulterated economy commend us to the German. Give him a salary of forty cents per diem, and in ten years he will own a brick block, a fat horse, nine children, and a row broader than she is long, and as good-natured as a blind kitten.

A school director in Arkansas, who was ignorant but thought himself to be shrewd, used to say, on examining a candidate for the part of teacher "Now then, we know that a b c are vowels, but what we want you to tell us is, why is they vowels?"

A man in Pawtucket lately made application for insurance on a building situated in a village where there was no fire engine. In answer to the question, "What are the facilities for extinguishing fires?" he wrote, "It rains sometimes."

"Mike, can you account for the extraordinary curve in this horse's back?" "Sure an I can, sir. Before the baste was your property, she was backed agin an Irish horse, that Late her all hollow, and she never got straight since."

A facetious boy asked one of his playmates why a hardware-dealer was like a bootmaker? The latter, somewhat puzzled, gave it up. "Why," said the other, "because the one sold the nails and the other nailed the soles."

A boy having complained to his father that Bill had thrown the bible at him, and hurt him on the head, the father replied, "Well, you are the only member of my family on whom the Bible ever made the least impression."

A down-east militia captain, on receiving a note from a lady, requesting the "pleasure of his company," understood it as a compliment to those under his command, and marched the whole of them to the lady's house!

"Bless your soul," said an old Scotch lady who was fond of quoting and applying Scripture, to Dr. Chalmers, one day—"Bless your soul, here you are, always going about like a roaring lion trying to do good!"

After rolling all night in your berth at sea, till you are miserably sick, it is irritating to have a steward open the door in the morning and ask if you will have a fresh roll for breakfast.

Eleven Egyptian cavaliers, who overslept themselves and appeared late at morning parade, had their heads taken off with cimeters, to teach them a lesson.

A GOOD TAKE-OFF.—"Jane, give the baby some laudanum, and put it to sleep, and bring me my parasol. I am going to a meeting for the melioration of the condition of the human race."

A tallow chandler said he didn't mean any disparagement to the sun, when he said that his candles were the best lights ever invented.

There is a chap in Jamaica, Long Island, so lazy, that when he is seized with the fever and ague he is too lazy to shake; and in the same town there is a young doctor so green, that when he goes into the country, it takes three men and a boy to keep the cows from him!

A brother editor tells us that when he was in prison for libelling a justice of the peace, he was requested by the jailer to give the prison a puff.

"I can marry any girl I please," said a young fellow, boastfully. "Very true," replied his waggish companion, "for you can't please any."

Why is a vain young lady like a confirmed drunkard? Because neither of them is satisfied with the moderate use of the glass.

If your wife runs away, don't run after her; if you do, there will be two fools in the race.

"Time is money." Of course it is, or else how could you spend it?

"There is no rose without a thorn." Quiz says there is—a prim-rose.

A RICH REWARD.—The truth of the proverb, that "there is nothing lost by doing a charitable action," is exemplified by a correspondent who sends us a sketch of the life of a respectable member of the Society of Friends. This individual, it appears, at the age of eighteen, walked forty miles to put himself apprentice to a certain trade; a ferry intervened and he had no money to pay the fare, but a kind-hearted woman lent him four cents. He learned his trade, and experienced various vicissitudes of fortune, until he finally settled in New York, where he amassed a large fortune and retired from business. In gratitude to the woman who had lent him four cents, he schooled all her children and gave her a pension of one hundred dollars per annum, which, by a provision in his will, she is to receive during her life. This is more than compound interest on the sum originally lent.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER.—It was a judicious resolution of a father, as well as a most pleasing compliment to his wife when, on being asked by a friend what he intended to do with his girls, he replied, "I will send them to my mother, that they may learn the art of improving time, and be fitted to become wives, mothers, heads of families, and useful members of society." Equally just, but bitterly painful, was the remark of the unhappy husband of a vain, thoughtless, dressy slattern. "It is hard to say it, but if my girls are to have a chance of growing up good for anything, they must be sent out of the way of their mother's example."

Agriculture.

Hints for Farmers.

It is not what we make, but what we save, that makes us rich.

In looking around among my brother farmers I notice many things wherein there might be greater economy in my opinion.

Timing cattle out late in the fall, when the ground is soft to be trampled upon.

In letting cattle stand in an unsheltered yard in cold, stormy weather, when there is room in the stable for them.

In throwing their fodder in the yard to be trampled under foot, instead of feeding it in the racks.

In not having water in the yard for cattle, in place of driving them through the snow and all kinds of weather to the creek, thereby losing more in manure during a year than the interest of what it would cost to bring the water in the yard to say nothing of the inconvenience.

In not having a house for poultry to roost in, and save their droppings; the value of the latter from a hundred fowls, in one year, would pay the cost of the building, not counting the advantage it would be to the fowls.

In not having a woodhouse to cut in on rainy days, and store up dry wood.

In leaving potato-vines, weeds, &c., to go to waste instead of hauling them to the hog-pen to be worked into manure.

In riding about and leaving the management of the work too much to hired help.

And last, but not least, in sending their children to school a day or two each week, and allowing them to play and loiter about the rest of it.—Farmer's Chronicle.

CURE FOR SHEEP-KILLING DOGS.

"L. B." Washington Hollow, writes: "I have a valuable dog, and more valuable sheep, for which the dog has an illicit liking. Is there any cure short of bullet?"—In one instance, the following remedy was effectual. The culprit was muzzled and strapped by the neck to the necks of two stout weathers. The sheep took fright at their unusual companion, dragged him around the pasture in all directions. When tired out, the sheep were released, and the dog sneaked home, thoroughly cured of his appetite for live mutton, and he was never known to chase sheep afterwards. If this remedy fails, try the bullet.

BARLEY.—"W. H. W." Allegan Co., Mich.

The piece of land you describe—a clay loam, plowed last fall after corn—is well suited for barley, provided it is not wet. If it needs draining, better sow it to oats. You may get a fair crop of oats, but you certainly will not get a good crop of barley. The first requisite for barley is a naturally dry or drained soil. Then a rich clay loam, well cultivated for corn, fall plowed and again plowed in the spring, and sown as early as the ground is in good condition, ought to give a good crop of barley. Drill in the seed at the rate of 2 to 2½ bushels per acre.

NEW YORK LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

Assets, January 1st, 1868, Over Ten Million Dollars!

PRESIDENT: MORRIS FRANKLIN, ESQ., Vice President and Actuary: WILLIAM H. BEERS, JR.

HEAD OFFICE 112 & 114 Broadway, N.Y. General Agent for the Dominion of Canada: WALTER BURKE, Esq., Herald Buildings, Montreal.

The New York Life Insurance Company

IS ONE OF THE OLDEST INSTITUTIONS

Of the kind in America, having been chartered in the year 1811, and commenced business in ay, 1845. During her twenty-three years of its existence, it has issued policies upon the lives of more than

and has paid in losses $5,000,000 to the families and representatives of those who have deceased while members of the Company.

Annual Income EXCEEDS Four Million Dollars.

A SAFE INVESTMENT.

The instances are many within the experience of every Life Insurance Company, in which the proceeds of a Policy has saved from poverty the survivors of those who have thus made provision for their wants in times of prosperity and health. A wife may insure the life of her husband for her own benefit, and should she survive him, the amount of the insurance will be payable to her free from any claims against his estate; and in case of the death of the wife before that of the husband, the amount of the insurance may be made payable to her children.

THE COMPANY DECLARES ANNUAL CASH DIVIDENDS

which are available in payment of each Annual Premium. All the insured in this Company receive dividends which can be used in part of the second and each subsequent Annual Premium thereafter; or the dividend may be allowed to accumulate, and subsequently used in whole or in part in the payment of Premiums. The business of the Company being PURELY UTUAL, each member pays only the average cost of insurance, all surplus being annually returned to the Policy holders. (Companies having a Stock Capital usually retain a large portion for the Stockholders.) The Dividends paid to Policy holders exceed $3,000,000.

Endowment Assurance Policies.

These Policies are coming into general request as a sure and profitable investment for one's declining years, they deserve the attention of all. The sum secured by an ordinary life policy becomes available upon the death of the assured; on the Endowment plan the amount is received by the assured himself upon his attaining a specified age, while full provision is made for death occurring prior thereto.

THE NON-FORFEITURE PLAN.

This Company originated and introduced the valuable feature known as the Non-Forfeiture Plan which is rapidly superseding the old system of life long payments, and has revolutionized the system of Life Insurance in the United States, and which has been adopted (generally in a less favorable form) by all Life Companies. A party, by this table, after the second year, cannot forfeit any part of what has been paid in.

Tables of Rates, Circulars, Examples of Dividends, Forms, &c., can be had by applying to the Agent, at Charlottetown.

Grand Diet of Worms,

DISSOLVED BY WATSON'S SCIOLEDION,

WHICH is offered to the public as a perfectly safe, pleasant and efficacious expeller of Worms from the human system. As this preparation contains no impoisoned ingredient, the administration of it to young children is not followed by the dangerous and, in many cases, fatal consequences resulting from the use of many of the Vermifuges at present before the public.

A compliance with the directions accompanying it will prove it deserves the character claimed for it above, while the promptness and painless character of its action render it the cheapest and safest remedy for worms hitherto discovered.
