Canadian Oil Companies Ltd. Refuse Offer From Shell
 TORONTO (CP)—Directors of Canadian Oil Companies Ltd. unanimously rejected the $14,000,000 offer made for the company by Shell Oil interests.
 The Shell offer had a value of about $10 a share, and a letter to shareholders from W. Harold Rea, president, says appreciation made by the company's management, supported by independent consultants, indicate that the value of the company's assets, particularly common shares, is considerably in excess of $9 a share. The letter says:
 "On an operating part of the view, the management and directors are confident of the possibilities of continued growth and development of the company, particularly in the light of the large capital expenditures made over the last few years, and the management is available to the company because of its unique position in the industry."
 "Canadian Oil Companies has been for many years, and is now a Canadian-controlled company. It is today the only major Canadian-controlled, integrated oil company left in Canada. I think that it is generally recognized that Canadian oil is well-managed, progressive company that has had, and can continue to have, an important part in the development of the Canadian economy."
 "It is the feeling of your directors that the concept of a Canadian ownership which over the years has been one of the

Population Control Expected
 MONTREAL (CP)—The population explosion won't blow mankind off the planet, Dr. H. L. Trueman, secretary of the Canadian Freedom from Hunger Campaign, said here.
 Speaking at a student United Nations seminar at Macdonald College, he said he cannot agree with the widely held view that the world is going to become disastrously overcrowded.
 "Since humanity has shown that it has the collective intelligence to save itself from disease, it is not likely that it will be stupid enough to multiply itself out of existence," he said.
 For many nations the critical problem in the next 25 years will be to strike a balance between food production and family production.
 The week-long seminar is being attended by 140 high school students from New Brunswick, Ontario and Quebec, Ontario and New Brunswick.
