are — the way they worry and get cross and say things they shouldn't when all the time they know better! yes: "A little bit of hatred can spoil a score of years. And blur the eyes that ought to smile, with many needless tears. A little bit of thoughtlessness and anger for a day, Can rob a home of all its joy, and drive delight away.

It takes no moral fibre to say harsh and bitter things. It doesn't call for courage to employ a lash that stings. And cruel words and bitter, anyone can think to say. But the hurt they leave behind many years can't wipe away. Just a little bit of hatred robs a home of its delight, And leaves a winding trail of wrong, that time can never right. For only those are happy and have their peace of mind, Who guard themselves from hatred and words that are unkind." Until Monday — —Diary — — Good-night . . .

IN MEMORIAM

WILLIAM J. GIBSON

There passed peacefully to his eternal rest on Thursday, October 26th, 1950, one of Marshfield's oldest and respected citizens in the person of William J. Gibson, in his 89th year.

Born on the farm on which he resided all his life and in which he took a great interest. Mr. Gibson was a man of a pleasant and generous disposition. He won the esteem of all who had the privilege of his acquaintance and this community is the poorer for his demise.

Always deeply interested in agricultural matters, Mr. Gibson was for many years a familiar figure at farm meetings and live stock shows, as an exhibitor at the Provincial Exhibition and at fairs in other parts of the Maritimes. Mr. Gibson believed that every citizen should take an active interest in our political life and was a past president of the Conservative Association of Queen's County.

He was an elder in Central United Church and for many years was a teacher in the Sunday School, and while his health permitted was seldom absent from worship on the Lord's Day.

Mrs. Gibson, formerly Isabel Stewart, passed away on February 2nd, 1945. Three members of his family also predeceased him, Alexander Mahon who died in infancy, Elizabeth Jane, wife of Ernest Ings and Sadie Isabel, wife of John Drake.

He leaves to mourn three daughters, Helena, Mrs. George Crawford, Charlottetown, Mae, Mrs. Donald Tibbetts, Cambridge, Mass., and Florence, Mrs. Major MacRae, Central Royalty, also one son, Wylie, on the homestead and a number of grandchildren and other relatives who will cherish many happy memories of days and hours spent together. The funeral took place on Saturday the 28th of October. A short service was held at the home, followed by service in Central United Church conducted by his pastor, Rev. John Douglas. Mrs. Neil MacLean of Charlottetown sang very sweetly a favourite hymn of the deceased, "No Night There". The hymns sung were, "The Lord's My Shepherd" and "Abide With Me". A number of beautiful floral tributes bore silent testimony to the esteem in which the deceased was held. The pallbearers were, John MacFarlane, Ernest Foster, Stanley Scott, Almon Boswell, John B. Andrew and Heath Foster. Burial was in Central United Church Cemetery.

Shower At Nurse's Home

In the Reception Rooms of the Nurses' Residence of the Sanatorium, Miss Stearns, Dietician and her staff of the Dietary Department, assembled on Saturday evening to bid farewell to Mrs. Mabel Simpson, who is to be married shortly. Mrs. Simpson was ushered into the room while Mrs. Sutherland played Lohengrin's Wedding Chorus. Miss Margaret MacLeod read an address, and Mrs. Brander read the verses. Miss Judy MacCormic made a presentation of china, linen and glassware. Mrs. Simpson, although pleasantly surprised, graciously replied, expressing fine sentiments of associations with dieticians, staff nurses, and patients, while employed at the Sanatorium; also words of appreciation for the very beautiful gifts. A beautifully decorated cake was cut and served with ice-cream, wafers, and tea. Miss Haliday cut the ices, and Miss MacLeod served. The evening was pleasantly whiled away with Mrs. Simpson and Mrs. Sutherland at the piano, and a lively sing-song. All departed wishing Mrs. Simpson all future happiness.

BROKEN HOMES - BROKEN HEARTS

CHILD WELFARE AGENCY IS OF PRIME IMPORTANCE. A Children's Aid Society emphasizes preventive work, while performing daily remedial services. It aims at restoring normal home life by helping the parents solve family problems which concern their children. When it is impossible to prevent the break-up of the home, the agency finds foster homes for the children. It attempts to avoid placing children in the care of institutions, in recognition of their right to grow up in a normal home environment. It also attempts to find foster homes for children already in orphanages, in co-operation with the orphanages. It assists in solving behaviour problems of juvenile delinquents.

READ THIS FIRST. IS A CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY NEEDED ON P. E. I.? Government authorities, who have nothing to gain from the formation of a private agency, estimate that there are over 800 children who need the services that can best be provided by a CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY. These children must be cared for. They, too, have a right to happiness. You can help the CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY to protect that right by contributing to its campaign for funds. If you are not contacted by a canvasser, please bring or mail your contribution to the CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY OF P. E. I. General Delivery CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I. CAMPAIGN DATES - NOV. 20 - 30 MINIMUM OBJECTIVE - $10,000 HAVE YOUR DONATION READY FOR THE CANVASSER

CARED FOR REGARDLESS OF CLASS, COLOUR OR CREED. The Prince Edward Island Children's Aid Society is non-sectarian and non-political in scope; it is to be staffed by professionally trained persons. Its policy will be determined by a freely elected Board of Directors of private citizens, broadly representative of the entire Island. It is a private social welfare agency—one of the strong safeguards of Democracy. YOUR CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY WILL..... 1. Locate foster and adoptive homes for neglected, abused, and orphan children, and for children of broken homes. 2. Supervise the placing of such children in homes suited to their needs. 3. Assist unmarried mothers and their children. 4. Provide parole and probation services for juvenile offenders. 5. Do other necessary child welfare work.
