A Letter from Sebastopol.

We have been favored by Sergeant McKinnon with the following letter from his Son in Law Sergeant Billings of the 38th Regiment, now before Sebastopol. The letter is of very recent date and coming from a person who was well known in the Island, will be doubly interesting.

British Camp before Sebastopol,
12th December, 1854.

My Dear Father;

* * * * You of course have heard of our laying siege to Sebastopol; it is I assure you a very tough job, the Russians are making a great stand, we landed on the 14th September and were engaged in the terrible action on the Alma on the 20th September; we marched again on the 23d, the enemy retreating every day before us, and giving up positions that a good general would not lose, however we arrived after a most harassing march (the greatest want being water) before Sebastopol; on the 17th October we opened fire for the first time, I can give no idea of that day, imagine about 1600 heavy guns roaring and raining shot and shell in every direction, indeed that day our Regiment found a very warm berth; but thank God I was spared, when hundreds were strewed and smashed in every direction, since then we have continued every day hammering each other; the town (a most splendid one) is in ruins, our fleet gives them no peace on the sea side, and we on the land; on the 26th October the enemy tried our rear and were foiled, as all the country behind us is all open, it is what you would call in America a rolling prarie, there is little cultivation except in the valleys, which are most delightful spots, everything that you could name grows here, but now the winter has set in, the cold is nearly as bad as in America, thanks to my being in America so long, I am able to bear it pretty well; since the 24th of April last, I have not been in a bed or under a roof for 5 minutes together, we have lain out for weeks at a time exposed to every kind of weather, never taking anything off but our boots and them we placed under our head for a pillow; on the 5th of November, the enemy made another attack on our right at Inkerman, they were beaten in every direction, and they ran for it, leaving 9,000 dead and wounded on the field, next day we turned out to bury their dead and our own dead when the cowardly wretches fired on our men when so employed. Before you receive this, I expect the siege will be over, the town must fall, it is described as a plague house, no one to bury the dead, water is 11s a gallon and the corpses are rotting in the streets; God help the poor inhabitants. Lord Raglan our commander sent Prince Menschikoff the Russian General word to send out the women and children, but he would not, so they will have to take their chance when the place falls, it is nothing but a ruin, their houses are tumbled about, day and night we give them no rest; the country supplies us with nothing, all we get is from the shipping; we have lost half the horses of the army for want of forage. Our ration consists of 1lb of biscuit, 1lb of pork, 1oz of green coffee, 1¾oz of sugar, and 1 gill of rum per day. We used to stop 24 hours in the trenches at a spell, but the weather has become so cold, we relieve every twelve hours; the duty is terrible hard; it is raining the last 16 days, [illegible] when you return from the trenches dripping wet, you have nothing but the wet earth, a wet blanket and uncooked rations to look to; only for the rum we would die; as it is, the new Regiments from England are dying by scores, they die of cramp from the cold in the trenches. Wood is very scarce, we burned all the houses we could get at, and the men have become so [illegible] that they creep into the outskirts of the [illegible] get wood, sometimes they are caught [illegible], other times they get clear off with all [illegible] under, pictures, chairs, tables, clothes, [illegible] have seen a fellow who got into a [illegible] with a load of physic when he [illegible] g else, another brought a large [illegible] himself with, for weeks I have [illegible] irt, and it is months since I [illegible] yet thank God my spirits [illegible] ne day, that Mary and I

22d Geo. 3d, chap. 3, section 2:

And be it further enacted, by the authority aforesaid, that no truckman, driver of carts, labourer, or other person whatsoever, shall hereafter do or perform any labour, work or business appertaining to his or their respective ordinary callings or professions, or their worldly labour, or suffer the same to be done by his, her or their child, or children, servant, or servants, either by land or by water, (works of necessity and charity only excepted) or practise, or suffer to be practised, any sport, fowling, fishing, game, play, or pastime, whatsoever, in any of the County towns, or other places whatsoever, within this Island, on the Lord's Day, or any part thereof, upon pain that every person so offending, upon conviction thereof, by the oath of one credible witness, before any of Her Majesty's Justices of the Peace in this Island, or upon view of such Justice, shall, for every such offence, forfeit and pay the sum of Ten Shillings, the same to be levied, in case of non-payment, by Warrant of distress, and sale made of the offender's goods.

Yours, &c.,
CIVIS.

January 30, 1855.

(For Haszard's Gazette.)

MR. DONALD MCPHEE;

Sir,—You are, I am aware, no longer a Preventive Officer, but you no doubt will be able to give some account of the different seizures which have from time to time been made, since you were appointed to that office. I am an importer and have been obliged to pay my duties and should like others to do the same; but I fear that many of the different parties whose goods have been seized have not for some time past been obliged to forfeit their illicit importations. Perhaps you can throw some light on this matter, by so doing you will oblige,

Yours,
AN IMPORTER.

Charlottetown, 30th January, 1855.

TO THE EDITOR OF HASZARD'S GAZETTE

Sir,—In one of your recent papers, I saw that Dennis Reddin, Esquire, J. P. for Queen's County, was convicted and sentenced to pay a fine to the Queen, of Thirty-five Pounds for obstructing an officer of Justice in the execution of his duty; and that the Hon. George Coles, Esquire, J. P. for three Counties, was also convicted and sentenced to pay a fine of £15 for a breach of the Peace. But I have not yet seen that either of these individuals were either dismissed from their offices, or that they had resigned. My reason for troubling you on this occasion is, to enquire if these individuals still hold their positions as J. P's? for not a great while since, a person residing not a great distance from Charlottetown, in a passion, forgot that he was a J. P., and upon being convicted of a breach of the peace, and sentenced to pay a fine, had to retire from his position as a Justice of the Peace, and folks hereabouts are desirous to know, if, because the first named individuals are residing in the Capital, although convicted of similar offences, they are to remain in the Commission.

Yours,
A LIBERAL.

St. Peter's Road, Jan. 25, 1855.

P.S.—Since writing the above, I perceive that the dismissed Justice has been again appointed, so that I suppose if the other two are also out, it will be only for a short time.

THE MAILS.—Although the weather has been for the most part fine and pleasant, we have had no Mail since last Friday week. We heard that the Couriers had not left this side, yesterday, and as to-day is unfavourable, they cannot cross before Monday, consequently we will not receive our Mails before Tuesday.

PUBLIC TEMPERANCE MEETING.—On Thursday evening next, the 8th inst., the Third of the series of Meetings will be held. Chair to be taken at 8 o'clock. John Lawson Esq., and Mr. George Millner, will address the meeting. The Choir have in course of practice some new pieces for the occasion. Instrumental music will also be in attendance. A Collection will be taken to defray incidental expenses and to purchase Tracts.

ACROSTIC.

Join in our struggle, ye brave Sons of Liberty,
"Onward and upward," our motto shall be.
High is our cause; and tho' hot should the contest be,
Now is the time to cause Bacchus to flee.
Actively, though his black army is gathering,
Red though his banner gleams o'er our fair Isle.
Breaking his ranks here; his baneful light withering,
Under the bright "Sun of Temperance" smile.
Conquer we must then, for ours is a chosen band.
Knowledge increasing, proves Alcohol's fall,
Love and Fidelity and Purity hand in hand,
E'er be they joined, till they reign over all.

P. J. M., Lot 60, Jan. 4.
