The D & A CORSET.

For Evening Dress

Women find the D & A CORSET as well suited for evening wear as it is for ordinary purposes. It gives "chic" to the figure, without stiffness or discomfort. It is sold at popular prices.

Wear the D & A Corset. (7)

DODD & ROGERS

FRILLS OF FASHION.

The latest chiffon sash is nearly three-quarters of a yard wide.

Velvet leaves in all the gorgeous colors of autumn foliage trim some of the latest hats.

Wear a wreath of little roses in your hair at the theater instead of a bonnet, and you will be quite up to date.

Velour grosgrain is a new silk highly recommended for skirts. It is very rich and soft, with a finish like velvet.

The special feature of the latest evening cleaks is the large hood at the back, which is really made for use and very becoming.

A wide lace necktie and large cravats of kilted black lisse are almost universal evidences of fashionable dress just at the moment.

Blue in all the shades of navy, turquoise, gray and lavender tints is prophesied as the leading color for spring, with green, brown and yellow ranging next in importance.

White suede cloth is worn for dressy theater gowns and is trimmed elaborately with white braid and gold buckles, besides having a vest, revers or yoke collar of white satin covered with cream lace.

One of the latest models in silk petticoats is made with a graduated flounce much wider at the back than in front and fitted on a yoke just over the hips. But the real novelty is in the bustle, made by gathering the top of the back breadth into a sort of pouch lined with haircloth.

A new fashion in silk stockings shows a clock in openwork lace which is fully two inches wide at the heel, spreading so as to show on either side of the front when it is on the foot and tapering up to a point on the side. This is sometimes in a contrasting shade, but the effect is prettiest when it matches the stocking.—New York Sun.

Hood's Pills

Are gaining favor rapidly. Business men and travelers carry them in vest pockets, ladies carry them in purses, housekeepers keep them in medicine closets, friends recommend them to friends.

Try Holding Your Breath.

The modern quick moving elevator, when it sinks suddenly, gives many persons an unpleasant, qualms feeling. Into a well filled elevator in a big shopping store the other day stepped from one of the floors two women.

"Do you know," said one of them to the other, "that if you hold your breath going down in an elevator you don't have that unpleasant feeling; you don't feel it at all."

Of course nobody in the elevator listened intentionally, but nobody could help hearing what she said. Conversation instantly ceased, and everybody drew a long breath. The elevator shot downward in silence.

"Ground floor!" said the elevator man as he threw back the door, and the women streamed out from the car upon the floor, talking now gayly, and there was one at least who said that the plan was effective.—New York Sun.

One For the Debating Club.

A group of half a dozen physicists, all eminent; a sheet of paper, a pencil. With the latter one of the group draws a pulley, a cord over the pulley, a tree, a bough from which the pulley hangs. To one end of the cord is attached a stone, to the other cord clings a monkey. If the monkey proceeds to climb up the cord, what will happen? Will the stone rise or fall? Heated discussion; break up of the party; no result. Can any of your readers help to settle this question?—Alfred Jingle in Engineer.

The Sphinx's Riddle.

Johnny—What is "the riddle of the sphinx?"
Papa (with a meaning glance at mamma)—The riddle of the sphinx is this: How can she, being at least part woman, sit there year after year and century after century without ever saying a word? Ah, my boy, I guess it'll never be answered either!—Cleveland Leader.

Helmets in the fourteenth century were surmounted by extravagant ornaments. Feathers, flowers, images of dragons, birds, beasts, the figures of women and occasionally the bust of the knight himself adorned the crest.

The most wonderful wine cellars in the world are underneath a nobleman's palace at Warsaw. They have been used for storing wines for over 400 years, and the whole place is one mass of fungi and stalactites.

THE WHOLE system feels the effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla—stomach, liver, kidneys, heart, nerves are strengthened and SUSTAINED.

'Tis not all Gold THAT GLITTERS

Many are taken in now-a-days, and are paying from ten to twenty dollars for a watch not worth five, by buying from peddlers and others who are not watch-makers.

Do not be Deceived.

But when you want a reliable watch buy only of one who understands the trade and asks only a fair price for a good article.
