

The Liberal-Conservative Candidate: Dr. Jenkins.

Liberal-Conservative committee rooms: Connolly's building, Queen Street. Store lately occupied by W. & A. Brown & Co. Open all hours.

THE DAILY EXAMINER. AUGUST 13, 1884.

THE CAMPAIGN.

STEADY BOYS! "Work" is the word for the next week. "Brag" is all very well. But work is better. Work will give us the victory, though our opponents should brag ten times as hard as they have bragged during the past week.

The list of Dr. Jenkins' nominators which we published yesterday, was an "eye opener." The names of leading men of every calling and profession in the County are on it. Farmers, mechanics, dealers, doctors, lawyers, clergymen, — all are represented among those who are actively promoting the election of the Liberal-Conservative candidate—Dr. Jenkins.

The list of Dr. Jenkins' nominators is a terrible crusher of the hopes of the red-hot Grits who brought out the Independent Candidate, in the expectation that straightforward and intelligent Liberal-Conservative electors would be entrapped by the transparent trick.

Let electors examine the list for themselves and draw their own conclusions about the result of the election to be held on the nineteenth. The men who nominated Dr. Jenkins are not the men to see their candidate defeated if they can help it. Every man of them will use all the ability and influence he possesses to secure an overwhelming victory for the Liberal-Conservative Candidate; and every man will be inspired by the fact that he is working for the good of his country, and in support of the greatest political leader in Canada, viz: Sir John McDonald.

A Daniel Come to Judgment.

In the Upper Provinces the burden of the Grit lament is "Prince Edward Island is a poor ruined country and a great burden upon the General Government." We are pleased to see Mr. Patterson, M. P., for South Brant here; for he will be able to tell all the people he sees when he goes home that we are not all ruined, and that prices here are "cheaper than ever!" By the way, Mr. Patterson is, we believe, one of those poor unfortunate manufacturers whom the N. P. has ruined—(well, almost) ruined. Still he is, we are pleased to see, financially and physically able to take a little recreation a thousand miles from home, and bear a hand in the political contest which rages here.

By the Liberal-Conservatives Mr. Patterson is satirically called "Boanerges," but by the Grits he is regarded as the "best stump speaker in Canada." We can imagine then the rapturous eagerness which Mr. L. H. Davies welcomed his well-timed arrival in "little lost and ruined P. E. Island." Here is "the able man" to match "that bad man Ferguson," and stem the flowing tide of the Liberal-Conservative sentiment! "A second Daniel come to judgment." So, Mr. Patterson spoke at the meeting held in Rustico last evening; and is to speak in the Market Hall to-night. At Rustico Mr. Patterson "gave away" Mr. Davies and the rest of our local Grits when he demolished the idea that the duty imposed on flour increases its price; and Mr. Ferguson might well have exclaimed, after reading his quotations from Mr. Patterson's great protection speech, in favor of "A Defensive Tariff": "Now Infidel, I have thee on the hip."

That Mr. Patterson's memory may be properly refreshed for the task that is before him this evening, we publish below a few extracts from this speech as published in Hansard, and beg to direct his attention particularly to his remarks on the important subject of "Reciprocity, and how to get it." As Mr. Patterson will, we are quite sure, tender THE EXAMINER his sincere thanks for this service, we may answer him in advance, by saying that we always cheerfully give all the assistance we can to strangers:

"At my last election, when my opponent told them (his constituents) "that they need not expect any protection from the Reform Government, I had to assure them that whenever this subject came up in the House, I would raise my voice in their behalf."

"I think it is hardly possible the duty on wheat will give increased prices, because we raise a surplus and export. Nevertheless, it will be a protection to our millers, and if any can be given to our agriculturists by a revision of the Tariff, they should get it. The party to which I belong, and which is led by the Premier, will make a mistake if they refuse to grant this Committee."

"It is true some Hon. gentlemen here think the United States pursue a commercial policy that is utterly nonsensical in some respects; but until the duties on agricultural products are removed, it is prima facie evidence that the farmers believe protection to be in their own interests."

"The question is whether in the event of future negotiation, the imposition of a tax on grain would operate in our favor. Fancy a Commissioner delegated by this Government and sanctioned by the British Government, sent to Washington to negotiate such a treaty Reciprocal. The question might be asked what he deserved. He replies: "I wish to have a free market in the United States for the products of our forest, fields and mines." Then the United States Commissioner might ask: "and what will you give us in return?" Our representative replies: "The free use of our markets for similar products of our country." The astute American would naturally say: "We have that already. I do not see that you offer us anything." We must remember we should have something to offer when we attempt to open up anew the reciprocity question. I need not remind this House that the great lever we had before in negotiating a reciprocity treaty is ours no longer."

"The Hon. the Finance Minister shall ascertain, if possible, what articles are being slaughtered in our market, what industries are there being crushed out in our midst, what enterprises could be successfully fostered in this country and then frame a Tariff that would be defensive in its nature. He being the champion of our interests, should use, not offensively, but defensively, the weapon that has been placed in his hands in order to prevent the life blood of this country being drawn from it."

"The hon. member for South Waterloo predicted the result of Protection would be to stimulate our industries so much that more factories would arise than the country could sustain. That would bring down prices and ruin the manufacturers. If that be the case—and I believe the hon. gentleman is right—it would be the concern of those gentlemen who are asking for Protection at the present time. Prices would be brought down, and consumers would get the benefit of cheaper goods than they now have. It would simply remove the competition from the American manufacturer to our own, the consumer receiving the benefit of the same, but the country being enriched by the industries."

"If the Finance Minister finds such is the case, I trust that the wisdom which led him to yield that point will induce him to grant the same to other industries, and that no sectionalism will be his hands. I hope that other gentlemen will speak on this subject, and whether the committee is appointed or not, the interchange of views will lead the Finance Minister to bring in a tariff which will redound to the prosperity of the whole Dominion."

* Reference is here made by Mr. Patterson to a political favor bestowed on himself by the protection afforded by the late Government to the manufacture in which he is engaged. He was evidently afraid that the then Finance Minister was a little too strong for Free Trade; and he wanted him to go a little further, and make all the manufacturers prosperous in the same way.

"I am not a Protectionist. I am not one of those who believe in erecting a wall so high that you cannot trade with any other country, but I must admit I am in favor of a defensive policy."

"It is well known that we pay a cash bonus to the inhabitants of other countries to come to Canada and settle in our midst. It is a fact that some of those who have been induced to emigrate to Canada, have been compelled, from want of employment to which they have been accustomed, to go to the United States. I believe by a defensive tariff you would not have to pay to bring those men here. Adopt it and you will find the steam whistle of our factories will be the call for them to come."

"I have confidence that he will arrive at a conclusion on this point. I know the difficulty he will have in satisfying all parties, but we should keep in mind the fact that we are one people, and that when one of our industries prospers all must benefit, while if one languishes, all must suffer more or less."

(From a Brantford paper under the date of February 10th, 1882.)

"Mr. William Patterson has taken his departure for Ottawa. What a pleasant story he will pour into the ear of his chief! He will tell Mr. Blake that the Commercial aspect of Brantford never looked brighter than it does to-day. He will say that our new cotton mill now employs in the neighborhood of 200 hands, and that the proprietor has a sufficient number of orders on hand, to keep the mill going for twelve months. He will report that many of our manufacturers have almost doubled their work during the last fifteen months, and in proof of this, he will declare that in the year 1881 alone, the new machinery purchased, and the new building erected by the heads of our industries, represented a sum not less than $250,000. Mr. Patterson will also tell Mr. Blake that the Northwest trade, given to Ontario by the present tariff, has brought thousands of dollars to Brantford, and then to back up this statement, he will say that the Harris Agricultural Implement firm, who have eight large warehouses in Manitoba, have determined to build immense premises to enable them to supply the orders that come from the Prairie Province. Mr. Patterson will also take delight in detailing the numerous small industries, such as canning and fruit evaporating works, that have sprung up in Brantford since the early part of 1879. In this connection he will probably say that a company with a subscribed capital of $50,000 has recently been organized in this city, to manufacture farm and dairy utensils, and that premises and lands have already been purchased for the purpose. But the acme of Mr. Patterson's satisfaction will be reached when he informs his leader that another English manufacturer, attracted by the field that Canada, through the beneficent agency of the National Policy, offers for the industry, is, in conjunction with Mr. Slater, of the Cotton Mill, entering into negotiations with the city to erect a large Wincey Factory in Brantford. How we envy our member! What a lucky man he is to be the bearer of such good news! What a glowing picture William the Distorter will, on the floor of Parliament, draw of the good fortune that has, in these National Policy days, fallen upon the chief municipality of his constituency!"

"Good-bye, William! don't forget to mention the new Cotton Factory, the new Farm and Dairy Works, the new Wincey Mill, the new Canning Factories, the proposed extensions under consideration by Buck, of stove fame, and Harris, Son & Co.; the large increase in the workmen of the G. T. R. shops, and last, but not least, the boom in your own establishment. Ta! Ta! William. Ah! but you are a lucky man!"

The Lobster Fishery.

We are pleased to announce that an extension of fishing time for lobsters has been obtained to the end of the month. Probably a longer extension would not be of much value. This has been an exceptional year, for, whereas some few factories have canned as many as last year, others, as we are informed, have put up scarcely one-third. According to a semi-official estimate, five thousand men are engaged, afloat and ashore, in the Island fishery; and from 2,700 to 2,800 women. An industry so extensive and so important to the Province deserves all the attention the Government can give it, and we are pleased to see it has been duly considered by the present efficient Minister.

New Rolling Stock for our Railway.

The liberal addition made last year to the rolling stock of the P. E. Island Railway is to be supplemented this year by cars, etc., to the value of nearly $30,000. The cars are to be manufactured at the Railway works, in Charlottetown, under the superintendence of Mr. Unsworth—which is a sufficient guarantee that they will be well done. They will comprise—

Table listing rolling stock items: 48 Box Cars at $400, 10 Flat Cars at $275, 1 First Class Car at $4,400, 1 Combination Car at $3,000, 1 Snow Planger at $50.00. Total $29,850.00.

The first class car for the Cape Traverse Branch will be similar to the "Charlottetown" and "Summerside."

—Hon. David Laird was interviewed by a Herald reporter while at Halifax on his way home from Ireland. The Herald scribe said:—

I suppose you are leaving for home to take a hand in the Charlottetown election, Mr. Laird! "Yes, I shall probably take part." "How will it result?" "I am not sufficiently posted to express an opinion." "Of course you will not support Mr. Welsh—he is running as an independent; you are an out and out party man?" "Oh, yes, I shall. He is a good man, though an independent. The contest will be a sharp one." "But the new Governor, Macdonald, is your brother-in-law?" "Yes, but family connexions do not interfere with our politics. "Still," added the ex-ruler of the Northwest, with a merry twinkle in his eye, "governorships are something to have in the family."

Dr. Jenkins' Nominations.

- AN OMISSION SUPPLIED. The names of the following gentlemen were omitted from the list of Dr. Jenkins' nominations, published yesterday:— David Stirling, Charlottetown, Samuel Hyde, West River. The Lobster Fishery.

EXTENSION OF TIME. The following telegram was received by the Inspector of Fisheries here some days ago:— INSPECTOR OF FISHERIES, PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND: The Minister directs me to inform you that the Lobster fishing season will be extended to the thirtieth. Any further extension will depend upon the result of enquiry as to extent of catch. (Signed) DEPUTY MINISTER OF FISHERIES.

Government Statistics.

AN IMPROVEMENT IN TRADE. An Ottawa despatch reports that the receipts on account of Customs for the month of July, were $1,721,346, being an increase over July last year of $97,116; the receipts from Excise were $56,500 more than July last year. The Public Works revenue—owing probably to the reduction of the canal tolls—decreased $34,600. The total receipts from all sources in the month were $2,599,363, being an increase of $111,500 over July last year.

The colossal statue of Apollo, at Rhodes, was probably not much over 100 feet in height. Bartholdi's statue of Liberty to be erected on Bedloe's Island in the harbor of New York, might look down upon this ancient wonder, were it still in existence, from the height of 220 feet. This gigantic monument, when completed, will be the loftiest in the world. Some idea of its enormous proportion may be gathered from the statement that forty persons can stand within the head, which is fourteen feet high; the thumb has a circumference of 12 feet, and the forefinger is 8 feet long. Around the torch which will blaze with electric light, is to be a balcony that will hold 15 persons. On the 5th, the cornerstone of the pedestal was laid with the solemn impressiveness of the Masonic ceremonial and the wettest kind of rain storm.
