Guest-speaker last night was William Jay, COCE, from Summerside who is a national director of the Credit Grantors Association of Canada for 1966. Mr. Jay gave a talk on his recent trip to Quebec where he attended the 20th annual Canadian Consumer Credit Conference April 11-15. This was held at the Chateau Frontenac Hotel, Quebec City.

Dr. K. A. Parker Addresses Group

"Red Cross Youth" is the new "umbrella" term for all Red Cross activities from kindergarten to college.

Junior Red Cross now 44 years old, will continue to be the term used in elementary schools.

Dr. K. A. Parker, chairman of the Youth Advisory Committee for the P.E.I. Red Cross, stated that the change in name had been agreed upon earlier this year at a meeting of the National Advisory Committee, and was later ratified by the National Executive of the Canadian Red Cross Society. He said that with so much activity at the secondary school level, and beyond, "Junior" was no longer acceptable to the whole organization.

An in-school activity, Red Cross Youth has over one and a half million members in Canada. The program is conducted by 50,000 volunteer teacher-directors across the country. In P.E.I. there are over 2,100 members.

In the elementary schools, members are encouraged to develop personal health habits and to think about the needs of children all over the world. Later they are introduced to concepts and attitudes of service to others. In high schools and colleges they contribute an impressive number of hours of voluntary service in their communities.

The new name of Red Cross Youth is popular among young people. It was recently adopted in Britain and the United States; other English-speaking Red Cross Societies have already made the change, or are considering it.

Mrs. W. W. Reid of Charlottetown is the director of Red Cross Youth for Prince Edward Island.

Annual Circus Is Underway

The annual YMCA circus held last night in the "Y" gymnasium was a great success with a capacity audience on hand to witness the work that is being done at the local "Y". This year's circus stressed gymnastics which has been greatly influenced by the appearance of the Danish gym team last fall.

Among the acts last night included demonstrations on the vaulting box, pommel horse and a class demonstrated the skill achieved by the "Y" members on all pieces of apparatus. The girls demonstrated versatility and grace with their performance with bouncing balls and skipping ropes.

Other acts included were a hand balancing display by Don Walters and Donna MacInnis, and free-elephantics demonstration was given by Dave MacDougall, Pat Goszowski, Max Godkin, Don Walters, Gretchen Walters and Janet Parks.

One of the most exciting acts was performed by Libbie Cox, Janice George, Janet Parke, Max Godkin, a tamborine group known as the Bouncers.

What would a circus be without clowns? Without exception the jolly crew were among the favorites of the night and kept the audience "in stitches."

Master of ceremonies Tom DeBlois put the acts through their paces very effectively last night and will do so again in the repeat performance tonight.

Maritime College Is Big Success

Maritime Christian College was host to young people from many points on Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia at a Christian Vocations Days Rally on Monday and Tuesday of this week.

Some 70 young people attended the sessions Monday evening and all day Tuesday. On Monday evening Leslie Jones, the new minister at the Montague church of Christ, showed them slides of the Holy Land which he had personally taken on a trip there in 1962.

On Tuesday morning the regular classes of the local Christian college were opened to the young people, giving them an opportunity to take part in the daily life of a Bible college. The weekly chapel service was conducted by Ron Mellish, with James Matheson bringing the sermon. Both are students, preparing for the Christian ministry.

Following an afternoon of recreation and relaxation, a banquet was served in the college building with Merle Zimmerman presiding and several of the students speaking about college life. The rally was brought to a conclusion with a service in the evening.
