

FIELD OF BRUSSELS SPROUTS NEAR PLANT IS READY FOR PROCESSING

Langley head is well pleased with progress

Following is a statement from John L. Williams, president, Langley Fruit Packers Limited and Fraser Valley Frozen Foods Limited, as the company's new plant in Montague gets ready to begin operations.

"I am more than pleased with the progress that has been made at our new plant in Montague. Much that has been accomplished has been made possible by a fine co-operative spirit shown by the town of Montague and the provincial government.

Our plant manager has reported that the interest and co-operation of local farmers has been exceptionally fine and we appreciate this. For the time being we are doing our planning for next year. We will need the products produced by many farmers.

PROUD OF RECORD

We have been very proud of our record in British Columbia in gaining the support of growers. It is to our advantage to have the products that we freeze provided to us by the local farmer wherever possible and we plan to go as far as necessary in working with farmers so that they may get good results and good income.

It is our experience that growers who are happy with what they are making are the kind that continue to produce. Our field people will help in any way that they can.

"From the very start of this project it has been my privilege to work very closely with John L. Williams, president of Langley Fruit Packers. Our relationships during this period of construction have been pleasant and I look forward to a continued happy relationship with the officers and members of this firm.

who looks is checked sharply by the others on the machine," it was explained.

ISLAND LABOR FIN?

"We liked the island labor we employed on the construction job," said Mr. Buffum, who explained that they naturally got a few people who were unsatisfactory, but the overall reaction was excellent.

"We found a spirit of loyalty to which we have not been accustomed, he said. Asked for an example, he said:

"Some of our equipment is on rubber tires and when tires failed unexpectedly, some of our workers brought tires from their own homes. That's a kind of loyalty we never experienced before," he emphasized.

And, he added, "I'm sure some of the men we have working here are worrying just as much as I am about getting the plant completed on time."
