

Answer to "Old Maid's Complaint."

The Muse now welcomes in its ring A man of great renown; Creative genius prompts his theme, "Old maid's of Charlottetown."

You smirk, and smile, and waste the hours In gossip at the mill; Whilst o'er the well-bred, "luckless maid" You act as glib, glib mourner.

Armed with your cane and cheap cigar, You saunter up and down; Regaling laughing comrades' ears With scandal of the town.

You court the daughters of the house, Deceive the servant maid; Your very airs and attitudes Are practised as a trade.

May Heaven such mortal woe avert, Through every coming year; I'd rather live unaccommodated maid Than bind me to your peer.

Remember England's greatest queen, That maid of iron heart, Who, by her courage, served her troops To act that gallant part;

Which made her country's navy since, The Mistress of the seas; Which stirs our hardy tars to face "The battle and the breeze."

Or her, around whose saintly brow, The soldier twined his wreath; Of grateful praise, as tenderly She soothed the bed of death.

O'er Lapland snows, in arid plains, Where'er the foot hath trod; Brave Love and Mercy wakes the soul To life in nature's God.

Yes! sure through all life's noblest walks, True woman's power extends; Her hand, her heart, her intellect, Achieve the noblest ends.

Adieu! my Lords. Your Liege now craves That only where they fit, (Not at the whole-souled, generous man,) Her random shots may hit.

A. J. S. Charlottetown, Jan. 22, 1883.

"Missing Link."

There is now being exhibited at the Royal Aquarium in London a strange hairy little creature named Krao. Krao is described as a very bright looking, intelligent girl of about seven years of age. She was caught, according to the account given of her, in the forest near Laos, and brought to England by Mr. Carl Beck, a Norwegian, who, since the expedition described by him in "The Head Hunters of Borneo," has been exploring Siam and the wilder states to the northeast. Hearing in various quarters of the existence of a race of hairy, tailed men, similar in appearance to a family kept at the Court of Mandalay, he offered a reward for the capture of a specimen. A man was caught, and with him the child now exhibited, and a woman of similar appearance then allowed herself to be taken. When the little one attempted to wander the parents called her back with a plaintive cry, "Kra-o," and the call has been adopted as her name. The eyes of the child are large, dark and lustrous; the nose is flattened, the nostrils scarcely showing, the cheeks are fat and pouch-like, the lower lip only rather thicker than its usual in Europeans; but the chief peculiarity is the strong and abundant hair. On the head it is black, thick and straight, and grows over the forehead down to the heavy eyebrows and is continued in whisker-like locks down the cheeks. The rest of the face is covered with a fine, dark, downy hair, and the shoulders and arms have a covering of hairs from an inch to an inch and a half long. There is, it is said, a slight lengthening of the lower vertebrae, suggestive of a caudal protuberance and there are points in the muscular conformations and otherwise which will provoke discussion. Krao has already picked up a few words of English. She is said to be of a frank, affectionate disposition, and shows truly feminine delight in her clothes, jewelry and ribbons. The showman exhibits her as "the missing link."

The Great French Remedy, Dr. LeDuc's Periodical Pills.

For the cure of Leucorrhoea or White Excessive or Painful Menstruation, Green Sticks, Falling of the Womb, Catarrh of the Uterus or Vagina, Hysteria, Pain in the Back, or Piles, or for the purpose of invigorating and giving tone to the Generative Organs, two pills should be taken twice daily, or in very enfeebled conditions, one pill three times a day. To effect a cure in chronic cases it will be necessary to continue the use of the remedy for some months. A reasonable trial will create sufficient confidence in the remedy to insure its being taken until a permanent cure is effected.

LORNE HIGHLAND WHISKY

AN ANALYTICAL SANITARY INSTITUTION 54, Holborn-viaduct, E.C., London, Aug. 8, '79 REPORT on the LORNE HIGHLAND WHISKY: We have visited the bottling stores of Greenlees Brothers, and have selected from the vats, samples of their Lorne Highland Whisky, and have subjected them to careful examination and analysis. FRED. J. GARRETT, M. D., Graduate of the London University, Dean and Registrar of the Boston Medical College of Specialists, says: "I had tried every system of treatment for the cure of nervous prostration, partial paralysis, and abouic dyspepsia. Persuaded, much against my will, to try the Pad system, I put them on, and in two days found that the paralysis of the nerves had been conquered, the entire nervous system toned up, and now—six months from the day of application—I am free from any symptoms of nervous debility or dyspeptic tendency. In my professional practice as a Physician, in private life and among my personal friends, I shall deem it my bounden duty and my highest privilege, as an act of gratitude, to counsel and enforce this treatment, as the only reliable and effectual remedial agency having for its origin the stomach, liver, brain, and great nerve centres.
