Souris Exhibition Held Yesterday

Fine Exhibit Of Roots, Grains And Vegetables Features Fair—Hon. W. H. Dennis Speaks At Opening.

The weatherman smiled on Souris yesterday as that town staged its annual exhibition. The crowd was smaller than usual owing to the fact that a great many farmers were busy at the harvest. A big feature of the Exhibition was the fine showing of roots, grains and vegetables. The number of horses exhibited was smaller than previous years but the quantity was much better according to judge John Roper.

Officially Opened Hon. W. H. Dennis, Minister of Agriculture officially opened the fair in a short speech dealing with Agriculture in general and praising the fine number of exhibits at this exhibition. He was followed by Mr. W. R. Shaw, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, who also praised the efforts of the exhibitors for comparing such a fine show. Other speakers included Mr. H. A. Acorn, M. L. A. speaker on the "Souris people," Mr. Frank Mullaly, and Mr. L. W. Roper, Live Stock Superintendent. Mr. L. W. Roper judged the horses and praised the fine quality of the animals shown. The principal exhibitors in this class were W. H. Townsend, Rollo Bay, T. J. Kitcham, Rollo Bay, and Preston Bryenton, Rollo Bay, and R. A. Sinnott, Rollo Bay.

Cattle Classes Smaller The entry list in the cattle class was smaller than in former years but the quality was good according to Lou Roper who judged the exhibits. Chief exhibitors included the late Mrs. Portune, Angus Threacy Little River, Gavin Reid Victoria Cross, Edwin Reid Rollo Bay, John A. McLeod, Primrose.

Commodities Up

Stock Market Trends Mixed

(By The Canadian Press) War fever continued to drive prices up on north American stock exchanges yesterday, but moderate declines were mixed. Widely divergent trends ruled in New York. Profit taking tended to send "war babies" lower, but other issues, hitherto neglected, showed gains as traders switched their attention. Gains and losses of around 100 points were spread throughout the list at the close of the day. The Dow Jones average for 60 stocks was unchanged. Dealings were slower than on the preceding day, with Transfers totaling slightly more than 2,000,000 shares.

The Western Oils soared on Toronto exchange, but balance of the list was lower. Reports that the exchange rate between Canadian and American dollars would drive United States Oil out of Western Canada shot the oils forward by an index gain of 2.18. The advance in the industrial, goods and base metals divisions. Leaders eased fractions to as much as three points in Montreal. Metals, Utilities and Papers also drifted lower. It was a different story on the commodity markets. Soybean-warmers hit the wheat pit at Chicago and bid prices up 2 1/2 to 3 cents a bushel before enough profit taking was attracted to wipe out a half of the gains. At the day's close, wheat was 1.12 for December and 89 3/4 for May, wheat soft within less than a cent of the previous peaks established last Thursday. Traders with buying orders swarmed into the wheat pit on the Winnipeg grain exchange and despite persistent hammering by fill-takers and hedgers during the last half of the session, managed to boost wheat futures prices more than two cents.

DISCRIMINATING KILTIES NEWCASTLE, Australia (CP)—A deputation claiming to represent 500 men petitioned Defence Minister Street to establish a second kilt unit here, because the existing battalion was "so bad they didn't wish to join it." The request was refused.

HOW GUIDES CAN HELP Although not called upon to bear arms in the defence of our country in this war which we must face, there are many ways in which we Girl Guides of P. E. I. can help.

Volunteers of women over 25 years of age are badly needed for leaders of older Girl Guides known as Rangers.

Volunteers of women over 25 years of age are badly needed for leaders of older Girl Guides known as Rangers. In the whole Province there are but 4 Companies of Rangers. There are many other girls of Ranger age who are anxious to be of service but who are unable to do so owing to this unfortunate shortage of Ranger leaders. Many of these girls are college students and many have jobs which prevent them from being able to give up one night a week to Rangering. Headquarters at 5 Grafton St. City, where you would be most grateful to hear of volunteers to take a Company of from 12 to 18 of these girls.

In Memoriam

MRS. G. D. BURGOYNE

The people of Charlottetown and vicinity were deeply shocked and saddened on Sunday, September 10th, when it was learned that Mrs. G. D. Burgoyne, a highly respected and much loved citizen had passed away at the early age of 49 years.

Her death however attracted the attention and skillful nursing she gradually became worse and at last was called to her great reward. She was a woman of strong character and high and always helping others more than herself.

She was born in Charlottetown, Sept. 17, 1890 a daughter of the late Mrs. E. K. and had spent her entire life in Charlottetown where she was well and favorably known. Besides her sorrowing husband there are left to cherish her memory one son Maurice E. also three sisters and three brothers namely, Harry G. Watson, Wm. Walter, Wm. Walter, and Mrs. M. C. Curran.

Her funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon Sept. 12th in the Peoples Cemetery where she lay in state until her interment in the grave of her mother. The services at the house and grave were conducted by Rev. G. C. Webster, assisted by Rev. Mr. Murray.

When I heard that the negotiations with Russia had been through I rejoiced with exceeding great joy. How we could ever hope to achieve success by allying ourselves with Great Britain in the words of the prophet, "It is unfortunately true there are influential parties in Great Britain who worked for such an alliance, and indeed this has been the case since the beginning of the world."

ENJOYABLE PIPE CONCERT

The L. O. A. pipe band with Pipe Major Jos. Duncan directing, gave an enjoyable and highly entertaining concert on Green Square last night. The concert consisted of 10 numbers and was sponsored by Prowse Bros. Ltd. The action of certain children on the square during the entertainment was highly displeasing to the players and audience alike. These youngsters insisted on making a nuisance of themselves by switching off the lights in the middle of the performance. It is understood that the authorities were notified and such an occurrence will be dealt with in the proper way at future concerts.

CHRISTIANITY DENIED It is not only in the totalitarian states that His deity is denied, but in other States and in the great English-speaking world as well, and it is seen on every hand. So great is this evidence that he who would deny it must be blinder than Bartimeus was. The great God assumed human nature, came to earth as a man, spoke to us in human language, telling us what He wished us to do, and to do as He did. His superhuman power by the works He performed. Therefore, to deny or even to doubt His deity is to forego the greatest act of disobedience He can commit, and will surely bring punishments commensurate with the crime.

PERSECUTION OF JEWS

When our Savior was bodily present on this earth an event occurred that conveys to me a momentous lesson. He had declared that He was God; that He was equal to the Father in all things; and for this the Jews accused Him of blasphemy and judged Him to be worthy of death. Pilate knew He was an innocent man, and wishing to save Him, thought they would if given a choice, prefer Jesus to Barabbas. But in that he was mistaken, they cried out to give them Barabbas. Pilate then said, "What shall I do with Jesus who is called Christ?" Again they cried out, "Away with Him! Crucify Him! and His Blood be upon us and upon our children." That terrible martyr's blood has been shed for the benefit of their posterity who are registered in Heaven, his come down the corridors of the earth, and has been despised and persecuted in all lands, and the end is not yet, because, as a nation and as a race, they have been cursed. If there is not a lesson there for all the rest of mankind that calls itself Christian, and professes to be the disciples of the great and the eminent divines, I know not where it could be found.

REAPING THE HARVEST

During the nineteenth and part of the eighteenth century, the Burying in Germany was tearing the Bible into shreds, rich families everywhere sent their sons, even those intended for the ministry, to Germany to finish their education. Many of these students came back to their respective countries with minds de-christianized, and the western world is now reaping the harvest of the seed thus sown. Some of these men tell us that Jesus Christ was a great teacher, but that he was not a great teacher who ever lived. But this is a most invidious doctrine, and is meant to catch the unwary. I have known a man who had declared himself to be—He was not even a truthful man, and was not, therefore, a good man—perhaps the greatest teacher who ever lived. But this is a most invidious doctrine, and is meant to catch the unwary. I have known a man who had declared himself to be—He was not even a truthful man, and was not, therefore, a good man—perhaps the greatest teacher who ever lived.

In Memoriam

MRS. H. H. COHOON

There passed away at the Prince Edward Island Hospital on August 15th, Mrs. Herbert H. Cohoon, of Murray Harbor.

She had been in poor health for some time and two months before her death she entered the hospital, where all medical aid was done, but proved of no avail. The funeral, which was largely attended, was held on August 17th, and was conducted by the Reverend W. I. Green. The minister in his sermon spoke feelingly of the exemplary Christian life that she had led. Interment was made in Murray Harbor cemetery. The following were the pall-bearers: Angus MacNeill, Nathan Irving, Harry Macdonell, Carl Jordan, Garnet Penny and Gerald Prowse. The hearse was driven by Freeman White. There are left to mourn their loss, a sorrowing husband, an aged father, three sons, Carl, Emerson and Reuben, one daughter, Vera, and two grandchildren, Avis and Mary Margaret, also two brothers, John and James MacKenzie, of Beach Point.

MISS AMERICAS TRY "TO FORGET"

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 12.—(AP)—A new Miss America will be crowned here amid a deluge of whoopee and the odds are that 30 years from now she will be remembered for the title she won. The most that any of the 10 former Miss Americas would say is "I never heard of it." Several admit they are doing their best to live down the titles they annexed so gleefully in their "teens." Five of them are mothers.

Mrs. Victor Cahill of Washington, D. C., who in 1921, as Margaret Graham, was the first to bathe in the spotlights and to be dazzled by the fanfare of a Miss America coronation, politely but firmly refuses to discuss the matter.

Columbus Ohio's Mary Katherine Campbell not only copied the shapeless gown title in 1922 but was back and won it again in 1923. She threatened to take over the throne permanently by being "run-up" in 1924. Today she is a stationer in the town of Lanesboro, Ohio.

Two years ago Bertie Cooper, the 17-year-old Hackettstown, N. J. blond didn't wait for maturity to express her opinion of the title. Ten hours after she had been crowned she disappeared, leaving promoters holding the sack.

Perhaps Mrs. George Bruce, Wichita, Kas., who as Norma Smallwood of Tulsa, Okla. won the title in 1926, sums up the situation. She says: "The letdown to the girls, both those who win and those who don't," is the chief drawback to the whole affair.

Nazis Lack Money For Soviet Goods

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—(CP)—Preston Grover writes in his feature "Washington Daybook": "Commerce department officials cannot see where Germany can draw heavily on Russia for war materials. Reasons given are: 1. Germany hasn't the money to pay for them. 2. Russia has not much surplus to export. 3. Germany, even in peace times, could not make machinery deliveries to Russia's needs in time. Shrouded in mystery is the question whether Russia, for political reasons, will do what is not possible in their "teens. Five of them are mothers."

Fall Vs. Spring Ploughing For Silage Crops

(Experimental Farms News) The season of the year when the land is ploughed in preparation for succeeding crops often has a direct bearing on the yields secured. An experiment was conducted at the Dominion Experimental Farm near Nappan, N.S., over a period of 15 years comparing various methods of preparing soil for silage crops. The treatments compared and the average yields secured per acre were as follows:— 1. Ploughing in August and top working, 16.1 tons 2. Ploughing in August, top working, re-ploughing in the spring, 16.0 tons. 3. Ploughing late in the fall, (after October 15), 15.5 tons 4. Ploughing in the spring, 14.8 tons. Weather conditions are a definite factor in crop production, and influence yields under certain conditions to a greater extent than cultural methods. However, in eleven of the fifteen years of this experiment gave the lowest or second lowest yield of any treatment. August ploughing, followed by top working, proved to be the most economical practice, for not only did it increase the yield by 1.3 tons per acre, but it permitted the control of such weeds as couch grass and spruce that is not possible in late fall or spring ploughed areas without a large amount of hand labour. Ploughing twice did not prove to be economical in the production of sunflowers for ensilage. Further experiments are now underway to determine the most satisfactory methods of soil and preparation for corn.
