

Mrs. Timmy Is Doubtful

It's your mind there's a y doubt Consider well what you're about.

Old Mother Nature. "I'm sure you will like it over here," said Timmy the Flying Squirrel.

Timmy little Mrs. Timmy looked doubtful. "I hope so," said she, but she didn't sound very hopeful.

They were near the pond of Paddy the Beaver. It was much farther in the Green Forest than they had ever been before.

She had gone with him to look, but not willingly. Thanks to her going so far from the old neighborhood.

The truth is that she was already homesick. Timmy had shown her good holes in trees near the water.

"Now I will show you the best one of all," said he and led the way to the top of a very tall tree at the edge of the water.

Timmy came gliding back through the moonlight, landed on the foot of the tall tree in the middle of the pond.

Timmy was in, and ran up to join her. "Don't be a fraidy," he cried. "It's easy."

"It's too far," squeaked Mrs. Timmy in a small voice.

"Pooh! You can do it without half trying! And when you get there you will find the best place for a home we ever had. Come on, dear!"

exclaimed Timmy. Once more he jumped to glide down through the moonlight to the lone tree in the middle of the pond.

Mrs. Timmy hesitated. She was still doubtful. Then she made up her mind to try. She jumped. She jumped as she had never jumped before.

Down through the moonlight she glided and landed on the lone tree so near the water that the tip of her tail was in it.

on, dear!" exclaimed Timmy. Once more he jumped to glide down through the moonlight to the lone tree in the middle of the pond.

Mrs. Timmy hesitated. She was still doubtful. Then she made up her mind to try. She jumped. She jumped as she had never jumped before.

Down through the moonlight she glided and landed on the lone tree so near the water that the tip of her tail was in it.

on, dear!" exclaimed Timmy. Once more he jumped to glide down through the moonlight to the lone tree in the middle of the pond.

Mrs. Timmy hesitated. She was still doubtful. Then she made up her mind to try. She jumped. She jumped as she had never jumped before.

Down through the moonlight she glided and landed on the lone tree so near the water that the tip of her tail was in it.

on, dear!" exclaimed Timmy. Once more he jumped to glide down through the moonlight to the lone tree in the middle of the pond.

Mrs. Timmy hesitated. She was still doubtful. Then she made up her mind to try. She jumped. She jumped as she had never jumped before.

Down through the moonlight she glided and landed on the lone tree so near the water that the tip of her tail was in it.

on, dear!" exclaimed Timmy. Once more he jumped to glide down through the moonlight to the lone tree in the middle of the pond.

Mrs. Timmy hesitated. She was still doubtful. Then she made up her mind to try. She jumped. She jumped as she had never jumped before.

Down through the moonlight she glided and landed on the lone tree so near the water that the tip of her tail was in it.

on, dear!" exclaimed Timmy. Once more he jumped to glide down through the moonlight to the lone tree in the middle of the pond.

Mrs. Timmy hesitated. She was still doubtful. Then she made up her mind to try. She jumped. She jumped as she had never jumped before.

Down through the moonlight she glided and landed on the lone tree so near the water that the tip of her tail was in it.

on, dear!" exclaimed Timmy. Once more he jumped to glide down through the moonlight to the lone tree in the middle of the pond.

Mrs. Timmy hesitated. She was still doubtful. Then she made up her mind to try. She jumped. She jumped as she had never jumped before.

Down through the moonlight she glided and landed on the lone tree so near the water that the tip of her tail was in it.

on, dear!" exclaimed Timmy. Once more he jumped to glide down through the moonlight to the lone tree in the middle of the pond.

Mrs. Timmy hesitated. She was still doubtful. Then she made up her mind to try. She jumped. She jumped as she had never jumped before.

Down through the moonlight she glided and landed on the lone tree so near the water that the tip of her tail was in it.

on, dear!" exclaimed Timmy. Once more he jumped to glide down through the moonlight to the lone tree in the middle of the pond.

Mrs. Timmy hesitated. She was still doubtful. Then she made up her mind to try. She jumped. She jumped as she had never jumped before.

Down through the moonlight she glided and landed on the lone tree so near the water that the tip of her tail was in it.

on, dear!" exclaimed Timmy. Once more he jumped to glide down through the moonlight to the lone tree in the middle of the pond.

Mrs. Timmy hesitated. She was still doubtful. Then she made up her mind to try. She jumped. She jumped as she had never jumped before.

Down through the moonlight she glided and landed on the lone tree so near the water that the tip of her tail was in it.

on, dear!" exclaimed Timmy. Once more he jumped to glide down through the moonlight to the lone tree in the middle of the pond.

Mrs. Timmy hesitated. She was still doubtful. Then she made up her mind to try. She jumped. She jumped as she had never jumped before.

Down through the moonlight she glided and landed on the lone tree so near the water that the tip of her tail was in it.

on, dear!" exclaimed Timmy. Once more he jumped to glide down through the moonlight to the lone tree in the middle of the pond.

Mrs. Timmy hesitated. She was still doubtful. Then she made up her mind to try. She jumped. She jumped as she had never jumped before.

Down through the moonlight she glided and landed on the lone tree so near the water that the tip of her tail was in it.

on, dear!" exclaimed Timmy. Once more he jumped to glide down through the moonlight to the lone tree in the middle of the pond.

Mrs. Timmy hesitated. She was still doubtful. Then she made up her mind to try. She jumped. She jumped as she had never jumped before.

Down through the moonlight she glided and landed on the lone tree so near the water that the tip of her tail was in it.

on, dear!" exclaimed Timmy. Once more he jumped to glide down through the moonlight to the lone tree in the middle of the pond.

Mrs. Timmy hesitated. She was still doubtful. Then she made up her mind to try. She jumped. She jumped as she had never jumped before.

Down through the moonlight she glided and landed on the lone tree so near the water that the tip of her tail was in it.

on, dear!" exclaimed Timmy. Once more he jumped to glide down through the moonlight to the lone tree in the middle of the pond.

Down, down, down he glided.

Mrs. Timmy didn't jump. No, sir, she didn't jump. The truth is she doubted that she could make that long jump and she was afraid to try.

Timmy came gliding back through the moonlight, landed on the foot of the tall tree in the middle of the pond. Timmy was in, and ran up to join her.

Timmy was in, and ran up to join her. "Don't be a fraidy," he cried. "It's easy." "It's too far," squeaked Mrs. Timmy in a small voice.

"Pooh! You can do it without half trying! And when you get there you will find the best place for a home we ever had. Come on, dear!" exclaimed Timmy.

U. S. Canadian Squadrons To Hold Exercise

OTTAWA (CP) — Two Ottawa-based CF-100 jet interceptor squadrons will carry out exercises with American squadrons at Ernest Harmon Field, Nfld., for the next six weeks.

No. 428 Squadron began to move Wednesday to Newfoundland via Chatham, N.B. It will be relieved Oct. 2 by No. 419 Squadron.

While at Harmon, the Canadian units will engage in rocket firing practice and ground radar-controlled interceptions and be partially supported by U.S. ground crews.

"This is a significant move in establishing closer liaison," said Air Vice-Marshal Larry Wray, chief of the RCAF's air defence command.

"We are looking forward to further opportunities of this type where our two aerial defence teams will operate jointly from each other's bases."

For the last few years, aircraft from various squadrons have made brief cross-border visits to that Canadian and American interceptor crew can compare operational techniques.

Harmon field is one of three bases in Newfoundland leased to the U.S. for 99 years.

Drew Visits Old Unit

SOEST Germany (Reuters) — George Drew, Canadian high commissioner to Britain, is re-miniscing Thursday about his First World War army days when he visited his old unit, the Fourth Regiment Royal Canadian Horse Artillery, at Hemer near here.

Drew flew to West Germany for a brief tour of installations of the Second Canadian Infantry Brigade Group. He returns to London Saturday.

The 63-year-old former leader of the Progressive Conservative party was briefed here by Brig. Roger Rowley of Ottawa, the Canadian force commander.

In a broadcast Drew told the 6,000 soldiers of the brigade group and their families that he is "tremendously proud" of the job they are performing over here.

He recalled his First World War days as an artillery forward observation officer with the 22nd. Drew retired after the First World War as a lieutenant-colonel.

Suspected Ghoul Is Charged

BRADFORD, England (Reuters) — A man employed in the furnace room of a crematorium was charged Wednesday with stealing rings from the fingers of bodies awaiting cremation.

The prosecution alleged that Niel Lawrence Lovell 54, looted the bodies when he was left in sole charge of the boiler room.

He took the rings home and they were then offered for sale to jewelers by his wife, it was said in court.

Lovell was charged with stealing six gold wedding rings, two gold signet rings, and parts of shrouds and other burial material.

His wife was charged with receiving the goods. The prosecution said Mrs. Lovell had also handed over to police some socks and stockings her husband had brought home from the crematorium.

FINE DOGS

Foxhounds have been specially bred and trained for fox-hunting for more than 300 years.

NATURAL ARTIST

Enrico Caruso, Italian tenor who died in 1921, had no special musical training before he gained world fame.

DAILY CROSSWORD

- ACROSS 1. Reading desk 2. Not strong 3. Once more 4. Palm cockatoo 5. Shed feathers 6. Shore bird 7. Answan silkworm 8. A hand bomb 9. Nurses (pet name) 10. Southern state (abbr.) 11. Press from gum 12. Performs 13. Hirohito, e.g. 14. Check 15. Replace wiring 16. Indefinite article 17. Retaliator 18. Disappointed 19. River (S. A.) 20. Loyalists (1776) 21. River islands (Scott.) 22. English author 23. Silk veil (sock.) 24. Palm tree fruit 25. Corridor DOWN 1. Market places (Anc. Gr.)

Crossword grid with clues and answers.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By E. JAV BECKER

FAMOUS HANDS

In the latter part of the tournament among the six teams who had survived the earlier knockout rounds.

The Crawford-Becker group won 4 1/2 matches of the 5 each team played in the round-robin. Each match consisted of 56 hands.

Pedro Cabral of New York, playing with Mrs. Johnson, had already bid and made a grand slam in spades, for a score of 2310 points, after guessing the location of the queen of hearts.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

Here's how to work it: One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's and the two O's, etc.

Cryptogram puzzle with grid and key.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE MAJOR HOOPLE

ACN/ TTOP IT ALFUDY DER OLD MASTERS TEAR OUT HANDFULS OF HAIR IN DER TOMBS!

Comic strip panel showing a man in a suit.

OUT OUR WAY

BY J. R. WILLIAMS

WALK BEHIND ME! I CAN'T BEAR TO LOOK AT THEM. THEY'RE NOT FEET ANY MORE—THEY ARE NOW A NOUSOUS PROBLEMA!

Comic strip panel showing a man walking.

Advertisement for Minard's Liniment.

Advertisement for Backache & Rheumatic Pain.

Advertisement for Mecca Household Ointment.

Television Programme Schedule for CFXY TV Channel 13.

Television Programme Schedule for CKCW — Moncton Channel 2.

Advertisement for Wrigley's Spearmint Gum.

Comic strip panel: GRANDMA. AFTER WASHIN' EM I HOPE YOU PUT TH LIGHT BUBLES AN GLOBES BACK TIGHT BILLY!!

Comic strip panel: TILLY THE TOILER. HERE'S YOUR BLACK COFFEE AND SUGARED DOUGHNUT, SIR!

Comic strip panel: MICKEY MOUSE. LET'S CAMP HERE FOR THE NIGHT! THERE'S A WATER HOLE NEAR BY!

Comic strip panel: ETTA KETT. BUT, GEE, DAD— I SIMPLY CANT WEAR THAT MOLDY OLD RAG TO THE DANCE!

Comic strip panel: MUGGS & SKEETER. WHAT'S SKEETER BEING PUNISHED FOR THIS MORNING?

Comic strip panel: HENRY. I'LL BE RIGHT WITH YOU, MR. PALOOKA!

Comic strip panel: JOE PALOOKA. DREGG'S A WELL-KNOWN LOAN SHARK—WONDER WHAT HE WAS DOING IN HERE—WAL, HRS.

Comic strip panel: SECRET AGENT X-9. PHIL, YOU SURELY PICKED YOURSELF A PEACH!

Comic strip panel: THE LONE RANGER. DAVE! DAVE! HE STRUCK IT RICH!

Comic strip panel: L'L ABNER. WELL, DO ANYTHING FOR YOU, BULLMOOSE!