

CHARLOTTETOWN Business College Writing Academy

Let the searchlight of practice illuminate the dark places of Theory.

A THOROUGHLY Progressive Practical Institution, in which young men and women are not only taught Book-keeping (in all its applications to commerce) both by single and double entry, but are trained how to do business, by actual business transactions. The students act as buyers, sellers, traders, bankers, book-keepers and accountants, in actual business operations, and the currency issued by the College Bank and the notes, issued from the Emporium, are used in bona fide business transactions, just the same as in mercantile and banking houses. Book-keeping in itself may be learned at home, but a knowledge of how to transact business, cannot be thus acquired. That our course system of training is eminently practical write for testimonials from business men, and from students who are now holding lucrative and responsible positions.

SUBJECTS:
Book-keeping by single and double entry (theoretical and practical.) Actual Business Practice, Business Penmanship, Business Correspondence, Commercial Arithmetic, Commercial Law, Railroad, Steamboat, Banking, (actual practice in the College Bank.) Typewriting, Shorthand and Navigation.

FACULTY:
L. B. Miller, Principal, Teacher of Book-keeping, Arithmetic, Business Practice, Business Correspondence, Typewriting and Navigation.
J. W. Coulson, (Vice Principal), Teacher of Railroad, Steamboat, Banking, Accounting and Actual Business Practice.
J. Harry Williams, Teacher of Business Penmanship.
Wm. Moran (licensed), Teacher of Shorthand.
George S. Inman Esq., (Law Firm McDonald & Inman) Lecturer on Commercial Law.

For circulars and full information, write or apply to all interested are cordially invited to call at the college and inspect our system of teaching, and work in general.

L. B. MILLER, Principal,

"THE ESSENCE OF THE VIRGINIA PINE"

THE HARVEY MEDICINE CO., MONTREAL.

Many persons cannot take plain cod-liver oil. They cannot digest it. It upsets the stomach. Knowing these things, we have digested the oil in Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites; that is, we have broken it up into little globules, or droplets.

We use machinery to do the work of the digestive organs, and you obtain the good effects of the digested oil at once. That is why you can take Scott's Emulsion.

FRILLS OF FASHION.

Corsets of plaid ribbon are one of the novelties. Black gowns in cloth and various other new black materials are very fashionable.

Heliotrope in all the shades imaginable is in evidence among the new colors for spring.

Among the latest embroideries are zouave and bolero fronts, with long panels reaching almost to the hem of the skirt.

A novel trimming for a velvet gown is valenciennes lace insertion over white satin, outlined on either edge with imitation pearls.

A summer novelty in jewelry will be studs and buttons and pins of carved pink and mother of pearl set in silver or with skeleton silver patterns cut out over the pearl.

Fichus and sashes of net and chiffon made to match and covered with ruffles and frills are displayed among the new fancies. Baby ribbon edging the frills gives a pretty effect.

Something very fetching among the new embroideries on net and chiffon is a combination of raised flowers in lace and jet on steel sequins, which form the stems and leaves.

The black satin blouse heads the list of stylish and useful waists. It is tucked up and down or around, according to the figure it adorns, and with a satin belt embroidered with jewels the effect is charming.

Low, broad, round toques of velvet, with one medium long feather curving high at one side and a profusion of violets or some pretty plumes at the back and side as well, are the latest sort of headgear in Paris.

Hats with willow brims and white satin crowns are promised as a coming fashion. White violets are much used for trimming, and the whole tendency seems to be toward the use of an excess of white in the new millinery.

One of the coming shapes in spring wraps is made like a half handkerchief of colored velvets and covered with venetian lace. It is edged with fur in a frill of chiffon and supplied with the fashionable high collar.—New York Sun.

THE FIGHTING GURKHAS.

The Gurkhas, to whose valor we owe so much on the Indian frontier, are not afraid of death in any shape or form, having the instinct of instant and unquestioning obedience to orders from superiors and take an actual and physical delight in fighting. It is a popular error to suppose that they are without caste. There are about 13 different castes among them and several subdivisions in each caste, but when serving in British regiments and while on a campaign Gurkhas do not allow their caste system to interfere with their comforts and will eat and drink freely with Europeans and among themselves. They have no objection to taking a pull at a British soldier's flask and will share a "chapatti" with the most menial camp-follower. They will gladly take a cigar or tobacco from a European, but on no account must a man of one caste smoke in the company of another.

All Gurkhas trace their descent from the Rajputs of central India, the Thappas and Gurungs especially claiming to have the bluest Hindoo blood in India running in their veins. They have, however, intermarried for generations with Mongolian women. One would imagine therefore that in process of time a distinctly new type, combining the leading characteristics of both races, would have been evolved, but as a matter of fact the vast majority of Gurkhas are either Aryan or Chinese in their cast of countenance. Europeans generally suppose that all Gurkhas are squat men, with broad nostrils, high cheek bones and deep set, narrow eyes. This is not the case. The Second Gurkhas regiment has large numbers of Gurungs and Thappas in its ranks who are of a slight build, with beautifully chiseled and sharp features, Aryans every inch.

Gurkhas have one physical peculiarity—their stature is below the average. As they do not wear beards and their mustaches, in spite of much care, never attain a luxuriant growth, to a casual observer a Gurkha regiment appears to consist of boys, not men. It is on record that when Lord Roberts was marching through the Kurram the Pathan women and children came out to jeer at the striplings whom he was leading, as it seemed, to their certain death, and they only changed their opinion when, largely owing to the heroism of these same Gurkhas, the Afghan army was driven headlong from the Peiwar Kotal.

The colonel of a distinguished regiment used to tell a story of a Pathan who had traveled a long distance to get a glimpse of the terrible soldiers that had defeated his countrymen. When he saw the little boyish looking Gurkhas standing guard at the Bala Hissar, he committed suicide "for very shame," at least—and this is the best part of the story—so the guard declared when asked to explain the presence of the dead body.—London News.

HORSE NOTES.

Betonica, 2:10½, the great California 8-year-old, is a horse of remarkable substance.

At Montreal the trotters raced over the Jacques Cartier ice track hooked to pneumatic sulkeys.

At 22 years of age Onward and Red Wilkes each had 127 performers, Nutwood 92 and Electioneer 62.

Baron Rogers, 2:09¾, by Baron Wilkes, and George A, 2:12¾, by Glencoe Wilkes, were shipped to Europe Jan. 29.

Budd Doble is driving in New York Jesse Hood and Mutation, the fast mares formerly owned by Governor Merriam of Minnesota.

At 14 years of age Gambetta Wilkes had 64 performers. At a like age Sidney had 60, Sphinx 54, Baron Wilkes and St. Bel each 47.

At 11 years of age Allerton had 48 performers. At a like age Axtell and Gambetta Wilkes each had 30, Baron Wilkes 24 and Sphinx 20.

Seven sires of 30 or more standard performers do not carry the blood of Hambletonian. This is only about 10 per cent of the successful sires.

Major B. G. Thomas, Nestor of the turf in the thoroughbred world, will this year have in training a number of trotters in the hands of J. J. Nichols.

The very newest thing on runners seen on the New York snow drives this winter is a high bodied rig, fashioned to imitate a fancy English sporting trap.

Senator McCarthy, whose horses are kept at Goshen, N. Y., in charge of John Dickerson, has announced his intention of endowing a rich stake for the summer meeting at that town.

Gus Wagner, the Cleveland owner of Derby Princess, 2:08½, intends to have a wagon built especially for the mare and believes she will be able to pull it in better than 2:10 this year.—Horseman.

W. P. Colwill has opened up a nice Crockery and China store in the building formerly occupied by Miller Bros. 2nd w d w

Paint for Everything

Almost everything about the house is improved by paint—if the right kind is used. There was a time when one kind of paint was made to serve every purpose.

THE SHERWIN-WILLIAMS Co.

makes a special paint for each kind of work. A paint that will do its special work in the way it can best be done.

For floors a hard-drying and hard-wearing paint, to walk on. For chairs and furniture, a bright, glossy paint—that's hard to mar or scratch. For bath tubs, a hard, bright enamel—that hot or cold water does not affect. For buildings, a durable paint—to withstand the elements.

Paints for outside and inside. We will send a free book describing our different kinds of paints and their different uses if you will send your address. The leading paint dealers keep these paints.
