Old Parties Are Urged To Take Stock

OTTAWA (CP)—A new Progressive Conservative senator has urged Canada's two older parties to examine their own shortcomings to determine why many Canadians are "affiliating themselves with socialists, fly-by-night saviors or demagogues."

Senator Edgar Fournier (PC—New Brunswick) said the Liberals and Conservatives should "look back."

"Let us find what we have not done or what we did wrong," he said in seconding the motion for approval of the throne speech by the Senate.

He welcomed throne speech proposals aimed at adopting a Canadian flag.

Adoption of the throne speech was moved by another new Senator, J. Campbell Haig (PC—Manitoba).

Canada's Leading Space Scientists Return Pleased

OTTAWA (CP) — With one satellite in the sky, another standing by for insurance and their heads full of thoughts about the possibility of bigger space attempts, Canada's top space scientists have returned home after their debut in the outer space business.

After being at Vandenburg Air Force Base, Calif., since mid-August preparing for the launching of the Alouette last Saturday, 19 of the scientists and technicians were welcomed back by a crowd of about 100 relatives and fellow workers from defence research telecommunications establishment.

Keith Brown, mission director, and the man responsible for controlling the shot attempt, said he was "overjoyed" with the launching of the 320-pound satellite by a United States rocket

The Alouette was performing its duties "better than we could have hoped for" and was optimistic about the life expectancy of its transmitters which originally were designed to send down information about the ionosphere for one year.

Mr. Brown said there was an agreement with the U.S. National Aeronautics and Space Administration that if the Alouette failed within a month of launching, a new attempt would be made in January or February. But he said he was confident it would perform perfectly "at least until the end of the year"

Inside the big Hercules transport plane that brought the scientists back to Ottawa there was another Alouette assembled and ready for launching if the unforeseen happened, he said

The announcement said the new company, called Doherty Roadhouse and McCuaig Bros., will be made up of all partners of the two existing firms. There would be no change in present policies.

Hugh R. McCuaig of McCuaig Bros. said the new firm will have 18 offices from Montreal to Vancouver.

Flight Perfect Is Opinion Of Mrs. Schirra, Jr.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—"The flight was perfect," Mrs. Walter M Schirra Jr., said with a big smile after her astronaut-husband completed his historic six-orbit flight.

"It was a long wait but worth every minute of it," she said.

Mrs. Schirra, accompanied by her son, Marty, 12, and daughter, Suzanne, 5, talked with reporters after remaining secluded in her suburban home throughout the flight of more than nine hours.

"I told Wally when I talked with him by telephone early this morning I was sure everything would be successful," she said.

"He said he was comfortable, calm and all ready to go."

The Schirras talked about 30 minutes before the Cape Canaveral, Fla., launching.

Marty was asked if he would like to be an astronaut.

"I would like to be one very much," said the freckled youngster "It sounds very exciting."

Suzanne, a bashful strawberry blonde, said nothing.

Mrs. Schirra said she was not greatly concerned at any time during the flight.

"I was not apprehensive at any time," she said. "I wasn't apprehensive at all."

CONTRACT BRIDGE

QUIZ

You are South, both sides vulnerable. The bidding has been:
1 heart Dble Redble ?

What would you now bid with each of the following six hands?

1. ♠942 ♥J83 ♦62 ♣KJ954
2. ♠Q752 ♥96432 ♦53 ♣84
3. ♠874 ♥J5 ♦Q962 ♣Q753
4. ♠QJ863 ♥A95 ♦K74 ♣82
5. ♠J82 ♥QJ95 ♦Q73 ♣K85
6. ♠QJ97432 ♥8 ♦J64 ♣73

1. Two clubs. First, let's agree that you're not required to bid in this sequence unless you have a message to deliver and there is good reason to do so at this point. A pass of the redouble, for example, would not necessarily indicate either strength or weakness. It would merely show that there is no convenient bid.

Two clubs is best in this case because it describes the hand fairly well, and, moreover, may help partner choose an opening lead in case West becomes declarer. The chances are that East-West will wind up playing the hand.

2. One spade. This is a dreadful hand to have when partner is caught between two fires, but by bidding a spade, even with you try to minimize the danger the weak suit. There is too much risk, if you pass, that partner will bid two clubs or diamonds if you let the redouble come around to him. He may have three spades and bypass that suit in favor of two clubs or diamonds. You bid to keep him out of trouble.

3. Pass. Here you pass because there is no reason to bid. You let partner choose the suit.

4. Two spades. This time you not only want to show your suit, but also that you have real values. The jump response in this sequence shows interest in game, but is not forcing. If partner raises to three spades, you go on to game.

5. One notrump. This is not a weakness bid, though the hand need not be quite as strong as this one. You're not supposed to undertake a notrump contract with a weak hand. The purpose of the notrump call is to tell partner you have scattered strength and, of course, at least one heart stopper. It is meant to encourage him to contest further with a long suit if he has one, or raise in notrump with a balanced hand and extra values beyond the double.

6. Three spades. This is a preemptive bid, pure and simple. The strength — showing bid would be two spades, not three. There are two reasons for the bid. First, the jump to three spades cramps the bidding and may lead the opponents to the wrong contract. Second, the preempt might pave the way to a worthwhile sacrifice against an adverse game contract.
