Alberton and West Prince County

West Prince Co. Fish Ass'n Backs Stream Improvement

The West Prince branch of the P.E.I. Fish and Game Association was formed at a largely attended meeting in the Alberton Legion Home on May 17, 1956. The late J. Ivan Nicholson was the first president with Joseph MacDonald of Tignish and Edwin Turner, O'Leary, as vice - presidents and Frank Weeks secretary-treasurer.

On April 23, 1957, Joseph MacDonald was elected president and Cecil Dennis, O'Leary, was elected vice-president.

In January 20, 1959, William Gorrill of O'Leary became president with E.C. Perry, Tignish, vice-president and Lorne Johnson, O'Leary, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Gorrill has continued as president up to the present time with Bradford MacKay, Coleman, becoming secretary - treasurer on Feb. 2, 1961. At the last annual meeting on March 19, 1962. E. C. Perry was re-elected first vice-president and Frank Weeks, Alberton, second vice-president.

From 1956 to the present time the branch has been active in the release of hundreds of young and full grown pheasants. A branch pheasant program has been carried out for the past four years under the direction of the energetic president, Mr. Gorrill, who has had considerable experience in hatching and rearing pheasants. Releases of full grown birds are made annually and encouraging reports are being received from the release areas.

The branch also takes a keen interest in stream improvement and this work is expected to be expanded this year. The restoration of the Haywood Dam in Tignish is expected to receive the attention of the branch this summer and it is hoped this dam will be rebuilt this summer by the department of industry.

Several stream improvement projects have been carried out by the branch at Little Pierre Jacques River and this project will be continued next winter.

Social Credit Party Probes P.E.I. Interest In Organizing

By JEAN MacISAAC
Guardian-Patriot Staff Writer

Thomas J. Irwin, Maritime co-ordinator for the Social Credit Party, arrived in Charlottetown Tuesday to probe the setting up of a provincial Social Credit organization.

A native of Whiterock, B.C., Mr. Irwin has been with the party since its beginning, has served as a federal MP for the Barnaby-Richmond constituency, provincial MLA for Delta, and was speaker of the B.C. legislature for six years.

INDIVIDUAL CONTACTS

Planning to reach his objective by individual contacts, Mr. Irwin hopes to be contacted by personal visit, letter, or telephone at his headquarters at the Charlottetown Hotel.

In this way, he plans to tell Island people about social credit, and to try to get them to consider changing this country's politics "from the sameness of Liberal and Conservative policies."

The reason for this method of approach is to let the people of P.E.I. decide for themselves, he said. Also, taking the view of social credit as part of a person's life, it is better to foster interest in the individual and have him convinced, rather than resort to the "shock treatment" of large meetings.

If Mr. Irwin gets a good reaction, a provincial organization will be set up, he said. He expects to gauge the amount of interest within four or five days.

OTHER METHODS

If this policy should not succeed, he will turn to other methods, and might consider bringing in the national leader for one large meeting.

He described this visit as a "preliminary skirmish," with his length of stay depending on the reaction.

Mr. Irwin is optimistic about his party's chances here. Just arriving from New Brunswick, where he worked for two months, he reported that a provincial organization had been set up there with representatives in seven out of 10 constituencies. The method used in N.B. was the same as the one he hopes will succeed here.

Individuals don't understand what they have in the line of government and politics, he said, and until they understand what they have, they can't understand what they can have.

According to Mr. Irwin, the emphasis in the Social Credit Party rests on policies, rather than party politics.

New Ferry Is Expected Early In May

It will likely be sometime in early May before the new car ferry, MV Confederation, is put in operation between Borden and Cape Tormentine, Canadian National Railways' public relations director D. V. Lacombe told The Guardian-Patriot yesterday.

The CNR has not yet been informed when it will take charge of the ferry, Mr. Lacombe said, although an Ottawa report yesterday stated that this would likely be done by the end of this week. "That decision," Mr. Lacombe said, "is up to the department of transport."

Mr. Lacombe said there is no connection between the CNR's announced plans to increase sailings to 10 trips daily, starting Monday, and the pending arrival of the Confederation.

The MV Abegweit and SS Prince Edward Island will operate on the new Spring schedule until the Confederation arrives.

TO END SERVICES

PARIS (Reuters) — France Wednesday served notice on Monaco it will end the agreement with the tiny Riviera principality governing taxes, post office services, customs, electric power and other services.

Crop Insurance Forms Prepared

Agriculture Minister Andrew MacRae said yesterday that application forms for potato growers who wish to participate in the province's crop insurance scheme are now being printed and will soon be distributed to growers.

A meeting of the crop insurance agency will be held soon to decide on the method of distribution of the forms, he said.

The federal-provincial agreement on crop insurance has not been signed, but the minister indicated that the agreement will be sent to him by mail for signature.

The premium cost per acre for insurance to the grower will be $5.06. Maximum insurance payment per acre will be $150.-.65.
