THE LETTER FROM HOME.

BY THE REV. JAMES GILBERTSON LYONS, L. L. D.

A youthful stranger mild alone, In a great city's busiest place, In a heart not one familiar tone, He may not see a familiar face...

Will ye ever be missed in bitter thought, A messenger agonized at hand, Who to that mourning pilgrim brought A letter from his own dear land?

Yet mightier than the voice from home, Which ne'er'd the drooping eaves of bliss, These words of Thy Redeemer come To calm our fears and give us rest.

YET METER IN A FESTIVE THRONG. (Lines for Music) I met her in a festive throng, Mid brilliancy and glee, As if a fairy-land she'd brought, Her form so full of life and love...

I hear her speak, such silver notes In dream's of night, When melody floats on the breeze, And lovely things flow free, Her form so full of life and love...

IF WE ARE AS IT ROLLS THROUGH THE REGIONS OF SPACE, WEAR ALWAYS TWO FACES, THE DARK AND THE SUNNY; AND OUR HUMAN LIFE RUNS THE SAME SORT OF RACE, AND END ON ONE AND THE SAME POINT.

Varieties.

WHAT FEMALE RESPECT IS THAT WHICH SPOKE BACKWARDS AND FORWARDS IN THE SAME WAY? None. What lady-like designation is that which is spoken backwards and forwards in the same way? Madam.

A CARE FOR WANTS.—Take a salt of a plant called a horse radish, which is the same as the one we eat in a water when you go to bed.

THE FAIRY SISTER AND SAUT WATER.—"Jenny," said lively Patsy Steiner to her sister, "we men get the salt water."

RECREATION.—Make dry recreation servant to thy business, lest thou become slave to thy recreation.

EXERCISE.—Walking is the best exercise. Habituals years to walk every day.
