

PARKWAYS ENHANCE HARBOR VIEW AT S'SIDE

Cement abutments provide protection against erosion by tidal waters along the shore line on the eastern and western sections of Summerside's water front, facilitating the maintenance of attractive parkways which enhance the harbor view for tourists and others who travel the main highway in or out of Summerside. The grass covered area between the highway and the harbor waters is a spot with contrasting attractions—for children, it is a place to play. For adults, it is a spot to relax. Salt water spray has destroyed the grass in some sections close to the railing, but the grass lawn extending over the remainder of the area is maintained in an attractive manner by Mr. J. Frank Arsenault, of the Parks Department of the Town of Summerside, who is seen above cutting the grass. (PHOTO BY WOTTON)

DISPERSE AND DIG DEEP

Camp Gagetown Exercise Will Highlight 4 Points

OTTAWA (CP)—"Disperse" and "Dig Deep" will be the watchwords during the 1st Canadian Infantry division's atomic manoeuvres, Exercise Morning Star at Camp Gagetown, N. B., July 25 to Aug. 3. Some 10,500 troops will take part.

Army headquarters said Wednesday four main considerations will be highlighted in the nuclear training:

1. A high degree of flexibility in command and control of troops.
2. In a nuclear battle, dozens of commanders at all levels might be obliterated at the drop of an atomic shell.
3. Double, triple and even quadruple sets of communications are necessary in case one is demolished.
4. Battlefield intelligence and surveillance must be as nearly perfect as possible to observe enemy concentrations and locate good nuclear targets.

SIMULATE ATOMIC ATTACK

Simulated atomic bombs, jet fighter planes and helicopters will be used in the divisional exercise, second in Canada's peacetime history. The first was held at Gagetown last year.

Starting June 23, the division will practice battalion and brigade manoeuvres for four weeks before Exercise Morning Star when the entire division will move as a unit. The 2nd battalion, Royal Canadian Regiment, and tanks from the Royal Canadian Dragoons will comprise the enemy force.

Both sides will have the same number of theoretical nuclear weapons available, but opposing commanders will not know where or when they will be used.

The umpires will take into account theoretical radioactive fallout in assessing casualties. The army said the soldier will learn during the exercise that he should have some sort of roof over his

COUNTRY GARDEN

that which can be cultivated and plucked; overhead that which one can study and meditate upon; some flowers on earth, and all the stars in the sky.

In the garden there is always something required to be done, which in the "ring tendeth to compose the mind if it be turmoiled; or arduous pastime if it be weary of calmness. June is Heaven's blessing, and the earth's comfort, the jewel of time and the joy of nature.

Surely God is in this place. I have seen him face to face in the loveliness of flowers and in the service of the showers and his voice has talked to me in the unlit apple tree. No sight can I remember half so precious, half so tender, as the apple blossoms tender in the spring.

The soft south wind, the flowers and the grass, the fragrant earth and the sweet sounds everywhere seemed gifts almost too great for man to bear. The difficulty is to lift our eyes to all this magic in our busy day.

Our own Island poet, L. M. Montgomery, describes the magic of our homeland in these words: "Surely the flowers of a hundred springs are simply the souls of beautiful things. Poppies, aflame with gold and red were the kisses of lovers in days that are fled. The purple pansy with dew drops pearled were the rainbow dreams of a youngling world. Lily, white as a star, apart, was the first pure prayer of a virgin's heart. The daisies that laugh and twine were the laughter of children long ago. The sweetest of all true friendship yet, lives in the breath of the mignonette. To the white narcissus there must belong the very delight of a maiden's song. A red rose, a flowers of the earth above, was a perfect, rapturous thought of love. Oh surely the blossoms of all the springs must be the souls of beautiful things."

Ten lovely white lilies are blooming in the garden house and they have been watched for weeks and kept moistened at the roots by being placed in a zinc container as they need moisture all the time. I have been told they will bloom the second time in the year by planting outside in the summer. They are a long-lasting flower and suitable for many cut-flower arrangements.

The fragrant wallflower is blooming in a golden color. This half hardy perennial has a delicious fragrance and for many years the garden has been fragrant with this plant in June. The sweet Rocket (Hesperis) is an old fashioned fragrant flower in white and mauve blooming at this time. Every day there are new flowers opening to the sun. Till now one dreamed not what could be done with a bit of earth and a ray of sun!

"Tis like the birthday of the world when earth was born in bloom. The light is made of many dyes, the air is all perfume. There's crimson buds and white and blue; the very rainbow showers have TAKEN two of country garden lore and turned to blossoms where they fell and sown the earth with flowers. White all the apple blossoms, the hybrid crabapple trees are the finest and they last longer than the other apple trees in blossom. There are three varieties here in the garden two are rosy pink and one is a beautiful red in color.

Sit here and think of apples, the leaves above will sing of sunlight where it dapples in the shining face of spring. Here is fragile tuning, here rhythm is, the leaves, blossoms, all are drooping, and light drips from the eaves and all about is light, and leaves and blossom through this seat beneath the bright apple boughs is song.

The lilac is in flower, purple and white and all shades in between and it is the loveliest time of year in the garden. There is no flower that brings back such fragrant memories of other years as the lilac. Many more of these shrubs have been planted each year in the garden and there never has been enough of them in this large garden. The foliage is fresh and green and all season and this is the most important part of any good shrub as flowering is limited to a short season even if many varieties are planted. I have been thinking out old wood on the oldest of the lilacs here and am rewarded with a much better shrub. Certainly, this gardening is an interesting and varied hobby.

Flower-gardening is a passion most blessed in its effects, considered as an amusement or a benefit. Nothing humanizes and adorns the female mind more surely than a taste for ornamental gardening. It compels the reason to act, and the judgement to observe; it is favorable to meditation of the most serious kind; it exercises the fancy in harmless and elegant occupation, and braces the system by its healthful tendency. It lures from dwelling too deeply upon the unavoidable disappointments and trials of life which disturb and disquiet the heart. This was written by Louisa Johnson in eighteen hundred and forty, over a hundred years ago but is just as applicable today.

The Chelsea Flower Show was a wonderful success although the weather was not kind to the growers who had to contend with a hard winter and a late spring. The quality of the exhibits left nothing to be desired. Indeed, the rhododendrons, azaleas, tulips sweet peas and annuals could hardly have been finer. Queen Elizabeth the Queen Mother, and Princess Alice visited her show during the interesting to know that some of the varieties were the same as grown here in the garden. A magnificent display of greenhouse plants was staged by Sutton and Sons which contained Digitalis, Salpiglossis, Calceolarias and Schizanthus. A wonderful collection of cacti and succulents along with crotons was also staged and indeed, there was something lovely for all to see and enjoy.

The Queen Mother is shown walking down the path at the Chelsea Show escorted by the President of the Royal Horticultural Society, the Hon. David Bowes Lyon and the Hon. Mrs. Bowes Lyon. This is one of the loveliest photographs of the Queen Mother and I shall have it framed carefully to protect it.

For the first time at Chelsea there was a marquee entirely devoted to flower arrangements set up with great artistry by fine associations of flower arrangement societies which comprise societies in London and the Home Counties, the Midlands and Scotland. There were beautiful exhibits of Carnations, Delphiniums, Gladioli and Dahlias and seldom have tulips been shown to better advantage than at this year's show. It was

More Coffee?

Brazil has been testing portable aluminum irrigation systems to increase the coffee crop. Results are startling: yield per tree is more than doubled. Even if applied only to half of Brazil's coffee crop, production would be increased by 3,700,000 bags!

Our own Canadian farmers have found endless ways to use Canadian aluminum: Piping for orchards, field crops and stock... foil for mulching... roofing and siding for barns, brooders and silos... cans and pails for dairy farms.

Canadian output of primary aluminum is being further increased to supply the makers of these and a thousand other products useful in agriculture, industry, defence and the home.
