ANNOUNCEMENT

Continued from page 1. classification will be eliminated. Deferred messages are transmitted when all other classes of messages have been cleared. 4. Replacing the "night letter telegram" and "day letter telegram" classes will be the establishment of a "letter telegram" class. This type of message will be transmitted at one-half the flat rate with a minimum of 22 chargeable words. 5. Text of "letter telegrams" will be limited to the use of plain language, each word having the meaning normally assigned to it. Use of contractions of plain language will not be permitted in this classification. As a result of these changes, said the Department, "the Intra-Commonwealth Social Telegram Service, in effect for several years by special arrangements, also has been modified." One-half of the new rate schedule will apply to this class of service, placing it in the same class of service as the "letter telegrams," with one exception. The minimum charge will be as for 10 words, excluding the class indicator, instead of the 22 words as in the letter telegram service. The 2-word allowance includes the indicator.

C.P. Members Hold Regional Meeting At Pictou Lodge

PICTOU LODGE, N. S., June 23 (CP)—Improvements in the dissemination of news were discussed today by Maritime newspaper men attending the annual east regional meeting of the Canadian Press, Canada's co-operative news gathering organization. The meeting opened last night and concluded today with Herve Major, Montreal La Presse, CP President, presiding. Roy D. Duchemin, Sydney Post-Record, and Donald R. Smith, Saint John Telegraph-Journal, led a panel discussion. Premier Angus L. Macdonald of Nova Scotia addressed a luncheon meeting tendered by the New Glasgow Evening News and Truro Daily News. Premier Macdonald called for a renewal of faith in the future of the Maritimes and outlined three steps to bring prosperity and growth to the Atlantic Provinces. Later in the day the delegation journeyed to Prince Edward Island for a luncheon at Dalvay as guests of Northumberland Ferries Limited. Reviewing the prosperity of the Maritimes before 1867 and the recession after confederation, Premier Macdonald suggested three steps to return the provinces to their former status. 1. "Make us use our brains. We have plenty of them." 2. "Make the best possible use of the resources we have." 3. "Take risks. Our fathers took risks in their day. We must do the same. Look at the old sea captain of 100 years ago." "With the proper measure of patriotism, study and work," he said, "we should have gotten out. For a long time we seemed to do neither. We were in but not of confederation." Present at the meeting were: W. R. Burnett, Vere Beck, Charlottetown Guardian; Roy D. Duchemin, T. L. Guy, Sydney Post-Record; J. R. H. Sutherland, J. W. H. Sutherland, New Glasgow Evening News; A. B. Coffin, John M. Murphy, Archie MacNeill, W. B. Foster, Truro Daily News; Eric Dennis, Halifax Chronicle-Herald; Frank W. Doyle, C. R. McElhinney, the Halifax Mail-Star; Claire Ganong, Moncton Times and Transcript; J. Alex Crockett, W. Wallace Crockett, Fredericton Gleaner; Donald R. Smith, Saint John Telegraph-Journal and Times Globe; Gilles Purcell, general manager, the Canadian Press; C. A. Day, treasurer; Charles Bruce, general superintendent; Jack Brayley, Chief of Bureau, Halifax; Irving C. Why-not, night editor, Halifax; and Jhn Mosher, New Brunswick staff correspondent, Saint John.

Pugh, Provisional Chairman of the New Brunswick Potato Marketing Board; Ralph MacLean of the Vocational School and S. C. Wright. The meeting favored the establishment of a custom cooling and killing plant in Charlottetown for all classes of livestock and recommended that an expert from Upper Canada view the situation here to learn whether or not a plant would be warranted. Messrs. Woodrow Wheatley and L. MacIsaac spoke on the resolution. Another resolution favored the setting up of an egg and poultry marketing plan this fall. The meeting also asked that the P. E. I. Government explain why the proposal of the C.N.R. this spring regarding transportation was not put into operation. The group expressed their appreciation to the Island Government for their assistance in fighting cutworm infestation and urged the continuance of the work. They moved a vote of thanks to W. R. Shaw for his radio broadcasts and thanked the Lorne Valley and New Perth, N. Y. for the supper they supplied yesterday evening. The meeting also asked the Department of Agriculture for the services of an agriculture fieldman and a veterinarian.

Continued from page 1. judge the possible effect the cancellation would have on Canadian trade "until future intentions of the two countries are made known." The U. S. State Department announced tonight that the reciprocal trade agreement with Mexico would end Dec. 31, 1950. Canada's trade with both countries benefited from the agreement through "the most favored nation" agreements the Dominion has with the U. S. and Mexico. The treaty, signed in 1943, sharply reduced U. S. tariffs on many Mexican products and in turn, Mexico gave lower rates to many U.S. products. Officials here said the U. S. action was "not entirely unexpected." It is expected that Canada now will make a special effort to reach an understanding with both the U. S. and Mexico concerning items that will be lifted out of the most-favored-nation class when the U. S.-Mexico treaty ends. One official said Canada probably would review tariff proposals due for discussion at the international tariff and trade talks scheduled at Torquay, England, next September, in the light of the U. S. announcement. At the same time, officials emphasized that the U. S. might decide to keep tariffs down on a number of goods currently fixed under terms of the treaty. Tariffs now were kept down on scores of U. S. goods not bound by any treaty because "the U. S. thinks it is good business to keep them down."

Visiting Newspaper Men Entertained At Dalvay

The advantage of closer union of the Atlantic Provinces within the framework of Confederation was stressed by Hon. A. W. Matheson, Minister of Health and Welfare and acting Premier, in addressing the members of the Canadian Press at an enjoyable dinner at Dalvay last evening. Winding up their annual regional meeting at Pictou Lodge earlier in the day, the newspaper men were guests of Northumberland Ferries Ltd., and were warm in their praise both of the hospitality shown them and the pleasing appearance of the Island. Hon. Mr. Matheson's welcome to the visitors, their wives and other guests was supplemented by a jovial greeting from His Worship Mayor MacDonald. Brief remarks were also made by Hon. Willford Arsenault, Provincial Secretary, Mr. Herve Major of La Presse, president of the Canadian Press, Mr. Gillis Purcell general manager of the Canadian Press, and Mr. Frank Doyle, of the Halifax Mail-Herald. The latter warmly complimented Mr. R. E. Mutch, president of Northumberland Ferries Ltd., on the occasion of his fiftieth anniversary in business and also on the splendid service rendered by the Wood Islands-Caribou Ferries. Mr. J. R. Burnett, editor of the Guardian and a member of the CP board of directors, presided.

Annual Meeting

Continued from page 1. ered St. Paul's hall committee and all who assisted in the success of the meeting. Following is the report of the Chairman, Mr. W. A. Stewart: "With the passing of another year as Chairman of the Trustee Board it is my privilege to give a summary of the work and in doing this I give the praise for what has been accomplished to those associated with me on the Board. "The work was in several respects, the heaviest in our long history but it was made easier when all labored together so socially and were joined by numerous good friends from all corners of the province and many points beyond. "Our Orphanage had its humble beginning in 1902, so that we are approaching the half century of service to unfortunate children. The present, well-equipped building was completed and occupied early in 1923 at a cost of over $75,000.00. "The years have been marked by the outstanding labor of numerous faithful men and women who have passed from the stage of activity but a few yet carry on after more than twenty-five years of successful voluntary service. "One of these outstanding personages is Mrs. H. S. Henderson, who has been in charge of our Finances for twenty-three years with a record of twenty-three surpluses, and covering the so called depression period 1929 to 1932. "The last annual report stated that the money received was the highest in our long history; now we can say for 1949 that we exceeded this fine record. The grateful thanks of our whole host of friends are due to this committee under the expert leadership of their untiring chairman. Full details of the year 1949 will be found in the Report and their study should give some idea of the tremendous amount of work so successfully accomplished. "The Adoption Committee has a very responsible job to handle but their chief interest has been in the child itself; number of children born out of wedlock has remained at a very low percentage, perhaps somewhat due to the fact that we do not accept infants except in extreme emergency; the movement of children, in and out of the institution, was considerable though almost in balance, so that the number in our care has not slightly changed. "The work of this committee is heavy and carried on with a minimum amount of publicity and in a most sympathetic manner. "The Property Committee had an active year; the changing of the meter necessitated many wiring changes and the barn has now been lighted also; the children's play-room on the third floor was all refinished and the floor completely covered with linoleum; the rear basement entrance was all taken down and rebuilt as it had been causing trouble for many years; this work was done by our capable caretaker, James McPherson, so the improvement is well worth the cost of materials needed. "The School continues to give excellent instruction under our very efficient teacher as a glance at the Inspector's Report which follows will readily show; the Royal Arch Masons continue to supply all necessary in the way of equipment and supplies; their co-operation is greatly appreciated and their effort has made this school second to none in the province. "The Buying Committee has again been faced with extremely high prices but their careful buying and watchfulness for specials has resulted in a very reasonable expenditure; the children have lacked for nothing that would detract from a well balanced diet, and the proof of this is in the children themselves, as so well expressed in the Report of Dr. Tidmarsh which follows. "The Home Committee having so many and varied matters to supervise is made up of all the ladies of the board; this committee has something arising almost daily to claim their attention; the house must be kept in good order at all time to please the many visitors and assure cleanliness. A large number of friends and organizations give parties for the children over which this commit-
