THE DAILY EXAMINER.

APRIL 16, 1889.

A Word of Advice.

It seems probable that the Legislative Council will, after all, pass the Appropriation Act. They have adjourned again and again, and have taken time to think. The more they think over it, the more clearly they will, it is hoped, see the folly of stopping supplies merely because they cannot understand the public accounts. Under our Constitution, the Upper House, almost invariably, passes the Supply Bill as a matter of course. Its members may ask questions, and criticise statements, about the finances of the country. But to stop the supplies to Her Majesty, to interfere with the prerogative of the Lower House to the serious impairment of the public service, is an act involving so grave a responsibility that they dare not do it, unless they know that the public service is subjected to grossest abuses.

In this case, it is not even pretended that either the Government or its officials have been guilty of fraud, extravagance, or anything materially wrong. Indeed, it is freely admitted that the officials are honest and capable; that the Government have not been extravagant or fraudulent. The difficulty lies altogether in the fact that the hon. gentlemen cannot understand the accounts. Though they have, in the last three or four days, been plied with official statements and ministerial explanations, they cannot to this hour, understand them. We hope and trust that the honorable gentlemen will be able to see that there is no justification in this fact for their proposal to burk the Appropriation Act, and hamper the public service and all who are connected with it to a degree which cannot possibly be estimated. Let them be patient and think. "All things come to those who wait." They may yet, obtain light—perhaps, before the Lieutenant Governor comes down to prorogue the House. In the meantime, they cannot possibly do better than complete their Legislative duties.

Notes and Clippings.

—This is the graceful style in which a Sydney paper "weighs up" one of the most popular of New Zealand's Ministers: "The Hon. Richardson, New Zealand Minister of Lands and Mines, has neither the physical nor mental earmarks of a popular pet. He is a surveyor, of medium height, attached to a large head with a cigarette in it, a gruff manner, and a gloomy conviction that the world contains many millions of people—mostly fools. Also with a cast-iron certainty that when things come to be sorted, he will not be with the majority.

—The Colonies and India reports that Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, M. P., presided over a numerously attended meeting of members of Parliament held on April 2nd in one of the committee-rooms of the House of Commons, for the purpose of hearing from Sir John Lister Kaye an explanation of the scheme by which the Northwest Territory of Canada Settlement Company propose to form on Canadian territory 28 settlements, each of 70 families, of small farmers and Crofters. The scheme includes a free grant of 160 acres of land for each family; and the purchase by deferred payments of another 160 acres; and the provision out of funds, partly advanced by the company, and partly by the home Government or the emigrant himself, of buildings, stock and machinery. It is probable that a deputation will shortly wait upon the Secretary for Scotland to urge the scheme upon his favorable consideration in the interests of the Highland Crofters.

Missionary Meeting.

According to announcement a very interesting missionary meeting was held in the Methodist Brick Church, on Sunday afternoon, under the auspices of the Sunday School of that Church. The children were grouped in front of the pulpit in a solid mass of over three hundred—the other portions of the church being well filled with parents and friends. Hymns were sung out of the Dominion Hymnal in use by the school, and although the meeting was somewhat lengthy, the interest was well sustained throughout.

A brief report was read by the Assistant Secretary, from which it appears that the school numbers 502 scholars, with 41 Teachers, 2 Superintendents, Secretary and Assistant Secretary, Treasurer, Librarian and Assistant Librarian, Musical Director and Organist; and contributed last year for its mission in Japan $590. One of the teachers—Mr. C. Clarke—occupied the chair.

The opening services were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Read. The Superintendent, Rev. F. W. Moore, read a letter of much interest from the Rev. Mr. Kohayashi, the Japan Missionary. Master Fred Beer gave a stirring recitation, and very able addresses were made by Rev. Mr. Fisher, Mr. John Whear and Mr. Fritz Moore. The interesting anniversary was brought to a close by the children singing the National Anthem, and the Benediction by the Rev. Mr. Jost.

Personal.

William Campbell, Esq., Melville, is at the Hotel Davies.

We are indebted to Mr. A. A. Bartlett for latest English papers.

The French Chamber of Deputies has voted 10,000 francs to defray the expenses of the funeral of M. Chevreul.

A Cleveland despatch says: It is learned that when John D. Rockfeller's drughter Bessie was married a short time ago to Chas. A. Strong, her father presented her with a million dollars in cash.

We have to announce to-day the death of Mrs. Fletcher, relict of the late John Fletcher, Esq., and mother of Hon. J. H. Fletcher, of Dakota, and C. P. Fletcher, Esq., of this city. Mrs. Fletcher lived to the advanced age of seventy-eight years. An old resident, she was widely known and respected.

Faster Cattle Show.

The show of Easter cattle on Market Square to-day was not so large as usual, but the quality was very superior. Several of the butchers did not exhibit their stock at all, and others only showed one or two animals. The display of Messrs. Blake Bros. was, as usual the leading feature, in fact it was almost the entire show. In all, they had some twenty-five or thirty prime cattle—the largest showing they ever made. Their 1827 lb. cow raised on the Stock Farm and fattened by themselves, was, in the opinion of all who saw her, the fattest and prettiest animal ever seen at an Easter show. Another fine-looking cow of theirs, also from the Stock Farm, tipped the scales at 1700 lbs. Their 1672 lb. heifer, (rising 4 years) was in every sense a beauty, and the Bulman steer was fat enough for anything. Indeed their exhibit all through was excellent—one that would be hard to beat anywhere. The quality of some of the cattleshown by other persons was also very good. Messrs. Saunders & Newsom, George Thorne and others had also, we understand, excellent stock, but they were not exhibited. However, their weights will be found in the list which appears below:

BLAKE BROTHERS.

Cow 1827, cow 1700, heifer 1672, heifer 1120, 2 cattle 2345, 1 do, 2270—fed by owners; ox 1487,—fed by D. Bullman, jr.; heifer 1120, heifer 990,—fed by Ewen McLean; cow 1060, fed by J. C. Clark; 4 cattle 4175,—fed by Mr. Orr, New Glasgow; 3 cattle 3327,—fed by W. McEwen; 2 cattle 1972—fed by James Laird; heifer 1100—fed by Andrew McLeod; 2 cattle 1037 and 935—fed by W. Simpson; 1 do 1145, 2 heifers 2082—fed by W. Laird.

SAUNDERS & NEWSOM.

Cow 1518, ox 1385, ox 1310, ox 1298—fed by Daniel McKinley; ox 1197—fed by William Dawson; ox 1122—fed by Neil McFadyen; ox 1152—fed by R. Dingwell; cow 1297—fed by Finley McKinnon; cow 975—fed by George Clark, Royalty; cow 1145, cow 935—fed by owners.

GEORGE THORNE.

Cow 1230—fed by H. Hurry; ox 1177—fed by Edmond Crabbe; ox 1122—fed by W. Bagnall; cow 1172—fed by John McNeill.

WILLIAM SELLER.

Ox 1045—fed by John McLeod; cow 1180—fed by Albert Mutch; cow 1047—fed by Isaac Essory.

HENRY M'GREGOR.

Ox 1340—fed by Jas. McCallum; ox 1157—fed by P. Duffy.

JOHN DRAKE.

Ox 1300—fed by Richard Drake.

WM. HOLROYD.

Cow 1252—fed by owner.

POPE MILLS.

Cow 1170—fed by owner.

Every year the Easter show of cattle becomes smaller and smaller. In a few more years it will likely be a thing of the past.

Art Notes.

A young Canadian lady, Miss M. A. Bell, daughter of Mr. A. Bell, of Almonte, who has been studying in France for the past year, has just had a picture accepted by the Salon. Miss Bell's picture, which is spoken of as one of the finest pieces of coloring in this year's exhibition, is her first work of any large size, and this emphatic recognition of her talent is therefore all the more pleasing. Her success is of a most gratifying character.

Concerning the Montreal Art Exhibition, now open, the Witness says that it "marks another step in the onward march of Canadian Art." The Montreal Gazette says:—"Mr. Robert Harris is, before all, the portrait painter, and there are several examples of his work on exhibition. Interest centres largely in the portrait of Principal Grant, a subject to tempt any painter. The artist has retained the repose and energy of the man, and brought out all the details of the features with the fidelity of a photograph without its blankness. The background is exceedingly rich, and the flesh tints are delicately blended. The face is very refined, and yet not so highly wrought as to appear effeminate. But his most notable piece is "The Local Stars, Pine Creek School District," an admirable study in portraiture. There are six distinct types of face and figure, and the expression in each is typical of the different emotions which a singer of local note would inspire as he oracularly gives out the tones from his well shaped throat and balanced head. But the figures are too crowded, and one does not get the idea of the low ceiled space in which these singers are wont to disport themselvss. But it is a sympathetic study with no sly fun or pointed jest at the honest efforts after a higher culture in these aspiring ones. "The Pilot of the Galilean Lake" reminds one of "The Exile;" it is full of a certain physical roughness and yet lighted up with a rare spirituality. The massive head is relieved by the delicacy of the pose, and the expression is lightened up with a light which is evidently not of this world. There is another portrait of Mr. D. Lorn Macdougall, the first president of the Stock Exchange. It was executed from photographs aided by descriptions, and is said by those who knew the deceased gentleman to be an excellent likeness. "In a Studio" is a pretty piece of arrangement and coloring, and there is the artistic air that with a sense of objective refinement that is often foreign not only in the subject but in the painting also. The picture of the "Nut Brown Maid" is a delicious bit of portrait painting, the hair is lightly and naturally done and the expression is very charming, if just a trifle characterless. He has one landscape, a study from "Near Sturgeon Point," rich in color with good foliage against a transparent sky."

Rev. Mr. McLeod—Will Not Reply.

Sir,—Last night's Examiner contains a reply to my note of explanation of 13th inst., but the character of the letter is such that I must decline being dragged into a newspaper controversy with its author.
