Egyptian War Notes.
HOW VYSE FELL.
A despatch from Alexandria says:—The Egyptians fought determinedly. Their wounded were carried to the British rear, and carefully attended to. Lieut. Vyse fell while gallantly pressing to the front of the left wing of the attack. The Daily Telegraph despatch from Alexandria says Vyse was shot in the left groin and died almost immediately. His servant carried him off the ground amid a heavy fire.

RUSSIA'S VIEWS
on the situation are atrahilous. A despatch from Paris says that the Foreign Offices at St. Petersburg has not forgiven England, who turned back the victorious Russian army from the gates of Constantinople, which the treaty of San Stefano opened to it. The English Cabinet so spurred on by an almost unanimous public opinion as to render it impossible for it to come to an amicable understanding with the Porte, and it looks as if the Egyptian crisis would soon become complicated by a conflict between the two Powers, a conflict of frightful gravity, and one whose serious consequences it is impossible to forecast.

LORD CHARLES BERSFORD.
This naval officer, who has been selected to lead the land forces at Cairo until the arrival of the British army, was at this station as lieutenant of H. M. S. "Clito" twenty-one years ago. He was then a young harum-scarum fellow, full of fire and energy, and when he came ashore with his friends was accustomed to make the old Colonial Hotel "howl." Shortly before arriving at Esquimaux the "Clito" called in at Honolulu. One night Lord Charles and his party went ashore knocked the Hawaiian coat-of-arms from the front of the U. S. consulate, and carrying it aboard ship nailed it up in his room. Next morning complaint was made to the captain of the "Clito," who come pelled his "fisky young lieutenant" to carry the insignia ashore, ascend a ladder with hammer and nails, and in the presence of several thousand people restore the coat-of-arms to its accustomed place. Lord Charles is a brother of the Marquis of Waterford, and is a particular friend of the Prince of Wales, whom he accompanied to India.

GENERAL NOTES.
Owing to the war and general disturbance it is believed that half of the wheat and the bulk of the cotton crop of Egypt will be a loss.
The Egyptians have the newest pattern of English guns in their forts. English military authorities require about two years to decide whether they will accept a gun of new pattern. Wherefore inventors offer their guns to other nations, who accept them.

A curious coincidence is noted by a foreign journal. It was on the 16th July, 1881, that the French fleet successfully bombarded Sfax, a town which was then given over to the flames. It was on the 16th of July, just one year later, that the English fleet bombarded Alexandria, which has also been burned.

"Is the Turkish Civil Service system," asked a traveller in the Orient of a pasha, "is the Turkish Civil Service like ours? Are there retiring allowances, and pensions for instance?" "My illustrious friend, and joy of my liver," replied the pasha, "Allah is great, and the pub. func. who stands in need of a retiring allowance when his term of office expires is an ass! I have spoken."

Flies on Horses.
The London Daily News recommends, to prevent the torment inflicted by the flies on horses, an application to the latter, before harnessing, a mixture of one part crude carbolic acid with six or more parts of olive oil. This should be rubbed lightly all over the animal with a rag and applied more thickly to the interior of the ears and other parts most likely to be attacked. This application may need to be repeated in the course of the day, but while any odor of the acid remains the flies decline to settle, and the horse is free from their annoyance.

A New Kind of Beauty.
(Toronto World.)
The announcement made in the last issue of the Evangelical Churchman reveals the curious state of things in the Episcopal church, if, as our contemporary states, the Bishop of Algoma has to depend for his travelling expenses on the sale of his photographs of the churchwomen of Montreal, and Toronto. Bishops will hardly equal professional beauties in the attractiveness of their photographs, and, however much in character it may be for the Jersey Lily to pay her hotel bill by the photos which reveal her lavish loveliness, we think that Bishops who cannot pay their way without devices which savor of the variety show had better stay at home. Or rather their constituents should provide a better purse.

GENERAL NEWS
Arabi Pacha has been endeavoring to sell the contents of the Botic Museum to some European government with a view of adding to his collection.
The Prince of Wales is about to be married, and his private London society who habitually goes to balls and dances. Few Englishmen are regular ball goers after 35.

Christian Ostrowski, a Polish writer of eminence, died recently, in Lidsaine, leaving $60,000 to the Polytechnic school at Zurich, to endow scholarships for Polish students.

Lima advices report that several skirmishes occurred recently between the Chilian and Peruvian troops. In financial and commercial matters, Lima is steadily going from bad to worse.

The statement was made in Parliament the other day that nearly 24,000,000 had already been subscribed in Britain towards the shares of companies formed for introducing the electric light.

The physical strength of Arabs is enormous. An officer of the P. & O. Mail steamers says that there are Arabian stevedores who can readily carry from three to four hundred. The donkey boys often lift up their donkeys.

Baron Hirsch, the manager and virtual owner of the Turkish railways, sending 5,000 Jews at his own cost to the United States. It is a generous deed, and he can afford it. He admits having made $25,000,000 in five years by Turkish Railways.

Six miles north of Grenada, on the Kirkman plantation, Capt. Thomas Kirkman recently went to the residence of a colored woman, with whom he has lived for several years, and killed her and her four children with an axe. Kirkman took morphine. His recovery is doubtful.

Haymaking has commenced, pretty generally throughout the Eastern Quebec, and the crop, as a whole, promises to be a fair average one, considering the unfavorable character of the Spring. The Whitfield Model Farm at Rougemont, Que., will cut 200 acres of hay this season.

The English did not build up their East-ern trade until comparatively late in the day. Even after the defeat of the Armada nothing was done until the wreck of a great Portuguese Indian (with a cargo valued at $750,000) on the Devonshire coast awoke the ambition of Bristol's "merchant venturers."

No marriage is legal in France except with the consent of the parents of both parties, but a man or woman over 25 may "respectfully cite" his or her parents to show cause why they refuse consent. If they fail to show good cause, the marriage may proceed in spite of them. Such proceedings are rarely resorted to.

About 70,000 acres in Great Britain are under hops, and the difference between a good and an indifferent crop means millions sterling. A good one realizes half a ton to the acre, and this, at $25 per cwt., amounts on 70,000 acres to $17,000,000. A blighted crop (there is much blight this year) may be estimated on the same basis at $700,000.

Some officers of a British ship were dining with a mandarin at Canton, China, some time ago. One of the guests wishing for a second helping of a savory stew, which he thought was some kind of a duck, and not knowing the word in Chinese, held his plate to the host, saying, with smiling approval, "Quack, quack, quack." His countenance fell when the host, pointing to the dish, responded, "Bow, wow, wow."

The following is the inscription on an obelisk, eight feet high, which will shortly be placed on a well-known moor in North Yorkshire:—
At this stand was shot 191 grouse at a single drive, lasting 23 minutes, by Sir Frederick Milbank, Bart., on the 20th August, 1872, at which time Joseph Collinson was head keeper. Erected by Lady Milbank, in commemoration, 1882. Total bag, August 20, 1872, 2,070 grouse (six shooters). Total killed in the season, 17,064 on Wemmergill moor.—London Truth.

Is Cricket Deteriorating?
(London Truth, July 20).
True lovers of cricket were conspicuous by their absence at the Eton and Harrow carnival, owing to the evil repute that the match has obtained as a competition of guzzling, rather than that of skill and muscle. This year, however, there was a marked change for the better; some few noteworthy riches tried to advertise themselves by their luncheons, but public opinion expressed itself against them. At the close of the play there was a row, and a few "cracked heads," but owing to the wise forbearance of the police, there was nothing serious. Eton and Harrow boys should realize that they do no credit to their schools by these exhibitions of fist-fights, and should leave it to dogs to delight to bark and bite. The play—from a cricketer's standpoint—was beneath contempt; and, although the match seemed to be going in favor of Harrow when stumps were drawn, it would be difficult to say which was the worse eleven.
