

THE CARELESS AND INDIFFERENT

Suffer Intense Agonies This Month.

Many Men and Women in Great Danger.

To Such Mortals Paine's Celery Compound Guarantees a New Life.

The Great Medicine a Sure Cure for Rheumatism and Sciatica.

Thousands of people die annually of rheumatism, yet every case could have been cured if Paine's Celery Compound had been used in time.

Too many men and women show a marked indifference when, in some form, the dread disease commences its agonizing work. Some foolishly imagine that bright, warm and dry weather will banish the intruder, and they determine to trust themselves to time and circumstances. Others place their hope in warmer clothing and the frequent use of liniments, while some experiment with electricity and baths.

As the days pass the careless and indifferent find themselves deeper in the mire of suffering, and they experience all the countless twinges and agonies of the disease. They have chills, pain in the back, quickened pulse, constipation, loss of appetite, coated tongue, and the joints swell—usually the knees, elbows and wrists.

Now is the time of extreme danger. Now the sufferers realize that they are paying the penalty of their carelessness. Many will soon be helpless and useless; we shall see them with stiffened muscles and joints, and limbs twisted and drawn up.

Some will ask the question, "Is there truly a cure for such helpless rheumatism?" We say unquestionably there is. The agent that cures effectually and scientifically is Paine's Celery Compound. It has cured thousands in the past—men and women of the highest standing in every community—and these have given the strongest testimony for the encouragement of others. Besides removing the cause of rheumatism, Paine's Celery Compound is the only medicine in the world that guarantees a permanent cure.

Will you, sufferer continue in agony and danger of death when such amply remedied as Paine's Celery Compound is offered to you.

Let us assure you, poor rheumatic sufferer, that the use of one bottle of Paine's Celery Compound will quickly dispel any doubts that you may have. The effects will be so encouraging that you will be forced to continue with the life giving medicine till you are sound well and happy.

Her Unfailing Instinct.
Mankie, he had often resolved that when the time came to marry he would sell his liberty dearly. But when the fateful hour came and he undertook to pop the question he felt cheap enough. Yet she accepted him.

How little men understand the feminine nature anyhow! If he hadn't acted cheap, like as not she would have refused him.

She hadn't frequented bargain shops for nothing. She knew when a thing is dear and when it is cheap a mighty sight better than he did.—New York Truth.

The Bad One—Gimme a nickel, Curlyhair, an I'll learn yer 't swear like a puffed gent in five minutes.—New York Journal.

A Mere Matter of Confidence.

The heavens were radiant with the glory of a perfect sunset. Floating in a vast sea of jasper and sapphire, red and green, with a far horizon of refulgent silver and clear green beryl, was the great round sun, an enormous bulk of purest molten gold, whose transcendental splendor radiated luminous waves of dazzling brilliance athwart the immeasurable vista of the sky that stretched upward and away in fold on fold of shimmering coruscations of amber and purple and chrysolite and alabaster and porphyry, amid what seemed half drawn curtains of prismatic foam. Delicate cirri, that might have been white winged felines on the peaceful bosom of a resplendent Italian sea, sailed in silent glory down from the ethereal carnelian of the zenith into the oriental effulgence of that occidental flood, their pearly wings tipped and feathered with a translucent sheen that varied harmoniously from jacinth and chrysolite to saffron and carmine. Like a fairy's dream was this supernal spectacle, too wondrous to last, too beautiful to describe.

It was this scene that Chelly Flaktop, the promising young impressionist, with a confidence born of six months' experience, sat himself down to reproduce on canvas for the benefit of future generations.—Arthur Grissom in New York Journal.

Poor Little Nellie
"My little Nellie has just been run over and killed," moaned a poor woman. They were hardworking men, but their hearts were touched, and soon a hat was being passed round for the afflicted woman's benefit.

"How old was she?" asked one of her rough sympathizers.
"Five years," she answered, and then paralyzed them all with, "and I've had her ever since she was a kitten."—Nuggets.

Claiming the Credit.
"It is really remarkable," said Mr. Meekton, "to note how many eminent successful men were regarded as stupid when they were in school."
"Yes," replied his wife in a significant tone, "and the most interesting point is that most of them did not begin to acquire any reputation for being smart until after they were married."—Washington Star.

Unrecognizable.
Fuddy—Did you hear of the terrible accident that happened to Danby? His injuries were so serious that his most intimate friends were unable to recognize him.
Daddy—Terrible accident? Railroad collision? Fall of an elevator?
Fuddy—Worse. He has lost all his money.—Boston Transcript.

Completing His Gastronomic Toilet.
The boa constrictor had got the half grown chicken comfortably swallowed. He glanced complacently at the small rabbit that was sleeping in the opposite corner of the cage.
"And now," he said, "I will proceed to take down my hare."—Chicago Tribune.

Do You Intend Making Your Rooms Look Brighter and Cleaner?

Thousands of women all over Canada will this season clean house and make rooms look brighter and more cheerful. It should be remembered that Kalsomine can be beautifully tinted with the Diamond Dyes at a very trifling expense. One package of Diamond Dyes tints ten to fifteen pounds handsome shades for Walls. The favorite colors are yellow, orange, cardinal, slate, crimson, bismarck, violet, green, light blue, and pink.

To make good Kalsomine dissolve one-fourth pound of good glue to each ten pounds of whitening. Mix with sufficient water to give the right consistency. To tint it, dissolve a package of dye in a quart of water, and add as much as is necessary to give the color desired.

When you buy dyes for tinting, be sure ask your dealer for the Diamond Dyes, using any of the shades mentioned above.

DESCENDANTS OF PILGRIMS.
Sir Walter Besant Figures That There Are 10,000 In America.

Many people in America claim descent from the pilgrim fathers. There might be a very considerable number, if we come to think of it. For instance, let us assume the number of married people among the first hundred who survived the first winter as 20 couples. We will allow them three children apiece. We will give to each of these children two—a large allowance, it is true. Then we have for each married couple, for the first generation, 8 descendants; for the second, 6; for the third, 12; for the fourth, 24; for the fifth, 48; for the sixth, 96; for the seventh, 192; for the eighth, 384; for the ninth and the present generation, 768, and for the original 20 married couples, 15,360. So that the living descendants of the Mayflower pilgrims can hardly be more than about 15,000. Out of these a great many have probably clean forgotten their descent. Probably there are not anything like 10,000.

If I were an American, I should certainly like to be one of that 10,000. Not that I feel the least attraction to a narrow and fanatic religion, but because the pilgrim fathers made so fierce a fight for existence and a place where they could think as they pleased and allow no one else to think as he might please. Ancestry, in this country at least, is chiefly a matter of selection. The people who keep up their genealogies drop out as they go along numberless branches. People who wish to recover their genealogies have got to "hitch on" at one of the dropped branches. Every marriage in a genealogy is a kind of junction, where many lines may meet. Now, the business of the genealogist is to look up all the junctions, to follow up each one and to choose the line which offers the most desirable alliances. Some years ago an ingenious gentleman offered to find royal descent for any one for £70 down. He did it, too, quite honestly. He said that if you could only get back 100 years or so it was perfectly easy to connect with Edward I or Edward III.—Sir Walter Besant in London Queen.
