Directors' Report Submitted and Discussed.—Directors Elected. The annual meeting of the Charlottetown Driving Park and Provincial Exhibition Association was held last evening in the Masonic Temple. B. Rogers, Esq., M. L. A., President of the Association, presided, and there was a good attendance of shareholders.

A spirited discussion followed the reading of the directors' report, in the course of which several expenditures were sharply criticised and ideas for the betterment of the Association advanced. The report was finally adopted.

A motion introduced by Mr. Bayfield seconded by Mr. Jenkins providing that a committee of five shareholders be appointed to enquire into the best means of decreasing the expenditure of the association, said committee to report at an adjourned meeting, provoked a heated discussion. During the discussion it was moved in amendment to Mr. Bayfield's motion by Mr. S. W. Crabbe, seconded by Mr. Brown, that the meeting proceed to the election of directors. The amendment carried, and the election resulted as follows: B. Rogers, Judge Fitzgerald, F. H. Beer, E. R. Brown, F. L. Haszard, J. J. Davies, and Hector MacLeod.

Mr. Blake, one of the old board of directors, positively declined to stand for reelection this year.

A vote of thanks to the retiring directors was unanimously adopted. Meeting adjourned.

Thos. J. Donahoe led the anti-suffragists and with him were C. Birt and Robt. Donahoe. After a two hours' debate, a vote of the members of the club was taken on the question which resulted in a sweeping victory for those opposed to the political rights of women.

The club is in a most flourishing condition, its membership numbering nearly fifty. At the next meeting, on the 11th inst., the subject for debate will be, "Which is the better country to live in, Canada or the United States." J. C. FLANNIGAN, Secretary, Cardigan Bridge, Feb. 6, 1897.

THE PETREL'S LAMENT. They called me after the Petrel, The storm king's hardy child, That sits on his crest and coos with joy In his wares with the ocean wild.

When the ocean writes and moans with rain, Or bellows in anger and might, It rides on the billows or skims o'er the foam, And screams in its wild delight.

They called me the Petrel, mocking knave! I'm only a Davis Strait gull, With feeble wings and wheezing breath, And battered, worn-out hull.

Although o'er the Hillsborough I might soar And prey on their flat-fish and skate, They know I can't fly from shore to shore Of this cruel, frozen strait.

And the wind of my sister, Fairie Queen, Will surely yet be mine, And our passengers' wraiths will long be seen In gruesome sports to join.

O'er the nightly waves of Cariboo, Their lighted forms will glide, And shock the startled fishing crew By passing alongside.

PERSONAL.

Cyrus Shaw, M. L. A., is in town. William Campbell, M. L. A., is at the Hotel Davies.

Alexander Martin, M. P., Valleyfield, is registered at the Queen. Mr. Charles T. Grantham has been elected Mayor of Yarmouth.

Senator A. Ross, Wellington, is registered at the Queen Hotel. William Welsh, ex-M. P., will leave for Ottawa tomorrow evening.

John McLean, ex-M. P., Souris, and Mrs. McLean are also en route as I was away from home at the time and did not hear nor see Mr. Davies. He says that Mr. Davies knows me—and that is very true.

Let us review Mr. Bell's political character. I will not go back ten years. Mr. Bell came to me some time before the election and wanted me to get him a site on the beach to put his factory on, and I told him I had nothing to do with it, he would have to apply to a higher power. He wanted me to draw up an affidavit, for him and his partner to sign that he would vote and work for the Conservative party if they got the privilege. He wrote to a higher power and got the privilege. In his letter he promised to support the party and I was not to say anything about this standing in the community—would vote according to his agreement.

It is currently reported here that he offered Mr. Cornelius Bell $5 if he would vote for Mr. Hunt. After the 23rd of June he voted for Mr. Yeo; but if the Conservative Party had obtained power, Mr. Bell, there is no doubt, would claim he voted for Mr. Hunt according to promise.

I was in Mr. Bell's company the night before the election and he said he was going to vote for Mr. Hunt. But did not want his wife to know. And then we will take him as a Patron of Industry, As and secretary of the club he took an obligation to vote for the Patron candidate; but what do we find him doing? He voted for Mr. McNutt. Every one will remember his long letter in the Patriot, with the remarks on the Peters government, the Tax Act and every measure brought up by Mr. Peters Government. "Consistency where art thou?"

I would advise Mr. Bell to attend to his own business and leave his neighbours' alone, or he may be taken where others have gone before.

LETTER FROM MR. STRANG

Sir,—The letter in the Farmer of Feb. 4th signed Cole Jenkins, Jenkins Corner—the proper name for the House is "Jun-to"—is from no other pen than that of Mr. Ephraim Bell. I would ask him what the catraet led from his vision? It must have left his head vacant, or his brains went lower down. Come out square, Mr. Bell, and tell the public what you mean about Mr. Webster, Mr. Atkinson, and Mr. Bell.

Do not try to cloak anything by your insinuations. I am not afraid to hear; and I may make you afraid to hear something that I can give the public concerning your conduct around here last summer, but will refrain for the present.

They that live in glass houses should not throw stones. Mr. Bell says that the letter in the Guardian was from no other pen but Mr. Strang's. This is untrue, and the accusations he says I made about Mr. Davies are also untrue, as I was away from home at the time and did not hear nor see Mr. Davies. He says that Mr. Davies knows me—and that is very true.

Let us review Mr. Bell's political character. I will not go back ten years. Mr. Bell came to me some time before the election and wanted me to get him a site on the beach to put his factory on, and I told him I had nothing to do with it, he would have to apply to a higher power. A SUGGESTION.

Sir,—In view of the notorious success achieved by the Tam O'Shanter Club in their representation of the "Jolly Beggars" at the Burns concert, allow me to suggest that the same club set about getting into dramatic form Burns' "Holy Fair" for presentation at the next entertainment in honor of Scotland's bard. At the same time Rev. Mr. Sutherland might like to have his own club set about getting into dramatic form Burns' "Holy Fair" for presentation at the next entertainment in honor of Scotland's bard. At the same time Rev. Mr. Sutherland might like to have his own club set about getting into dramatic form Burns' "Holy Fair" for presentation at the next entertainment in honor of Scotland's bard.
