AGRICULTURAL NEWS

P.E.I. Department of Agriculture

HEATHERDALE MEETING

Heatherdale School Hall will be the place for an Agricultural Meeting on next Thursday, December 18th. The programme will get underway with Mr. Harold Heartz, Federal Livestock Grader, discussing market weights and carcass grading of livestock. Mr. Heartz has spent many years in this field and is recognized as one of the leading authorities in Eastern Canada. He has many valuable tips to offer livestock producers.

Livestock Feeding which is one of the most important phases of any farming programme, will be discussed by the Director of Field Work for the P.E.I. Department of Agriculture, Mr. S. David Peacock. This will present an opportunity to examine some of the effective methods in feeding and developing stock.

This meeting is being organized and will be conducted by David MacLean the Kings County Agricultural Representatiive. At the conclusion of the meeting he will show a film entitled "Why Grow Fat Hogs". Mr. MacLean states that all those who are interested in increased returns from livestock production should make an effort to attend the meeting.

The Heatherdale W.I. have offered to supply lunches.

If there is any other district within the Province interested in holding similar types of meetings would you please contact your County Agricultural Representative. The Agricultural Representative for Prince County is Allen Palmer, P.O. Box 58 Summerside for Queens County in Audrey MacMillan, P.O. Box 2000, Charlottetown.

THE FREEZING COLD

Football fans bundle up warm and tote along an extra blanket to keep from freezing. Milk and cream, if not transported in an insulated van, can stand some coddling too! Cover cans with a blanket or heavy tarpaulin. Unprotected metal containers conduct the cold and if left outdoors for long periods of time in winter their content readily freezes. Try to make it a point never to leave shipments of cream on platforms in freezing temperatures for over half an hour.

Frozen milk or cream is very undesirable because when it undergoes this physical change the water separates from the protein and never reunites in the same smooth homogeneous way afterwards. This makes correct sampling practically impossible. Such products suffer a loss of quality and a mealy or rough taste can be detected.

Frozen milk or cream also causes delay in processing dairy products and at some creameries it may hold up the farmer's pay cheque.

Consider purpose, color and cost equally when buying a rug. A wool one usually ranges from $7.95 to $21.95 a sq. yard. From it you can expect excellent service, very good resistance to crushing, much warmth, and easy cleaning . A good quality wool carpet is economical in the a long run.

Nylon rugs, though starting at higher price, have remarkable wearing qualities with excellent recovery from crushing. Dirt is easily removed and water soluble stains are not absorbed. Nylon rugs are color fast to light and washing.

Saran, a synthetic fibre, can stand prolonged wear but gives only satisfactory crush resistance. Rugs constructed of this non-porous fiber, resist spotting yet if cleaning is necessary the color fastness of the material will permit the use of soap and water.

Pile density is more important than fiber length when rug buying. The best quality Wilton or Axminster has 123 tufts per sq. inch; velvet, 80 and Chenille about 140. Protect these rugs with a rug cushion.

For informal living and especially for dining rooms, rumpus rooms and children's bedrooms, fiber rugs of sisal, grass matting, etc., should be given some thought as they serve the purpose excellently and inexpensively.

THAT CHRISTMAS TOUCH

How exciting to finally find a use for those odds and ends you have been saving! Here are some ideas on Christmas decorating.

A gay front door impression is achieved by hanging up a boot shaped out of weatherproof red oil cloth trimmed with white, or paint an old stove pipe including the elbow, red an white and press to you've got a giant candy cane. It may also be hung on the front gate. Coat hangers can supply the foundation of cherry Christmas wreaths. Wire or spruce boughs, colored balls or popcorn balls. Suspend the wreath in an archway or attach it to a door. The hook is ready-made.

Make Christmas bells out of cone-shaped paper, paint strainers or paper cups. Brush with paint or decorate with tiny colored balls. Perk up extra paper cups by trimming with a ring of patterned Scotch tape.

For an individual touch, print your own wrapping paper. Using bottle lids, a piece of string, a block of wood, you own thumbprint or some other object that could be used as a tool, dip in gold and silver ink creating your own designs on tissue paper. The less ambitious might try a roll of wallpaper for gift wrappings.
