

NEWS of the WORLD in PICTURES

After a 1,400-mile hitch-hiking jaunt to Nova Scotia, Freddie Abrams, 14, gets a warm reception from his mother, Mrs. Earl Abrams, at St. Catharines, Ont. Freddie and a chum made the long trip in four days on $7. They visited former neighbors in Nova Scotia.

Men of the 60th Indian Field ambulance unit line up for inspection prior to departure from Calcutta for service with the United Nations forces in Korea. The group numbers 346 officers and men, and was formed in 1942, serving as part of an airborne division and of a jungle warfare unit. General K. M. Cariappa (nearest troops) commander-in-chief of the Indian army is shown during the inspection.

ROCKETS AWAY — A Marine rocketman lets go with a shot against dug-in Communists on the hills in North Korea. The rocket trails smoke, as the 7th Marine sharpshooter sends it on its way.

SHATTERED CITY — A lone GI walks down a street in the bomb-blasted port of Hungnam Harbor, Korea. UN bombs and shells had almost totally destroyed the city. (Photo by NEA-Acme staff correspondent Ed Hoffman.)

BOMB BUSINESS — President Truman reads his statement that the U.S. is studying the possible use of atomic bombs in Korea. He made the announcement at a Washington press conference.

Four Canadians, members of the R.C.A.F. Thunderbird squadron of the Pacific airlift, are seen looking over a wrecked Japanese gun on Island of Iwo Jima. They are, from left: Sqdn. Ldr. E. A. Wilson and Flt.-Lieut. H. Stanley of Toronto; F.O. H. J. Wright of Whitby, Ont., and Flt.-Lieut. E. A. Alliston of Toronto.

leave their homes in this area, south of Marysville, Calif. The town of Marysville can be seen in the upper right hand corner. Heavy floods continued to menace much of the state's rich agricultural valley sections.

STORM DUTY—Increased reports of looting in storm-struck Cleveland brought out armed National Guardsmen as a state of emergency was proclaimed in the Ohio city. Cpl. Ronald Ackley (left) and Cpl. Frank Russell stand watch outside a Cleveland bank as a 30-inch snowfall paralyzed the city.

Keel has been recently laid in Montreal of the first of a number of Canadian-designed anti-submarine escort vessels to be built in shipyards at Montreal. Sorel, Halifax and Vancouver for the R.C.N. Recently drawn artist's conception of new vessel is shown here.

This photo taken at the Yalu River shows one tremendous bombing attack shown here has all but destroyed the Korean end of one of the bridges and pocketed base in Manchuria which no allied planes have attacked. This bomb craters Manchuria lies across the river, a scene of and damage to the bridge ends marked the Korean shore with ANOTHER COMEBACK — Ex-heavyweight king Joe Louis (left) hit the comeback trail again in his Chicago bout against Argentine fighter Cesar Brion (right). Louis was a 4-to-1 favorite before the bout.

GETTING A LIFT — A medium bank from the National Guard at Berea, Ohio, pulls a Cleveland city ambulance from a snowbank in which the vehicle was stuck during the furious storm that battered the eastern part of the nation. National Guardsmen were called out in Cleveland's state of emergency as more than 30 inches of snow paralyzed the city.