

THE DAILY EXAMINER

THE CHURCH SCHOOL FOR GIRLS IS FORTUNATE, too, in its promoters and friends, the most active and zealous of whom is Dr. Hind, and fortunate in its Lally Principal, Miss Machin, in whom learning and sympathy for the young are joined to talents for organization and administration. Moreover, it supplies a want which has long been felt; for however much we may appreciate our excellent denominational schools as sources of success in the world, there is still, in the minds of all thoughtful and earnest parents, a desire that their children shall receive sufficient definite religious instruction in the principles of their faith to establish and maintain the distinctive Christian character upon which depends their true happiness here and hereafter. This truth is exemplified in these Maritime Provinces by the well-maintained schools in Halifax and Sackville, in Fredericton and Wolfville, in Memramook and Charlottetown, as well as at Windsor, in which religious teaching is daily combined with secular instruction. There is also abroad a feeling that success in the matrimonial state—which all young persons hope to enter—depends largely upon the equality of the sexes in point of education. A wife who cannot possibly sympathize with her husband's highest feelings cannot possibly make her husband truly happy; nor can a husband be towards his wife all that he ought to be unless he can respect her mental attainments. From all these facts and considerations it has followed that "Edgell"—the name of the Church School for Girls—is a flourishing institution, drawing from all the Eastern Provinces of Canada, and from some of the neighboring states of the Republic the daughters of Christian parents who strive to make as "polished corners in the temple."

The Collegiate School has survived many vicissitudes and is doing excellent work, under the head mastership of Mr. Bradford. We are particularly glad to note that in both the Church School for girls and the Collegiate School, there are Islanders to maintain the credit of their Province, and we trust that, in the years to come their numbers will be enlarged. There seems to be something in the air of these northern Islands which imparts vigor to the intellect. Apart from the young men and women of this Province who have won honors at King's College and Edgell, the best student of this year at the Collegiate School, was a young gentleman from the Magdalen Islands.

But while the more recently established schools at Windsor are successful and prosperous, the venerable seat of learning, known as King's College, is, financially, somewhat embarrassed. The sum of its indebtedness is stated to be about $34,000, of which about $10,000 is due to funds in connection with the college, leaving about $24,000 as a liability to outsiders. But as the value of the college property has been estimated at $250,000, it is evident that the college is, though financially hampered perfectly solvent. The matter was considered and discussed at a meeting of the alumni held a few days ago, the result being the adoption of a scheme under which the Board of Governors will be enlarged and brought into touch with the people of the Maritime Provinces. Every rural deanery in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, will, in future, elect one of the Governors of the College, and Prince Edward Island will elect three. The control of the College will thus be popularized, and it is hoped that the institution will fully regain the confidence of the public, escape from its financial difficulties, and become the resort of students from all parts of the country. The first effect of the change decided upon was the voluntary offer of the members of the Faculty to each give up a hundred dollars of his salary, thus preventing an increase of the debt in the coming year. This magnanimous conduct of the President and Professors will, we have no doubt, be met by corresponding generosity on the part of those who, whether as alumni owing an inestimable debt to their alma mater, or as parents anxious to maintain a Church of England College in the Maritime Provinces, are particularly interested in the preservation and prosperity of the venerable institution at Windsor. The appointment of a large majority of the Board of Governors by the rural deaneries throughout the Provinces—the urban deaneries possessing no advantage in this regard—ought to tend to remove the idea that King's is rather the college of a class in the Church of England than of the Church of England as a whole. Professor Vroom demonstrated before the Diocesan Synod, two years ago, that good grounds for this idea do not exist, and that there is no reason why Churchmen should hesitate to send their son to King's College or to give it financial assistance.

THE LADIES. The pleasant effect and perfect safety with which ladies may use the California liquid laxative, Syrup of Figs, under all conditions, makes it their favorite remedy. To get the true and genuine article, look for the name of the California Fig Syrup Co. printed near the bottom of the package.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

It is suggested that one at least of our local politicians would do well to imitate the example of Mr. Corby, who some time ago unwittingly violated the spirit of the Independence of Parliament Act, and as soon as he discovered the fact resigned his seat in Parliament.

We have several times had to call attention to the withdrawal of the steamer Southport from the service of the Government. On Saturday last it was the Premier himself who had the steamer for a special trip to Rocky Point, to suit his own convenience.

The Queen ought to be a happy woman. She is a great grandmother. There are now four generations of royalty in Great Britain. The youngest prince is the son of Prince George of Wales, known as the Duke of York, who visited this Province a few years ago. It is possible that grandfather, father and son may yet sit upon the throne of the British nation, in succession to the illustrious great-grandmother who now holds the sceptre.

Are our farmer friends residing in Prince and King's Counties satisfied with the whole "surplus" stock of Government Farm, as exemplified in the auction lately held by the commissioners at that costly establishment? The tax payers of the more distant parts are compelled to contribute their share to make up the shortage in the accounts of the farm. Yet they are practically deprived of the benefits supposed to be derived from the ownership of these animals, by the sale of them at an out-of-the-way spot, such as the Stock Farm. The commissioners are the trustees and as such are bound to act under strict rules for the disposal of the "surplus" stock. We question if they have in this case done so.

OBITUARY.

The New York Times reports that Michael Sherry, of West Seventeenth Street, the wealthy real estate owner who was stricken with paralysis at the Park Place Station of the elevated railroad on Thursday night, died at the Chambers Street Hospital yesterday morning. He was unconscious for most of the time after he was stricken until his death. Mr. Sherry was one of the oldest real estate dealers in this city, having established a real estate office at 109 West Thirty-Second Street as early as 1857. He was born in the parish of Monaghan, County Monaghan, Ireland, on St. Valentine's Day, 1837, and at the age of three years lived with his aged mother, who has now been dead for several years. His property will now fall to his elder brother, Patrick, who is a merchant in Seattle, Washington, Daniel, who is the superintendent of a block of buildings in Irving Avenue, Brooklyn, and the children of their deceased sister Mrs. Twomey.

TELEGRAPHIC. SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO THE EXAMINER. ANARCHY IS TRIUMPHANT. President Carnot Slaughtered. GREAT EXCITEMENT IN PARIS. The Assassin Placed Under Arrest.

PARIS, June 25. President Carnot has been assassinated in Lyons by an Anarchist who stabbed him to the heart. The assassin has been arrested. The President left Paris on Saturday for Lyons to visit the Exhibition, and was entering a Lyons theatre when he was stabbed. He survived the wound some time. The demonstrative enthusiasm of the crowd caused confusion, which gave Santon, the assassin, his opportunity, as he was able to push his way forward unnoticed, until at the step of the carriage. When the assassin was within a few feet of the President's carriage he waved a paper as if intending to present a petition, and thus threw off his guard the persons near to the President. As Santon sprang from the carriage step and tried to escape, he was seized and he surrendered. But for the prompt interference of the police he would have been torn and trampled to death on the spot. As soon as the police had extricated him from the hands of his captors they hurried him off to the station house. The President had repeated hemorrhages after his removal to the prefecture, and sank gradually but steadily until 1.45 this morning, when he died.
