

Let's Talk It Over

Don't look now, kids, but the "dear old golden rule days" are just around the corner. They will be greeted with mixed feelings by Summerside citizens, old and young. Most of the children, for a while, at least, will deplore the curtailment of their freedom to spend long happy hours at beaches, wading pools, and even in back yards, playing Indians or house. The older folks will breathe sighs of relief, admitting when cornered that Junior is a darling, but that from 13 to 16 hours in every 24 can be too much even of a good thing.

We believe there are more good resolutions made on the first days of school than are made on New Year's Eve. Through there is considerable reluctance on the part of some children to take up the burden of school routine again, there are others who march bravely to school vowing that this year they will make a better showing than ever before. Some of these bright hopes get crumpled along the way, proving that the road to failure is also sometimes paved with good intentions.

Why do pupils who start out with such high resolves fail by the wayside? There are probably a number of reasons but one of the foremost is the lure of the counter-attraction. Some sport or hobby becomes an all-absorbing interest, eclipsing interest in school work. As a matter of fact, there is plenty of time for the school work and the counter-attraction if work and play are properly organized. Pupils who have trouble should try the "Two-Hour Plan."

Set down two hours for study, and do not let anticipation of sports-coming or reminiscence of sports-gone-by dilute the concentration of your efforts on the task at hand. It will be difficult to do this at first but practice will make proficient. Outside of these two hours there will be plenty of time to enjoy one's favorite pastime. The time elapsed at the study table is often no indication of the time actually spent in study. If some kind of meter could be invented to measure the actual minutes spent in study in a given two hours, many students would be profoundly shocked by the results.

Constantineau-Corney Wedding

St. Paul's Church, Summerside, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock when Shirley Alice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Corney, and Robert Norman Guy Constantineau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Constantineau of Espanola, Ont., were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by Rt. Rev. Msgr. G. J. MacLellan.

Bouquets of mixed flowers decorated the front of the church for the occasion. Mrs. Irene Peters was in charge of the wedding music and accompanied the soloists, Mrs. Charles Cahill and Miss Eleanor Peters, as they sang appropriate hymns during the nuptial Mass.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a street-length dress of white nylon over taffeta. The front of the fitted bodice and the Peter Pan collar were trimmed with nylon flowers and rhinestones. With the short sleeves she wore matching mitts. Her head-dress was a white picture hat and the bouquet of flowers she carried was Better Time roses.

The bridesmaid, Miss Grace Gallant was gowned in pastel blue nylon over taffeta and wore a picture hat in a matching shade. She carried a bouquet of Pink Delight roses. LAC. Donald Duplin of Vancouver, B. C., was groomsmen.

Mrs. Corney chose for her daughter's wedding a dress of mauve silk crepe with white and mauve accessories and a corsage of Queen Elizabeth roses.

A wedding breakfast for 35 guests was held at Birch Hill Lodge, where the bride's table, with its attractive arrangement of sweet peas and lighted tapers, was centred with a three-tier wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom. The best man proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom responded. A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in the evening.

For the honeymoon trip, the bride donned a suit of yellow gabardine with blue accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

On return they will reside temporarily, in Summerside, where the

Daye-Rayner Wedding

A pretty wedding was solemnized in North Bedouque United Church at 2:30 on Friday afternoon, August 7, when Sylvia Joyce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rayner, Traveller's Rest, became the wife of Ivan Gordon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Daye, Kensington. Rev. Kenneth Campbell was the officiating clergyman.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, was gowned in traditional white satin in floor-length, long sleeve style. Her veil flowed gracefully from a matching halo encrusted in seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of red roses. Her maid of honor, Miss Betty Rogerson wore a gown of pale green taffeta with matching mitts and halo and carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Mr. Lorne Adams capably filled the role of best man and the ushers were Mr. George Stewart and Mr. Edgar Miller.

Nuptial music was played by Mrs. Ted O'Hearn, and the soloist, Miss Shirley Rayner, niece of the bride sang, "I'll Walk Beside You" during the signing of the register.

Mrs. Rayner chose navy blue crepe with white accessories and a corsage of red roses for her daughter's wedding while the groom's mother wore printed nylon with white accessories and red roses.

The groom's gift to the bride was a dinner set. Following the ceremony a reception for 45 guests was held at Birch Hill Lodge, Summerside.

The couple left on a brief honeymoon trip to the mainland, returning on the following Monday evening, when friends gathered to welcome them with a charivari, at the home of the groom's parents.
