

Buyer meets seller with Guardian Want Ads. Dial 8506 ask for classified ad taker, for quick results.

The Guardian

Continuous freezing rain; extensive fog patches; little change in temperature; east winds 15. Low-high 20 and 32.

"Covers Prince Edward Island Like The Dew"

Hungarians To Arrive Tonight

The first group of Hungarian refugees selected for re-establishment in this Province will arrive in the city tonight via the Borden train.

Total of 13 persons comprise the first draft chosen by the Immigration Department as suitable for settlement in P.E.I., according to information released yesterday by Brigadier W.W. Reid, Deputy Minister of Welfare and Labor.

An indication of the variety of voluntary exiles from Russian-dominated Hungary who have sought freedom in this country is shown by the varied occupational categories of this small group.

There is Tibor Ugor, a lawyer, his wife and three children; four single farm workers; one dental technician; and air mechanic and his wife, and a blacksmith.

On arrival the refugees will be met by Brigadier Reid and Dr. O.H. Curtis, Deputy Minister of Health, who are members of the Co-ordinating Committee set up last fall by the provincial government.

Representatives of Red Cross, the Citizenship Committee, Catholic Women's League, I.O.O.F., and other civic and provincial organizations, will be also on hand to greet the arrivals.

Prior to placement in various sections of the Province, the Hungarians will be housed and fed in quarters obtained by the Committee at Treatment Centre in Falconwood. It is not expected that arrangements for placement shall take more than three or four days.

THRONE SPEECH DELIVERED

To Appoint Legislative Committee On Education

Appointment of a select standing committee of the Legislature to inquire into educational problems is promised in the Speech from the Throne with which His Honour Lieutenant Governor T.W.L. Prowse opened the second session of the 48th General Assembly of the Province yesterday.

The Speech also forecasts extension of vocational training, establishment of a school to train fishermen in modern methods of catching and processing, further progress in health measures, completion with all possible speed of the remaining Trans-Canada High way projects, and of arrangements for establishing a frozen food processing industry to handle vegetable production. Other Government policies and activities are reviewed at considerable length.

Lt. Governor T. W. L. Prowse arrives at the Provincial Building to open the Legislature yesterday afternoon. The RECCE Band is seen playing "The Queen"

Many Attend The Opening Of The Legislature Yesterday

Packed galleries featured the opening of the Legislature yesterday as Governor Prowse read the Speech from the Throne. Special guests at the opening included Neil A. Matheson, M.P., of Queens County; Judges of the Supreme Court, G.J. Tweedy and Mark R. MacGuigan; His Excellency Bishop M.A. MacEachern, Rev. A. Frank MacLean and Rev. Donald Campbell, Montague.

After His Honour had departed from the Legislative Chamber, the Speech from the Throne, was read again by the Speaker of the House, Hon. J. Augustin Gallant.

A committee to prepare and report on select standing committees was named as follows: Hon. Eugene Cullen, Hon. M. L. Bonnell, L.G. Dewar, M.L.A., A.A. MacIsaac, M.L.A., George Kitson, M.L.A.

They will name the committees on Agriculture, Public Accounts, Private Bills, Provincial Library, Engraving of Bills, Contingent Accounts, Rules and Orders, Revision of the Journals, Public Buildings.

PRO-FORMAL BILL Premier Matheson introduced a pro-formal bill entitled "An Act Respecting The Administration of Votes" which was read a first time by the Clerk of the House, Thomas Cullen.

A committee to prepare and report on select standing committees was named as follows: Hon. Eugene Cullen, Hon. M. L. Bonnell, L.G. Dewar, M.L.A., A.A. MacIsaac, M.L.A., George Kitson, M.L.A.

They will name the committees on Agriculture, Public Accounts, Private Bills, Provincial Library, Engraving of Bills, Contingent Accounts, Rules and Orders, Revision of the Journals, Public Buildings.

TEXT OF SPEECH Following is the full text of the Speech: "Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Legislature Assembly: It is with pleasure that I welcome you today as you resume your duties in this, the second session of the Forty-eighth General Assembly of our Province.

"My Government views, with satisfaction, the efforts of the Government of Canada to make a complete and thorough survey of materials available to build a causeway to link Prince Edward Island with the mainland of Canada. We look forward with a great deal of anticipation to the time when this program of investigation may be fully completed.

"Recognizing the importance of disease and weed control in field crops, the Department of Agriculture will continue to assist the farmers of the Province in control measures to produce crops of the highest possible quality.

"Last autumn a province wide competition for fruits, vegetables and other farm produce was established by my Government as a Harvest Exhibition. This event was held on September 28th in conjunction with the Rural Youth Fair. The success of this exhibition would suggest that it should be continued from year to year.

while Major Victor Travers, Usher of the Black Rod (extreme left), stands to attention. Lt. Col. A.W. Rogers, E.D. aide to the Governor, is seen with His Honour.

MISSING

Joseph Frederick Gallant, 16, has been missing since January 3. He left his home at Johnston's River January 1, intending to go to Rocky Point where he was employed by Thomas Murphy on the farm.

He spent two nights with friends in Charlottetown, the ferry having stopped because of ice conditions. He left, saying he was going to his work and has not been seen since. Information should be passed to Mrs. Patrick Trainor, Johnson's River or the R.C.M.P.

IS GUN SALUTE A fifteen-gun salute was fired from Victoria Park at 3 o'clock announcing the arrival of His Honour and party at The Provincial Building.

A group of high ranking officers of the three services were invited to join the Lieutenant-Governor's party at the Legislative Chambers.

They were: Brigadier G.G.K. Peake, D.S.O., E.D.; Squadron Leader H.A. Lutes, representing Group Capt. G.H. Swetnam, D.S.O., D.F.C., C.D., officer Commanding R.C.A.F. Station, Summerside; Commander J.N. Kenny, R.

CHILD WANDERS Away, Drowned FRANCES MARY HUGHES, three-year-old, was drowned in the Northwest Arm Tuesday afternoon after she became lost and strayed almost three miles from her home.

A witness who was unable to reach the youngster in time said she was crying as she waded into the icy waters, looking neither left or right.

CAMP QUARANTINED BRANDON, Man. (CP)—Seventeen members of the armed forces of Camp Siro, 15 miles southeast of Brandon, were stricken with infectious jaundice and quarantined in a military camp.

DUKE SAYS TOUR WAS MADE AT "PERSONAL SACRIFICE" LONDON (CP)—A bronzed and smiling Duke of Edinburgh, speaking at a lavish welcome-home luncheon Tuesday described his round-the-world tour as a "personal sacrifice" on behalf of the Commonwealth.

"I believe there are some things for which it is worth making some personal sacrifice," the duke said.

"I believe the British Commonwealth is one of those things, and I, for one, am prepared to sacrifice a good deal if I can advance its well-being by even a small degree.

ARAB SAYS CANADA BACKS ZIONIST POLICY

Pearson's Proposals For Mideast Blasted By Reds

Harris Defends Spending Against Attacks By PC's

OTTAWA (P)—Finance Minister Harris said Tuesday that while the Progressive Conservatives kept harping on government waste they seldom make a parliamentary stand against any particular item of federal expenditure.

The C.C.F. he said, favors "high taxation—the distribution of wealth through taxation." The Conservatives, however, proposed further expenditures while criticizing present expenditures, now about $5,000,000,000 annually.

Mr. Harris spoke in the Commons on a government resolution set up for the third straight year the special committee to review the spending estimates of selected government departments before they are studied by the whole House.

TWO DEPARTMENTS He said the government plans to have the committee study the estimates of two departments, which he did not name.

Earlier, Opposition Leader Diefenbaker sharply criticized the amount of government spending, saying it is "possible if not probable" that millions of dollars in unneeded expenditures are approved by the Commons in a last-minute rush each session to pass the government's spending program.

He proposed an amendment to empower the committee to summon witnesses and documents, charging that the only evidence presented to it at the last two sessions "has been evidence to the government wanted to present."

Without those powers the committee was "a sham and a delusion." Existing parliamentary machinery for examining government spending was "almost totally ineffectual."

AMENDMENTS REJECTED The proposed amendment was rejected by Prime Minister St. Laurent who said Mr. Diefenbaker was suggesting in effect that senior government officials be called before the committee to justify expenditures.

That could be done by the public accounts committee. There was a vast difference between expenditures—money already spent—and appropriations or estimates.

He could only conclude that what the Opposition suggested was the system used in the United States, which was foreign to Canadian constitutional practices.

Mr. Diefenbaker's amendment got support from the CCF and Social Credit groups.

A. Wesley Stuart (L—Charlotte) said that if all the recommendations of the Conservatives were adopted, $2,000,000,000 would be added to federal expenditures this year.

Mr. Harris, rejecting the amendment, said no changes in the committee's terms of reference are contemplated because members had not worked the committee as it might have been under its present terms.

One P.E.I. Vessel Included In Sealing Fleet This Season

Killer Sought In Hamilton

New Nova Scotia Legislature Will Open First Session Today

HALIFAX (CP)—At least 10 sealing vessels will sail from nearby Dartmouth before Monday to take part in the annual seal hunt in the Gulf of St. Lawrence and of the northeast coast of Newfoundland.

Six Halifax ships will take part in the hunt. They are the Arctic Prowler, Arctic Sealer, Theron, Theta, Tem, and Beater. The Arctic Sealer was scheduled to sail for St. John's Tuesday night to pick up a crew. Newfoundlanders will also serve on the Theron and Theta.

In addition to the Halifax vessels, the Norwegian sealers Totan and Polarstar, the Curling from Grindstone in the Magdalen Islands and the Orel from Prince Edward Island, will sail from Halifax.

Five ships will join the hunt from Newfoundland. They are the Glenwood, Terra Nova and Algernine out of St. John's; the Placencia out of Trepansey on the south shore and the Bassie Marie out of Twillingate.

Before the hunt begins—seals are protected in the gulf until March 5 and on the front until March 10—airial surveys will be made of the areas.

Controversy exists over Conservative dismissal of highway workers and liquor commission employees and the premier's recent announcement of a go-slow policy on new school construction.

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT The government is expected to introduce legislation to set up a $10,000,000 industrial development organization to supplement the work of the provincial trade and industry department.

The development body was a plank in the Conservative election platform. Half the capital would come from individual, municipal, trade union and company subscriptions.

A new tax agreement with Ottawa, negotiated by the previous administration, will come up for ratification 31.

Despite indications of a busy session, Mr. Stanfield says he thinks the House will finish its work in the usual six to eight weeks.

Completes Flight Across Atlantic

Looks Forward To Starting Weekly In His Home Town

OTTAWA (Special)—Clarence Gillis, CCF member for Cape Breton South and only sitting member of the commons of his party east of Manitoba, told The Guardian Tuesday he plans to follow a newspaper career when he decides to leave the federal political arena.

He proposes to start moderately with a weekly in his home town of Glace Bay, which will, as he puts it, "Give the other fellow's side."

Ice Fields 5 Miles Off St. John's

Duke Says Tour Was Made At "Personal Sacrifice"

Child Wanders Away, Drowned

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Ice fields sprawled on the ocean five or six miles off St. John's Tuesday but offered no immediate threat of a blockade.

East winds forecast for Tuesday were expected to have blown the ice ashore, but they arrived tardy and weak. Tuesday's north-wind winds held the ice at bay, and by the time they switched to the southeast during the night they were expected to be too light to propel the ice landward.

Variable light winds are expected to blow from the southeast quarter early today but they were due to swing to the northwest during the afternoon and develop gusts up to 30 miles an hour, enough to push the ice back across the horizon.

MR. GILLIS Policy of the proposed "Clarie" Gillis' paper would include all-out support of organized labor, particularly labor in the coal mines and steel mills of Cape Breton. It would further urge more extensive research on the part of both government and industry into coal problems and further development of the coal industry in the Maritimes.

Mr. Gillis is not without experience in the newspaper field. Before coming to Parliament he actually operated a successful weekly, despite the fact that all of them were working underground, lead-ership coal at the time.

Questioned by an Ottawa newspaperman who was considering acquiring a weekly in one of the smaller towns close to Canada's capital, Mr. Gillis evidenced a grasp of the mechanics and economics of the weekly newspaper field.

Mr. Gillis said he had decided to buy the one local daily newspaper there or do without news. He conceded that the former Glace Bay Gazette had failed, but attributed the failure to faulty editing and inadequate management. By correcting mistakes made by others in the past, Mr. Gillis feels he can easily make his new venture "A going concern." Even now he is far advanced in his planning.

The Cape Breton CCF member is known as the foremost spokesman of labor in Parliament and also distinguishes as the only MP who spoke on the floor of the chamber against the St. Lawrence Seaway project. On that occasion, he branded the seaway, now far advanced in construction, as a threat to the ports of the Maritime Provinces.

PLANS UNCERTAIN It may be that Mr. Gillis may be forced to delay his plans for publication of a newspaper for length of a Parliament. His riding of Cape Breton South is regarded as a "Safe Seat" for him as long as he cares to represent it, and public opinion may well force him to continue in Parliament for another four years.

On the other hand, he might get the paper started by his associates, directing its activities and policies from Ottawa and contributing articles and editorials.

MR. GILLIS Policy of the proposed "Clarie" Gillis' paper would include all-out support of organized labor, particularly labor in the coal mines and steel mills of Cape Breton. It would further urge more extensive research on the part of both government and industry into coal problems and further development of the coal industry in the Maritimes.

Mr. Gillis is not without experience in the newspaper field. Before coming to Parliament he actually operated a successful weekly, despite the fact that all of them were working underground, leadership coal at the time.

Questioned by an Ottawa newspaperman who was considering acquiring a weekly in one of the smaller towns close to Canada's capital, Mr. Gillis evidenced a grasp of the mechanics and economics of the weekly newspaper field.

Child Wanders Away, Drowned

Duke Says Tour Was Made At "Personal Sacrifice"

Completes Flight Across Atlantic

FRANCES MARY HUGHES, three-year-old, was drowned in the Northwest Arm Tuesday afternoon after she became lost and strayed almost three miles from her home.

A witness who was unable to reach the youngster in time said she was crying as she waded into the icy waters, looking neither left or right.

CAMP QUARANTINED BRANDON, Man. (CP)—Seventeen members of the armed forces of Camp Siro, 15 miles southeast of Brandon, were stricken with infectious jaundice and quarantined in a military camp.

DUKE SAYS TOUR WAS MADE AT "PERSONAL SACRIFICE" LONDON (CP)—A bronzed and smiling Duke of Edinburgh, speaking at a lavish welcome-home luncheon Tuesday described his round-the-world tour as a "personal sacrifice" on behalf of the Commonwealth.

"I believe there are some things for which it is worth making some personal sacrifice," the duke said.

"I believe the British Commonwealth is one of those things, and I, for one, am prepared to sacrifice a good deal if I can advance its well-being by even a small degree.

The sacrifice was his separation for four months from the Queen and their children, Prince Charles and Princess Anne.

He made an oblique reference to reports of a rift between himself and the Queen by saying that his long journey, which took in Australia, New Zealand, the Seychelles, Malaysia, New Guinea, Tristan da Cunha, Ascension Island and Gibraltar, was completed exactly on schedule — "perhaps rather unfortunately, as it turned out."

FIELD TESTS "During the past year the Department of Agriculture carried out field tests with various vegetables which can be used for processing as frozen foods. The results of the tests would indicate that Prince Edward Island farms can produce vegetables of excellent quality.

HAPPY REUNION There has been some criticism of planning for the duke's tour. He spent the last week in Gibraltar instead of flying home to join the Queen in London before their state visit to Portugal.

As if to still such comments, the duke spoke of his "very happy family reunion."

The duke, wearing an admiral of the fleet's uniform stashed with the blue ribbon of the Order of the Garter, was guest of honor at the traditional city of London luncheon to mark the return from abroad of a member of the Royal Family.

More than 300 persons, including government ministers, British Olympic medalists and crew members of the royal yacht Britannia, which has covered some 40,000 miles since last August, were present in the great hall at Mansion House.

A Britannia petty officer, with happy memories of a 1954 visit to Cornwall, Ont., told a reporter over the brandy and cigars there are "strong rumors" abroad the Britannia that the royal yacht may make another visit to Canada this year.

This would be as part of an trip to the United States which has been persistently rumored, so far without official confirmation.

Completes Flight Across Atlantic

Looks Forward To Starting Weekly In His Home Town

Ice Fields 5 Miles Off St. John's

OTTAWA (Special)—Clarence Gillis, CCF member for Cape Breton South and only sitting member of the commons of his party east of Manitoba, told The Guardian Tuesday he plans to follow a newspaper career when he decides to leave the federal political arena.

He proposes to start moderately with a weekly in his home town of Glace Bay, which will, as he puts it, "Give the other fellow's side."

For too long, Mr. Gillis said, the people of Cape Breton have had to buy the one local daily newspaper there or do without news. He conceded that the former Glace Bay Gazette had failed, but attributed the failure to faulty editing and inadequate management.

By correcting mistakes made by others in the past, Mr. Gillis feels he can easily make his new venture "A going concern." Even now he is far advanced in his planning.

The Cape Breton CCF member is known as the foremost spokesman of labor in Parliament and also distinguishes as the only MP who spoke on the floor of the chamber against the St. Lawrence Seaway project. On that occasion, he branded the seaway, now far advanced in construction, as a threat to the ports of the Maritime Provinces.

PLANS UNCERTAIN It may be that Mr. Gillis may be forced to delay his plans for publication of a newspaper for length of a Parliament. His riding of Cape Breton South is regarded as a "Safe Seat" for him as long as he cares to represent it, and public opinion may well force him to continue in Parliament for another four years.

On the other hand, he might get the paper started by his associates, directing its activities and policies from Ottawa and contributing articles and editorials.

MR. GILLIS Policy of the proposed "Clarie" Gillis' paper would include all-out support of organized labor, particularly labor in the coal mines and steel mills of Cape Breton. It would further urge more extensive research on the part of both government and industry into coal problems and further development of the coal industry in the Maritimes.

Mr. Gillis is not without experience in the newspaper field. Before coming to Parliament he actually operated a successful weekly, despite the fact that all of them were working underground, leadership coal at the time.

Questioned by an Ottawa newspaperman who was considering acquiring a weekly in one of the smaller towns close to Canada's capital, Mr. Gillis evidenced a grasp of the mechanics and economics of the weekly newspaper field.

MR. GILLIS Policy of the proposed "Clarie" Gillis' paper would include all-out support of organized labor, particularly labor in the coal mines and steel mills of Cape Breton. It would further urge more extensive research on the part of both government and industry into coal problems and further development of the coal industry in the Maritimes.

Mr. Gillis is not without experience in the newspaper field. Before coming to Parliament he actually operated a successful weekly, despite the fact that all of them were working underground, leadership coal at the time.

Questioned by an Ottawa newspaperman who was considering acquiring a weekly in one of the smaller towns close to Canada's capital, Mr. Gillis evidenced a grasp of the mechanics and economics of the weekly newspaper field.

MR. GILLIS Policy of the proposed "Clarie" Gillis' paper would include all-out support of organized labor, particularly labor in the coal mines and steel mills of Cape Breton. It would further urge more extensive research on the part of both government and industry into coal problems and further development of the coal industry in the Maritimes.

Completes Flight Across Atlantic

Looks Forward To Starting Weekly In His Home Town

Ice Fields 5 Miles Off St. John's

OTTAWA (Special)—Clarence Gillis, CCF member for Cape Breton South and only sitting member of the commons of his party east of Manitoba, told The Guardian Tuesday he plans to follow a newspaper career when he decides to leave the federal political arena.

He proposes to start moderately with a weekly in his home town of Glace Bay, which will, as he puts it, "Give the other fellow's side."

For too long, Mr. Gillis said, the people of Cape Breton have had to buy the one local daily newspaper there or do without news. He conceded that the former Glace Bay Gazette had failed, but attributed the failure to faulty editing and inadequate management.

By correcting mistakes made by others in the past, Mr. Gillis feels he can easily make his new venture "A going concern." Even now he is far advanced in his planning.

The Cape Breton CCF member is known as the foremost spokesman of labor in Parliament and also distinguishes as the only MP who spoke on the floor of the chamber against the St. Lawrence Seaway project. On that occasion, he branded the seaway, now far advanced in construction, as a threat to the ports of the Maritime Provinces.

PLANS UNCERTAIN It may be that Mr. Gillis may be forced to delay his plans for publication of a newspaper for length of a Parliament. His riding of Cape Breton South is regarded as a "Safe Seat" for him as long as he cares to represent it, and public opinion may well force him to continue in Parliament for another four years.

On the other hand, he might get the paper started by his associates, directing its activities and policies from Ottawa and contributing articles and editorials.

MR. GILLIS Policy of the proposed "Clarie" Gillis' paper would include all-out support of organized labor, particularly labor in the coal mines and steel mills of Cape Breton. It would further urge more extensive research on the part of both government and industry into coal problems and further development of the coal industry in the Maritimes.

Mr. Gillis is not without experience in the newspaper field. Before coming to Parliament he actually operated a successful weekly, despite the fact that all of them were working underground, leadership coal at the time.

Questioned by an Ottawa newspaperman who was considering acquiring a weekly in one of the smaller towns close to Canada's capital, Mr. Gillis evidenced a grasp of the mechanics and economics of the weekly newspaper field.

MR. GILLIS Policy of the proposed "Clarie" Gillis' paper would include all-out support of organized labor, particularly labor in the coal mines and steel mills of Cape Breton. It would further urge more extensive research on the part of both government and industry into coal problems and further development of the coal industry in the Maritimes.

Mr. Gillis is not without experience in the newspaper field. Before coming to Parliament he actually operated a successful weekly, despite the fact that all of them were working underground, leadership coal at the time.

Questioned by an Ottawa newspaperman who was considering acquiring a weekly in one of the smaller towns close to Canada's capital, Mr. Gillis evidenced a grasp of the mechanics and economics of the weekly newspaper field.

MR. GILLIS Policy of the proposed "Clarie" Gillis' paper would include all-out support of organized labor, particularly labor in the coal mines and steel mills of Cape Breton. It would further urge more extensive research on the part of both government and industry into coal problems and further development of the coal industry in the Maritimes.