

ONE OF THE units drawing a considerable amount of attention in the centennial day parade at Pinette yesterday was the Eldon-Newton float above. It has been said that much time and work went into the building and decoration of this float. It was decorated by the Women's Institute of the area. It depicts one aspect of the dairy industry of the community which has a long history and has been noted for its dairy products. This unit represents the Federal Dairy at Pinette.

Giant Crowd Attends Pinette Centennial

PINETTE — The Pinette centennial day celebrations held yesterday saw one of the largest crowds ever to attend the Horseman's Club grounds.

Those in attendance were greeted by sunny weather and saw one of the better centennial day celebrations to be held in the province. It featured a parade of some 30 units, an eight dash horse race, a doll carriage parade, a band concert, bike races, other sports and a ham and salad supper.

The floats by the Eldon Legion and the Newton-Eldon Federal Dairy were supported by floats from Montague, Charlottetown and other provincial centres It also featured many people in costumes of 1864 as well as horse drawn wagons and clowns.

The eight-dash races left nothing to be desired as each heat was loudly cheered and featured close finishes.

The doll carriage parade featured 100 children with carriages and pets and children in costume. They were each presented with a centennial medal or a small trophy.

The bike races and sports also had classes well filled with each attraction drawing their portion of the crowd.

Present for the official opening was the town crier who declared the celebration officially open following the parade and the addresses.

SPEAKERS

The emcee for the day was Thomas McKenna of Village Green who introduced the speakers. Hon. Angus MacLean spoke briefly and pointed out the important part that Prince Edward Island was playing in the historic occasion and how the Island was "blazing the way" to the 1967 Confederation celebration.

Dr. Frank MacKinnon brought greetings from the provincial centennial committee and congratulated the community for their effort. He pointed out that this community had completed the work for this day in two weeks.

Hon. Andrew MacRae, who represented the premier, congratulated the Pinette area and stated this was one of the more important celebrations in the province.

Stewart Ross, MLA, welcomed all on behalf of the people of the area and extended his thanks to the committee and all who helped to make the day possible making mention of the Canadian Legion, the auxiliary of the Legion, the Horseman's club, and the 12 women's institutes of the area.

A special feature of the celebration was to honor the older citizens of the area by having them ride in the parade and then be introduced to the speakers. They were escorted to the platform where they were able to watch the different events. They were: Daniel Nicholson, 85, and Mrs. Nicholson, 84, both of Wood Islands West; Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Cantelo, both 86, of Mt. Buchanan; Neil Morrison, 92, of Point Prim and John Rooney, 80, of Orwell. Absent from the parade and the older citizens of the community were Mrs. Tena Finlayson, 97, of Point Prim and Charles MacDonald, 96, Wood Islands.

The chairman of the celebration was Mrs. Don MacKenzie, while Mrs. Mary Ross was secretary.

SINGS HERE

Jon Vickers, Internationally known opera star, will be presenting a program of Scarlatti, Purcell, Handel, Beethoven, Williams and Wagner here in Charlottetown on Sunday. Vickers, a member of the Metropolitan Opera Association, is acclaimed on two continents for his outstanding artistry. This is a one night only performance at Confederation Centre Theatre.

Final Report On Prince Co. Expected Soon

Final report to government by Arthur D. Little Inc. on an economic survey made by the company in Prince County is expected to be ready in about two weeks.

Representatives of the company met with Agriculture Minister Andrew MacRae and the staff of the provincial resources development division yesterday to discuss the report which deals with such phases of county development as tourism and fisheries.

Mayor Gaudet Denies Challenge

Mayor A.W. Gaudet expressed indignation yesterday at a Canadian Press story stating he had challenged Halifax Mayor Charles Vaughan to settle "cradle of confederation" differences with their fists.

The item also said Mayor Vaughan had turned down the offer but suggested a walking race across the P.E.I. causeway when it is built.

Mayor Gaudet said he had treated the "battle" as a joke at first, but this kind of nonsense had him "good and sore".

Mayor Vaughan had previously insisted Halifax, not Charlottetown, was the real cradle of Confederation.

two-day annual meeting this morning elected Dr. Clarence Condy, Charlottetown, as their president for 1965-66, succeeding Dr. Eric Found in the post.

Other officers chosen were: Dr. Henry Moyse, Summerside vice-president; Dr. Athol Roberts, Charlottetown, second vice-president; Dr. Allan MacMillan, Charlottetown, honorary secretary; and Dr. Gordon Lea, Charlottetown, treasurer.

Dr John Gillis, Eldon; Dr. John Bonnell, Monague; and Dr. James Saunders, Summerside; were elected as county representatives to the executive.

The business of the meeting concluded yesterday afternoon with the presentation of a paper on "osteoporosis" by Dr. Hamish McIntosh, University of British Columbia. And one on "the acute abdomen" by Dr. J. Burke Ewing, University of Ottawa. Dr. Henry Moyse, Dr. Edward Kassner, Dr. Malcolm Putnam, Dr. K. Beer and Dr. Leo Killorn participaed in discussions following these.

Delegates and their wives attended a reception and chicken barbecue at the Charlottetown Curling Club last evening, and the doctors will end their program this morning with a round of golf at the Belvedere Golf and Winter Club.

Alberta Girls Bring Goodwill For Centennial

Four lovely young ladies from St. Paul, Alberta, arrived in Charlottetown yesterday to help in celebrating the meeting of the Fathers of Confederation during ceremonies to be held this weekend and the first two days of next week.

The girls, with their chaperones Magistrate and Mrs. G.W. Graves, arrived by bus and were escorted to the Motel Charlottetown.

The four are 18-year-old Evelyn Gadowski; 17-year-old Gail Scraba; 17-year-old Claudette Leroux and 16-year-old Mary Ann Redcrow.

During their visit here, which lasts till Thursday of next week, the girls will call on the lieutenant governor, the premier, the mayor and other civic officials, and will visit the various attractions in Charlottetown and other parts of the Island. They will also attend the official functions of the Centennial Celebrations as good will and greeting carriers from the province of Alberta.

The four girls were chosen during a contest run by the St. Paul Chamber of Commerce. They are the guests of the Alpha Y's Men in conjunction with the P.E.I. Centennial Committee.

HALL REPORT

of medical schools, in the next 20 years, there will be a shortage of 4,600 doctors in Canada by 1988," Dr. Peart said.

If the present Canadian ratio of one doctor to 875 persons is changed to the recommended one to 776 persons, the shortage in 1988 would be 9,000, he added.

He reported the seven new medical schools suggested in the report would cost $210 million.

Dr. Peart said the cost of the program recommended in the Hall Report would be $4,666,000,000 by 1971. This, he said, is about twice what the government is currently spending on health services.

Speaking briefly after Dr. Peart's speech, CMA President Dr. Frank A. Turnbull of Vancouver, urged the Island doctors to study the report, or at least some facet of it, thoroughly.

"It is significant that the government didn't hold up on this report. It tabled it at once — put it out as sort of a kite" to test the reactions of the public and the medical profession.

Doctors have a "responsibility in speaking out" on the report, he said.

Dr. Turnbull termed the lengthy document "the most important book on medicine published in our lifetime."

The morning panel discussion was led by Dr. J.C. Sinnott with Dr. Maloney, Mr. Malcolm Beck and Dr. J.A. MacMillan participating.

FARMS AMAZE SOVIET VISITOR

CALGARY (CP)—The Soviet minister of agriculture and his party are mystified at the amount of work a western farmer can do singlehanded.

"They keep asking where all the help is," said M.J. Fitzgerald of Regina, head of the prairie farm rehabilitation administration, who is accompanying Soviet Agriculture Minister I. P. Volchenkov on his tour of Canadian farms.

Mr. Fitzgerald added: "Although the Russians have mechanized their farms, they evidently have not achieved the high state of mechanization Canadian farmers have."

'BOUNCY' BURGLARS

TEKARKANA, Ark. (AP)— Burglars who broke into the office of a memorial cemetery ignored a large safe, presumably because a sign atop it said truthfully: "Records only kept here." But they took a metal box filled with cheques that had bounced.

FEW UNEMPLOYED

Norway had total unemployment of 5,900 at the end of June, 1964, or 0.3 per cent of all wage-earners.

5-Week Adjournment Given Injured Accused

Hunter River man Robert Gessner Silliphant was remanded by consent to Oct. 2 to fix a date for re-commencement of trial by Magistrate James B. Johnston, QC, in magistrate's court yesterday.

Silliphant, who is charged with care and control of a motor vehicle while impaired, was the victim of a hit and run accident last Sunday. He was flown to Halifax in an RCAF Search and Rescue aircraft and is now a patient in Victoria General Hospital, where he is receiving treatment for injuries reported to be of a serious nature.

The Crown presented its case against Silliphant two weeks ago, and then the magistrate adjourned the case to yesterday for Silliphant to produce defense testimony.

Defense counsel yesterday petitioned the court for dismissal of the charges on the grounds of Silliphant's illness, which he said will be of indeterminate length. Magistrate Johnston instead remanded Silliphant for five weeks to "get a better perspective" of the case.

TWO CHARGES

Warren James Mahler of Rocky Point appeared in court on two charges.

The first, drunken driving, was changed by consent of RCMP and Crown prosecutor Alan K. Scales to impaired driving, to which Mahler pleaded guilty and was fined $100 and costs or 10 days.

Mahler pleaded guilty also to the second charge, driving while his license was suspended, and was fined $50 or 15 days.

Joseph Henry Gaudet of Freetown pleaded guilty to another charge of impaired driving and was also fined $100 and costs or 10 days.

Terence Patrick Marr of Charlottetown was charged with breaking the terms of a recognizance he had posted in April after receiving a two-year suspended sentence for break, entry and theft. Apparently he was convicted in Summerside magistrate's court in June of a charge of assault with intent to steal, and was sentenced to one month in jail there. He was remanded to Aug. 31.

PETTY THEFT

Two men each pleaded guilty to separate charges of being intoxicated in public. Each was fined $20 and costs or 15 days.

Two East Royalty youths pleaded guilty to petty theft charges made by a Southport complainant. Involved were two radiators and a used battery with value for the battery and one of the radiators given as $2.75. All three articles were recovered.

The magistrate fined the youths $50 and costs or 20 days each, and warned them of the seriousness of the charge.

Four men were each fined $20 and costs or 30 days for illegal possession of liquor.

G'town Development Group Hears Of Handicraft Program

GEORGETOWN — The Georgetown Industrial Development Group, under the chairmanship of Temple MacDonald, met Wednesday night in St. James Parish hall and heard a program of handcrafts outlined by Mrs. M. Wayne Lister, provincial director of handcrafts.

Mrs Lister outlined for her audience the various courses available in handcrafts and the number of persons necessary to hold a course in each craft. Crafts such as glove making, jewellery, wood turning, copper enamelling, weaving, silk screen printing and leather work were explained and those present were treated to a display of a variety of finished products in the various crafts

J.A.B. McConnell advanced the suggestion that if the members of prospective classes could be shown the instructors in actual process of making the various articles it would result in an increased interest on the part of those contemplating such courses.

Rev. L.B. Dooley suggested that in this regard it would be advantageous to transport a group to the city to tour the instructors' workshops and observe the various crafts being made.

On other business the group discussed the possibility of having the town council, along with representatives from the industries to be established in the town, and representatives from town planning and the department of industry attend a meeting to enlighten the group as to what is being done in regards to industry and other matters relating to town planning, housing and sewage installation.

The committee on small industries is to contact those departments and groups and if possible arrange a meeting in the near future.
