

Dief's Entourage Shaken By Furious Campaign Pace

By STEWART MACLEOD
OTTAWA (CP) — Conservative Leader Diefenbaker has completed the first short leg of his campaign trail—a five-day grind through the Maritimes and Quebec—and his initial pace threatens to leave his entourage in a state of physical exhaustion.

After five days, nothing stood out more than stamina. But many of those who followed him were too tired to notice.

Whether the 70-year-old campaigner can keep up the grueling grind for more than five weeks remains to be seen. He says he can. "I never felt better in my life."

Mr. Diefenbaker's main schedule for the first five days included three major speaking engagements, at Halifax, St. John's, and Brownsburg, Que.

He spoke for 65 minutes in a hot Halifax auditorium where 2,000 packed the place. About 700 Newfoundlanders heard him go on for 50 minutes in even worse heat in St. John's. At Brownsburg, some 70 miles east of Ottawa, Mr. Diefenbaker had to pull on a heavy sweater before beginning a 40-minute talk in a 45-degree arena.

SET TORTUOUS SCHEDULE
But it was between the speaking engagements that the old campaigner set himself the tortuous schedule.

Up at 6 a.m. Friday, Sept. 24, he was in Montreal for a 9 a.m. press conference, in Halifax two hours later for an airport reception, in Dartmouth two hours after that for another reception, a series of meetings over dinner, and then his speech that went on until 10:50 p.m.

After that he met party workers and did not get to bed until 1 a.m.

Mr. Diefenbaker was said to be at work before 7 a.m. Saturday, and he held another press conference two hours later. He left for St. John's, Nfld., at noon, shook hands with about 300 people at the airport there, and got into his hotel in time for dinner.

Another series of local meetings—and the Conservative leader was ready to speak again. He finished at 10:30 and went immediately to a reception until midnight.

VISITED WATERFRONT
By 8 a.m. Sunday, with his hat perched jauntily on his head, Mr. Diefenbaker was walking briskly to the St. John's waterfront to see the Portuguese sailors clearing their masted vessels. Then he was off to a fire hall where he was treated to a demonstration of pole-sliding.

Time for church, Mr. Diefenbaker read the lesson in the Baptist church at St. John's, and raced immediately to the airport. Within minutes of take-off for Halifax he left the first-class compartment on the plane and talked to reporters who were in the economy section.

He also visited the plane's cockpit because the co-pilot, Doug Evans of Toronto, was the son of a woman who had lent Mr. Diefenbaker a chair once used by Sir John A. Macdonald.

By coincidence, Peter C. Newman, author of The Renegade in Power, was visiting the cockpit at the same time. The author was also in the plane.

Then, finally, at 5:45 p.m. he went into a motel room for half an hour.

After this break, he went to a Legion reception in Lunenburg, and then four miles to the Brownsburg arena, where his speech ended at 10:30 p.m.

CONTRACT BRIDGE
By R. JAY BECKER

TEST YOUR PLAY

1. You are declarer with the West hand at Six Clubs. North leads the queen of diamonds. How would you play the hand?

2. You are declarer with the West hand at Three Notrump. North leads the king of spades. How would you play the hand?

With the ace, return to your hand with a trump, and lead another spade. If West produces the four or five, or shows out, you play the six, thus ending play South, while if West produces the seven or eight, you cover with the nine, again nullifying the defense whatever the lie of the cards.

2. Win the spade with the ace, cross to dummy with a diamond, lead the queen of clubs and finesse. If the finesse loses, ten tricks become certain. If the finesse wins, repeat it. This method of play guarantees the contract even though a defender shows out on the first or second club lead.

If you were to duck the king of spades—a play quite often made in similar circumstances—you would be courting disaster and might well go down.

For example, suppose North then shifted to the jack of hearts and South overtook the jack with the queen. You would then be in danger of defeat whether you took the heart or not, and could easily lose the contract if it turned out that North had the king of clubs.

The only way to insure the contract is by winning the opening lead. This relatively simple play guards against every possible distribution of the North-South cards.

Regrouping Seen For Small Firms
MONTREAL (CP) — Gerard Levesque, Quebec minister of industry and commerce, says small and medium-size businesses must regroup if they do not want to disappear or deteriorate.

"These businesses can no longer go it alone," he said. "If they wish to expand by enlarging their markets, there is only one route open to them, that of regrouping."

Small and medium-sized businesses have not taken advantage of new techniques and not-so-new techniques used by large businesses, Mr. Levesque said in a speech Wednesday to the annual conference of Le Centre de l'Organisation Scientifique de l'Entreprise (Centre for the Scientific Organization of Business).

Heavy Storms Slow Loading
CHURCHILL, Man. (CP) — Heavy storms have slowed the loading of grain at this Hudson Bay port, 600 miles north of Winnipeg.

Seven ships were anchored outside Churchill Harbor Tuesday, while two had just docked to await loadings.

Storms hit the Churchill area last Friday and heavy seas prevented vessels from entering Churchill Bay where the grain awaited them.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A K R
L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE MAJOR HOOPLE

GREAT CAESAR — WHY DIDN'T I THINK OF IT BEFORE — IT'S SO OBVIOUS! SNAKE OWES ME MONEY BUT DOESN'T WANT TO PAY, AND HE WOULDN'T BE WORRIED UNLESS HIS STOCK WAS VALUABLE! WHAT BETTER WAY TO CONVINCE IT'S TRUE WORTH THAN BY OFFERING TO SELL IT TO ME? HE'S BEEN SUCH A CHEAT THAT HE KNEW I'D ASSUME IT WAS WORTHLESS!
