

England's Self-made Men.

The majority of the wealthy men of business in England have either made their own fortunes or sprung from some poor, clever, industrious man who, like Richard Crawshaw, laid the foundations of the house. Here are a few examples; Ripley, the member of Parliament for Bradford, who owns half the town, is self made. His father and mother used to attend market and carry home in a cart articles for dyeing. The father of Bass, the great brewer, was in a very small way of business, and his mother sold yeast in a little shop. The first Lord of Admiralty's father kept a small news agent's store in London. Mr. Walter, member of Parliament, and chief proprietor of the Times, dates back, I believe, to his father's humble printing office in the city. Mr. Johnston who left behind him the Standard worth $150,000 a year, besides real estate, was an officer in the old Bankruptcy Court. The late Herbert Ingram, member of Parliament and founder of the Illustrated News, kept a little drug store at Nottingham. Mr. Lawson the chief proprietor of the Telegraph, from which he draws for his half share quite $150,000 a year, was the commercial representative of an ink house. How much more he has made or lost I don't know; he gave his daughters wedding gifts that would buy a German dukedom. But talking of newspaper men, Labouchere in spite of newspapers theatres, pays income tax on $160,000 a year. He was robbed some time since by forgeries on his bank of $75,000, extending over months, without being aware of it. The bank called his attention to some irregularities, which brought the fraud to light.—New York Times.

What the Duke of Argyle thinks.

The Duke of Argyle a prominent member of the British Liberal party, which has been considered—at least a portion of it—to be antagonistic to Colonial connections, having recently been interviewed, appears to have predicted that before fifty years the Dominion will have as large a population, and be in receipt of as great a revenue from its agricultural and mineral wealth, as the whole of the United States lying north of a line extending from New York to San Francisco. The Duke laughed at the idea of Canadians cutting loose from the Home Government, and giving up the stability of their institutions, and their connection with the traditions and glories of Great Britain. He thought the Dominion was growing in a less showy and more substantial manner than the United States. He looks to a vast agricultural population settling in the 'magically fertile lands' of the Red River and the Saskatchewan valleys. There can be no doubt that His Grace, as other far-sighted men before him have done, will carry back with him a favorable report and assist in the good service which Lord Dufferin especially rendered us in directing attention to the conditions under which we live.

The cotton manufacturing districts of England are suffering terribly. In Burnley, out of 33,000 looms, 5,795 are idle, and 307,870 spindles out of 900,000. In the Blackburn district, out of 52,000 looms, 11,300 are quiet, while 84,000 spindles are working on short time, and 48,000 are stopped altogether. In the Chorley district, 1,600 looms owned by two firms are working on reduced time, and about twenty other firms are running part of their machinery on short time, while several others are at a stand. In the Bury district the woollen and cotton industries are alike depressed. The average time of working in the wollen manufactures is only four days of the week, and 406,000 spindles and 3,720 looms are on short time. In Stockport the prospect is said to be almost hopeless, especially in the weaving department. It is estimated that now only 500,000 spindles and 300 looms are working, against 1,195,000 spindles and 7,900 looms five years ago.

Lord Normandy, the new Governor of Victoria, who recently travelled across this continent en route to his new home, has soon been called upon to face troublesome times. The struggle between the Legislative Council and Assembly continues, and waxes more bitter with time. Mr. Berry, the Premier, together with a political colleague, visited England to try and persuade the Imperial Government to sanction an alteration of the constitution. The Colonial office declined to interfere, and so Mr. Berry returned unsuccessful. The latest news from the antipodes is that he will adhere to his position. Victoria is, therefore in the throes of constitutional crisis.

Gladhill Place, Higham, the residence of the late Charles Dickens, and which has been for a long time in the market, has at length found a purchaser in Capt. Austin Budden, of the 12th Kent Artillery.

A Miraculous Recovery.

During a terrible wind storm the house of Mrs. Adelaide Burton, North Carolina was blown down and the lady covered with debris. She was finally taken out apparently dead, preparations were made yesterday afternoon for her burial. After the funeral sermon, as the casket was being removed to the hearse, she raised up and asked what this all meant. Her sudden revival created consternation as well as joy and it was found she had only been in a trance. She is perfectly well, and in a few hours was superintending the workmen clearing away her wrecked dwelling.

Liver is King.

The liver is the imperial organ of the whole human system, as it controls the life, health and happiness of man. When it is disturbed in its proper action, all kinds of ailments are the natural result. The digestion of food, the movements of the heart and blood, the action of the brain and nervous system, are all immediately connected with the workings of the liver. It has been successfully proved that Green's August Flower is unequalled in curing all persons afflicted with dyspepsia or liver complaint, and all the numerous symptoms that result from an unhealthy condition of the liver and stomach. Sample bottles to try, 10 cents. Positively sold in all towns on the Western Continent. Three doses will prove that it is just what you want.

CATARRH. Constitutional Catarrh Remedy CURES CATARRH.

Hear what a Reverend Gentleman says of the Constitutional Remedy.

T. J. B. HARDING, Esq., Brockville, Ont.:—DEAR SIR—It is now two years since your "Constitutional Catarrh Remedy" was introduced to me. I have waited this long to see if the cure would remain permanent before doing this, my duty, to you, as at first the happy effects seemed to me to be "too good to be true."

I was afflicted in my head for years before I suspected it to be Catarrh. In reading in your Circular I saw my case described in many particulars. The inward "drop" from the head had become very disagreeable, and a choking sensation often preventing me from lying long. I would feel like smothering and be compelled to sit up in the bed. My health and spirits were seriously affected. When your agent came to Walkertown in August, 1876, I secured three bottles. Before I had used a quarter of the contents of one bottle I found decided relief, and when I had used two bottles and a third, I quit taking it, feeling quite cured of that ailment, and have not used any since until of late I have taken some for a cold in my head. A sense of duty to sufferers from that loathsome disease, Catarrh, prompts me to send you this Certificate, unsolicited, with leave to make what use of it you may see proper. Yours truly, W. TINDALL, Methodist Minister. Port Elgin, Ont., Aug. 24, 1878.
