

MR. AND MRS. A. J. GALLANT

Couple Pledge Vows At Lovely Old Island Church

St. Augustine's Church, South Rustico, was the setting of a very pretty wedding on June 27, 1959, when Rev. Joseph LeClair united in the holy bonds of matrimony Delma Anne, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard A. Gallant, Rusticville, and Alfred James, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Gallant, Ste. Anne's Parish, Hope River.

The altar and sanctuary were nicely decorated with summer flowers and votive lights. The guests pews were marked with satin bows and lily-of-the-valley.

Rev. Sr. Marie, N.D., organist for the occasion, rendered appropriate music and accompanied the Children of Mary Choir in several suitable hymns.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming in a floor length gown of white net over satin with lace bodice with matching fingertip veil, falling from a headress of satin, trimmed with sequins and pearls. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. Her only ornament was pearl earrings, a gift of the groom.

The bridesmaid, Miss Thelma Gallant, sister of the groom, wore a ballarina length gown of pink net over taffeta with matching accessories. She carried a nosegay of pink and white carnations.

The flower girl, Miss Shirley Gallant looked winsome in a floor length gown of pink net over satin with matching accessories. She carried a nosegay of pink and white carnations.

Mr. Noel Gallant, brother of the bride, was best man. The ushers were Mr. Allison Gallant, brother of the bride and Mr. Raymond Gallant, brother of the groom.

The mother of the bride chose for her daughter's wedding, a navy blue crepe dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The groom's mother wore a light blue dress with pink accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception for approximately 50 guests was held at the Community Centre, Charlottetown. The bride's table, beautifully decorated with summer flowers, was centered with a three-tier wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom flanked with lighted tapers.

The master of ceremonies was Rev. Fr. LeClair and Rev. Dennis Gallant, uncle of the groom, was toastmaster. He proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom fittingly responded.

Messages and telegrams of congratulations and good wishes were received from the bride's sisters: Mrs. Elaine Vanner, Edmonton, Alberta; Mrs. Eddie Banks, Dunfermline, Fife, Scotland; Miss Helena Gallant, Los Angeles, California and the groom's father Mr. Leo Gallant and a brother Reginald both employed in Calgary, Alberta.

Several of the guests made complimentary speeches. The afternoon was pleasantly spent in dancing and singing.

For a honeymoon trip to Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, the bride chose a two piece dress of blue figured silk with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations. Mr. and Mrs. Gallant are now residing in Millvale where the groom is a prosperous farmer.

Previous to her marriage the bride was tendered a miscellaneous shower at her home in Rusticville on June 18th.

Following their honeymoon the newly-weds were also tendered a community shower in the Credit Union Hall, Hope River, P.E. Island.

LOT 65 C.W.L.

The July meeting of St. Ann's parish council was held on July 5, with an attendance of ten members.

The president Mrs. Mathias Flood opened the meeting and the League Prayer was said by Rev. Father McCarthy. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The treasurer's report showed a balance of $382.26 after bills had been paid.

The president then gave a very interesting report on the C.W.L. convention which she attended at Summerside. It was stressed that good reading be placed in the hands of children and all members were requested to send letters of approval or disapproval to TV and radio managers regarding their programs.

Sister Mary Henry spoke on Welfare Work and wished to be invited to parish council meetings throughout the province to explain her problems.

Mrs. Flood also reported having attended an educational meeting in Charlottetown.

A discussion took place concerning the purchase of a piano for the hall. It was moved and seconded that a committee be appointed to look into this matter in the near future.

Fr. McCarthy spoke on "The Enthronement of the Sacred Heart in the Homes", but this will be taken up at a later date. It was decided to hold a lawn party later in the month and to continue the dances in the hall on Monday nights.

There being no further business the meeting was brought to a close with prayer by the Rev. director.

ELLEN'S DIARY

The Porridge Maker Surely Aims To Please.

One wakens not to the shimmer of green leaves beyond the windows, and the songs of the birds. Not so tuneful as earlier in the year in some instances yet altogether sweet to the ear. We listen—and love them.

James beside us in the old bed of his people ("No who is this James?" someone wrote us recently.) James? Why naturally James is the husband at this old house" we replied.) stirred, this morning and roused to the new day.

"Now what was on my mind when I fell asleep?" he pondered. "Oh I know, Ellen" he said brightly. "It's something we must do before the haying gets too busy. And this is the right morning for it!" he offered setting feet on the floor. "We have to clean those stove pipes and the chimney!"

"Yes" we said 'spirit quailing a bit at the prospect, sooty as the chore is. And then on wiser reflection we were happy to help take such precautions as we could against the danger of fire.

We found in observing Saely Week we were including such items as brushing cobwebs from light-bulbs in the out-buildings, scrubbing away the coal oil spilled in falling a lantern on a sunny porch, destroying saturated wax or oil, cleaning-cloths.

We remembered to impress on young minds the wisdom of taking care with traffic when they are off the farms on their bicycles, to respect the fearsome power of the haying-tractors and trucks, to watch out when in haste or in excited play that no young limbs should be broken because of carelessness, before looking to our own responsibilities on behalf of the safety of all about-and farther.

—On a farm what hazards to life and limb there are—all too often overlooked: a wedding hoe, a sharp shovel, a fork, a rake lying carelessly on paths where folks must walk; a wire projecting from a fence-post, a spike, a nail; a dropped tack, a knife, a saw, an axe, a moving-knife a scythe out of place, all mean things to encounter unaware; a bicycle or wheelbarrow left in an unexpected place; the awful edges of a broken bottle or a piece of glass by roadside or shore.

What brothers' keepers we farm-wives, and all-women, must be in regard to the safety of others!

So the chimney and stovepipes were cleaned. And our breakfast was the sweeter because of having a necessary work done. Our guests came to it fresh and bright—to the bowls of porridge they enjoy.

"What's it made of?" one asked.

"It's made of—let me see" the other said scanning it closely.

"That's a question" we laughed. "What did you want?"

"Rolled oats!" one volunteered.

"It's rolled oats" we said.

"Wheatlets!" the other offered.

"There are wheatlets in it too" we nodded.

"Your grandmother's porridge is like the cow the dealer wants to sell. She's three parts this, or half that or there's quite a bit of some other breed in 'er too if he sees the buyer wishes it so!" James grinned boyishly.

"But with porridge so long as it tastes good—that's what you want, isn't it?"

The moving—that was one interest of the farms today. And Father Time tries the edge of his sickle now. Ah ha, he stoops! And reaps for himself the woe golden length of this day.

Until tomorrow—Diary—Good-night.

Robert W. Service, Canada's poet of the Yukon, had $141,930 cash in a Toronto bank account at the time of his death last Sept. 11, it was revealed recently in surrogate court.

It is believed the major part of the deposits came in the form of royalties from such books as Songs of a Sourdough and such novels as The Trail of '98.

The poet died at Lancy, Brittany, France, having for some years been a resident of Monte Carlo, Monaco.

In his will Mr. Service explained he was "temporarily sojourning" at Monte Carlo, that he was domiciled in Vancouver, B. C., where his will was probated last May 8.

As the poet left property in Ontario the will also had to be probated here and Judge Frank Denton ordered the probate "be sealed with the seal" of the York County surrogate court.

The Royal Trust Co. was named by Mr. Service as the executor and trustee of his estate.

No indication was given in papers filed with the court of the size of Mr. Service's estate. His holdings in Ontario consisted only of the "cash in the bank."

In the will drawn up at Nice, France, on March 28, 1952, the poet directed the trust company to gather together all his real property and all income issues and profits arising therefrom.

This estate is to be held as a fund upon trust with one-half being used to purchase annuities for his wife, Germaine, and one-half for annuities for his daughter, Mrs. Iris Davis.
