

Last week, in a most Christian spirit, which should have been appreciated by a Christian Elder, we showed Mr. Laird how ridiculous he made himself by aping at logical terms, when he knew nothing of their meaning; and he has repaid us with insolence. We freely forgive him, as we know that sort of thing forms the great staple of his composition, and he cannot help it. "The Herald," he says, "is neither able nor willing to defend the superstitious trash it republished some time (sic) acent the Roman Question." We never were contradicted. Mr. Laird brought forward the names of some persons, such as Henry VIII., Luther and John Knox, who, he alleged, had violently opposed the power of the Popes, yet who came to no untimely end. Mr. Laird might have included himself in the group, and told the world how prosperous, healthy and happy he is nevertheless. Let us ask Mr. Laird did those men, by force of arms, despoil, or seek to despoil, the Pope of his temporal power, as Victor Emmanuel has done? It was of this temporal power that the Heralds spoke, not of the spiritual jurisdiction spoken of by Luther, John Knox, Henry VIII. and Mr. Laird. "Roman Catholics lay great stress on the fate of Napoleon I.," says Mr. Laird. So do Protestant historians. Sir A. Allison, after enumerating the disasters which overtook Napoleon after the Pope's excommunication, says:—"There is something in these marvellous coincidences, beyond the operations of chance, and which even a Protestant Historian feels himself bound to mark for the observation of future ages." But what is Sir A. Allison to Mr. D. Laird? What is the Historian of Europe to the Editor of the Patriot? Mr. Laird knows him not, and the Editor of the Patriot despises him.

THE SAGUENEY FIRE.—A meeting was held in the Market Hall, on Thursday evening last, under the Chairmanship of His Worship the Mayor, having, for its object, the relief of the sufferers by the desolating fire which, early in autumn, swept over that portion of the Province of Quebec, known as the Saguenay. Mrs. M. de la Durantaye, a lady from Montreal, is strenuously exerting herself in Charlottetown, as she had previously done in Halifax and other cities, in behalf of this humane object, with considerable success. A subscription was taken up in St. Dunstan's Cathedral, on Sunday, the 13th inst., in aid of the sufferers. Other donations are also moving in the matter, so that we have reason to believe that the Charlottetown contribution to the Saguenay fund will be something respectable. The contributors may be sure that the fund will be judiciously applied.

THE ISLANDER states that Dr. Jenkins, one of the Coroners for Queen's County, held an inquest on the body of Wm. Byers (Black Hills) wife, on Monday the 7th inst. It appears that she and her daughter, Sarah Godfrey, had an altercation some months ago, when Sarah shielded a brick at the step-mother's head, and so well directed was the blow, that the latter never recovered from its effects. She sunk to a lethargic state from which death only relieved her on the 4th inst. The jury, having heard the evidence adduced, and the opinions of medical men, returned a verdict that "the deceased Mary Byers came to her death from a blow of some blunt instrument inflicted by Sarah Godfrey, under great provocation." A warrant of commitment, on a charge of wilful murder, was thereupon issued by the Coroner; but up to the present time, the accused has succeeded in evading the officers of the law.

Now is the time to subscribe for the HERALD, and to pay off old scores. Come along, gentlemen, and give us a helping hand. We are badly in need of money, and we want an increase of subscribers. We will be very much obliged to our friends in the country if they will use their influence in extending the circulation of the HERALD. It is already very fair, but we wish to run it up to three thousand. None but good pays are wanted.

The schr. Dora, which left Summerside on the 24th ult., laden with oats for Mr. T. B. Hall, for Shelburne, was wrecked off Shemogue. Great fears were entertained for the safety of the two men who were on her; they were happily saved, though the vessel is a total wreck and the cargo all lost. Mr. Strang and the man who was with him arrived at Summerside in the Princess of Wales on Sunday the 6th inst.

EUROPEAN.

London, Nov. 5.—Consols 9 1/4. The Council of Cork has passed resolutions in favor of the release of all political prisoners and against the Italian occupation of Roman territory. A despatch from a special correspondent of the Tribune at Berlin to-day says: That the negotiations for an armistice were broken off by Thiers under instructions from Paris. The reason has not been yet made public. Thiers is to leave for headquarters. Versailles, Nov. 6.—Thiers has received orders from Paris to break off the negotiations for an armistice, and to leave the royal headquarters. The cause of the rupture is believed to be the persistence of Bismarck in insisting on guarantees for the cession of territory.—The war goes on.—The Prussian ambassador at London says that the struggle will continue all winter. Rochfort has resigned his position on the Committee of defence in consequence of a misunderstanding with the government on the question of Communal Elections. He has not been seen since. A despatch to the Associated Press and a special despatch to one of the New York papers, both declare that the negotiations for an armistice have been abruptly broken off by order of the Paris Government, which will not assent to the conditions required by Bismarck.

London, Nov. 7.—It is rumored that Mr. Gladstone will stand for London in the next parliamentary election, in place of Baron Lionel Rothschild. Sir George Jenkinson, reported lost among the passengers of the steamship Varina, from New York for New Orleans, is at home in Gloucestershire. The ship Varina, is reported lost off Cornwall. She left Liverpool on the 8th ult., for St. John.

The London Times, in an editorial this morning, denounces the Parisian Government and people for their obstinacy in demanding exorbitant conditions as the basis of peace. It says that it is well known that but sixty-five days' supply of food is in Paris; that by the end of that period the food will all be exhausted and untold horrors fall upon the children and the women, whose helplessness should be considered. Famine and not despair will compel the surrender in a short time.

The English Cabinet is disappointed at the failure of the Armistice proposals. The German authorities here say that the French in Paris desired to receive arms, ammunition and provisions through the Prussian lines of investment, but that Bismarck refused to give them such opportunities for strengthening themselves, as it would tend to diminish the chances of peace as resulting from the Armistice if Paris were well supplied with everything needed.

Despatches from Brussels give intelligence that eighty thousand German troops are making forced marches on Amiens and Rouen.

Petitions are in course of circulation and signature, asking for the immediate expulsion from Belgium of the Bonapartist Agents who now infest the country in large numbers.—Port Mortier has surrendered. Paris has two thousand two hundred guns in position. Of political news the following is the most important: Bavaria has declined to join the North German Confederation, on the ground that she desires to preserve her identity as a separate State and her power to make separate Treaties. Russia and Prussia are again reported as having agreed to unite in a joint demand for a revision of the Treaty of 1856. The Barings have withheld the Prussian loan which was intended to be issued to-day. Tours, Nov. 7.—The "Monteur" says: Prussia, as she would neither consent to the re-annulling of Paris nor allow Alsace and Lorraine to vote in the election for delegates to the Constitutional Assembly, assumes all responsibility for the continuance of the war. Prussia and not France has refused the armistice. The journals here express the bitterest resentment at the policy of Bismarck, who, pretending to negotiate for the suspension of hostilities, thus gained time for the approach of reinforcements and warded off the attack of the army of the Loire, which could have been the decisive with our arms.

The "Times," this morning, says the armistice turned on the question of free ingress and egress at Paris, during the twenty-five days, Thiers insisting on the Prussian refusal to allow the army of the Loire, which could have been the decisive with our arms. The "Times," this morning, says the armistice turned on the question of free ingress and egress at Paris, during the twenty-five days, Thiers insisting on the Prussian refusal to allow the army of the Loire, which could have been the decisive with our arms.

London, Nov. 8.—The Prussian Medical Director has issued an order forbidding the transfer to Germany of sick prisoners at Metz, for fear of spreading the scourge of the Small Pox, among the homes of Germany. Typhus Fever, of a very virulent type, has also been circulating rapidly among the citizens. Despatches from Paris, up to Nov. 6th, show that the vote on the question of supporting the Government of General Trochu, counted up five hundred and fifty-eight thousand (558,000) for the Government, and sixty-three thousand (63,000) against, giving the government a majority of 495,000. Intelligence is transmitted from Florence that it has been finally arranged that King Victor Emmanuel will make his formal entry into Rome on the 30th of November. It is also announced that M. Thiers informs the Pope that the approaching European Congress will grant him such a position among the crowned heads as becomes the Viceroy of the Savoy.

Despatches from Versailles say that orders of a very strict nature have been issued against permitting persons to leave or to enter Paris. Five persons who went up in a balloon from Paris, and accidentally came down within the Prussian lines, have been court-martialed, and sentenced to be shot as spies. Tours, Nov. 8.—Despatches from the army of the Loire, report successful engagements yesterday at Paisley and St. Laurent-des-Bois. Two battalions of Prussians, supported by 1,500 cavalry and ten pieces of artillery, attacked the French advanced posts. After a combat of two hours duration, as the French appeared to surrender them, the Prussians retreated, leaving two officers and fifty men killed and seventy prisoners in our hands. The French loss was four killed and thirty-one wounded.

Rome, Nov. 8.—The festive ceremonies to-day fell flat. The customary ceremonies were omitted. The Pope celebrated mass and addressed a few words to the congregation, assuring them at the conclusion of his Allocution that the present order of things will soon come to an end, and the new year will be inaugurated by the triumph of the Apostolic cause. Large amounts of money are reaching the Holy Father daily, to prevent his acceptance of another month's stipend of 250,000 francs, offered him by the Italian government, for his civil list. London, Nov. 9.—At the Lord Mayor's Banquet to-night, Mr. Gladstone referred to the war which, he affirmed, had in three months caused more bloodshed than any year of war in the history of Christendom. As for the efforts of His Majesty's Government to discharge the duties of a neutral power if they had not succeeded it was impossible for them to succeed. They had found no great inequality in the dissatisfaction England's impartiality had excited on one side or the other.

There is no confirmation of the reported battle near Orleans. The Gazette de France demands an immediate election to put an end to the arbitrary rule of the Provisional Government. Tours, Nov. 9.—Government continues to withhold all news of movement of French armies, and the people are loud in their expressions of dissatisfaction. Tours, Nov. 11.—Gen. Depauline, commanding the army of the Loire, telegraphs:—"We have taken possession of Orleans, after a fight which has lasted two days. Our aggregate losses, in killed and wounded, do not reach 2,000, while those of the enemy are much larger. We have made more than 1,000 prisoners thus far, and are continuing to add to them as we follow up the fleeing enemy." Other accounts confirm the capture of Orleans by the French and the defeat of the Germans. London, Nov. 11.—New Breisch has surrendered to the Bavarian forces investing it. There were five thousand prisoners taken, besides munitions of war. It is announced from Florence that His Holiness the Pope has despatched to King Victor Emmanuel a Protest against the cession of the Quirinal palace. The Court of Paris had answered the diplomatic note of Austria, and states that as Austria had placed her armies on a war footing she was not in a position to offer to mediate between the two contending parties. As for the question of guaranty of peace, the German nation would rather have possession of Alsace than any other guaranty that could be offered. Consols closed at 9 1/4.

A despatch from Brussels states that well-informed politicians are impressed with the belief that a new arrangement for arbitration has been effected by the four neutral powers. Preliminary for the conditions of equitable peace acceptable alike to France and Prussia, have been concluded. The initiative has already been taken by Russia for assembling a Congress.
