

One of North America's Greatest Tourist Attractions . . . ANNE of GREEN GABLES

The homestead of "Anne of Green Gables" . . . a tourist attraction probably unsurpassed in North America.

Another view of "Anne's" homestead . . . and the monument erected in memory of the famous authoress, Lucy Maud Montgomery.

"Anne of Green Gables" has been immortalized in motion pictures and on television . . . and for thousands of children and adults the world over, this fascinating spot in Prince Edward Island is a unique and memorable event in their lives.

For complete Tourist details, contact the P. E. I. Tourist and Information Bureau, Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island at this fascinating tourist spot, you will see the places made famous by the Island authoress Lucy Maud Montgomery in her book "Anne of Green Gables" . . . such places as "The Babbling Brook" . . . "The Haunted Wood" . . . "The Lake of Shining Waters" . . . and "Lovers' Lane". Here you will see the old homestead which many thousands knew as the home of "Anne" . . . and looking across country you will see the neat little cemetery of Cavendish in which rest the remains of the beloved authoress. For thousands of Island visitors every summer, Green Gables is the highlight of their vacation.

Monument to the Memory of Lucy Maud Montgomery