Capt. Delaney, who had been engaged as Pilot on the trip hence to New York and back to this port. These gentlemen came here in the Tender attached to H. M. Surveying Steamer Columbia, Commander Shortland. They reported the Viceroy on shore on Shag Island, westward of Cape Sable. She struck on Monday night at ½ past 7 o'clock. The Ship is making a good deal of water. The Columbia is alongside rendering assistance.

We observe by the American papers that th Viceroy did leave New York, as previously reported by Telegraph, with twenty-seven passengers. Previous to leaving New York, the officers of the Viceroy were presented with a splendid flag, on which is emblazoned the arms of the city of New York on the one side, and the city of Galway on the other.

The loss of this fine ship is attributed to the compasses being out of kelter. We have heard that the same cause nearly proved her destruction on the passage from Galway to this port. The fact of the ship being so far off her course is conclusive evidence that to an error of the compasses alone is the cause of her going on shore, and that no blame can be attributed to any person. It elucidates another important fact, namely, that all the dangers of the voyage from Europe to America are to be encountered after going West of our magnificent harbour; while the stranding of the Great Britain on the other side of the Atlantic ferry tells the same tale as regards the West-coast of Ireland.—Nov.

LATEST FROM CANADA.—A Telegrabhic despatch to the Boston Atlas, dated Toronto June 25th, says: Last night the Legislative Assembly had under consideration a set of resolutions proposed by Mr. Boulton, embracing in detail a complete scheme of Republican government. After a debate the House voted that the resolutions were republican and revolutionary.—43 to 13.

LATER FROM HAVANA!

THE AMERICAN PRISONERS.—We learn from Capt. Ward, of the barque Rapid, which left Havana on the 13th inst., and arrived at this port yesterday, that the trial of the prisoners taken at Woman's Isle was still going on, on board a Spanish 74, lying in port. A large number of gun boats were kept rowing around her, to prevent any unauthorised persons from communicating with her.

The U. S. Consul, Mr. Campbell, and Commander Randolph, asked permission to see the prisoners confined on board, but the authorities refused to allow them to hold any communication, stating that they would be tried by the laws of maritime nations, and if found guilty would be dealt with accordingly.

There have been several deaths among the prisoners confined on board of the 74 gunship. The captains and crews of the barque Georgia and brig Susan Loud, were kept in confinement on board of the same vessel with those taken from Woman's Island.

Several persons have been arrested, put in prison, and their property confiscated, on suspicion of being concerned in the invasion by Gen. Lopez.

The U. S. sloops of war Albany and Germantown were lying off and on in the harbour, waiting orders. It was the opinion of the American Consul that should the U. S. Government demand the release of the prisoners taken from Woman's Island, they would be given up without further trouble.

The sickness among the shipping at Havana has entirely subsided, but there were a few cases of cholera among the blacks.

Since the date of your letter, Lord Kinnaird on the part of the Society had an interview with Lord Grey, in consequence of your former communication, the result of which I forwarded to you.

In consequence of your present communication I have moved in the House of Commons for the production of the Correspondence and Despatches on the subject, but I was met by a refusal on the part of the Government, on the ground that the correspondence is yet incomplete, and that it involves questions of private interests. I then presented your Petition, and read it, in extenso, before the House of Commons, and have given notice that in a fortnight I shall move for further information. This Society must be guided by the way in which this motion may be met, as to what further steps they should take.

They request me to assure you, that their best attention shall be continued to the subject.
