

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

OCTOBER 21, 1889.

Notes and Clippings.

From January to the end of September 24,082 emigrants have arrived at Montreal, by water and rail, and those arriving since last March have brought $270,000 with them. This is a very good showing.

An Ottawa despatch says a circular has been issued to collectors of customs, notifying them that it has been reported to the department that two cheap editions of Dickens's works have recently been issued in the United States, and are likely to be largely circulated in Canada. Collectors are requested to see that the copyright royalty of 12 1/2 per cent. is levied upon such importation as well as the customs duty of 15 per cent.

Few people realize how successfully Canada is competing with the United States in the export cheese trade. Last year, for example, Canada's exports of Canadian-made cheese were no less than $4,173,267 lbs., while the United States, with twelve times the population, exported only $8,008,458 lbs., or a paltry 4,000,000 lbs. ahead of Canada. When, too, the question of price is considered, Canada stands for her cheese $8,928,000, whilst the United States farmers for their larger quantity received only $8,736,000. The superior quality of the Canadian cheese is of course the true explanation.

A practical farmer remarks that no matter how maintained, a very large proportion of the cost of keeping any kind of live stock is returned in the shape of manure. And this is why so many farmers keeping live stock are in a prosperous condition, despite low prices. They figure up the value of the food they give their animals and what they get for them. There appears little or no profit, and yet they are prosperous and wonder how it comes. It comes largely from what the animals return in the shape of manure, which has kept the land in condition to produce one-half to double the quantity of grass and grain in excess of that produced on other farms where little or no live stock is kept.

The Moncton Times remarks: "The Canadian farmer has no reason to despair. He is getting better prices for three-fourths of everything he raises than he could hope to get if obliged to compete on even terms with the cheap products of the west, and he is doing immensely better than his neighbors in the New England States, who are compelled by the unequal competition to desert their farms in droves. But the Canadian farmer, and more particularly the maritime farmer, must adopt more improved methods of agriculture. After being cropped to a certain extent, the soil will yield only what is put upon it and it does not pay to work over a ten-acre field for the crop five acres should yield."

If these autumn days are not "the saddest of the year," they yet do have a melancholy tinge. There is a brooding darkness in the air that foretells the gloom of winter. The mornings open cloudy, but the sun struggles through in the forenoon and gives an hour or two of cheerfulness. Then the clouds gather again and the afternoons are invariably checked with shade and sunshine, ending early in the dusk of evening. The sun seems to attract the clouds, for while a large portion of the sky is clear it is shrouded by them. They gather about it as if to hasten the approach of night. The forenoon is the time for a drive to view the splendors of the autumn foliage. Then only can one be sure of the sunshine which illumines them and brings out all their brilliancy.

The investment of English capital in the United States is bearing fruit in the building up of manufacturing centres. English capitalists are developing the mineral wealth of Kentucky, and expending over $10,000,000 in building up the new town of Middleborough in that State. They have purchased thousands of acres of land, cut a tunnel through the mountains to open the way for railroads, begun building them, made contracts for furnaces, rolling mills and steel works, for opening coal mines, built a $750,000 hotel and sanitarium, set seven sawmills in full operation, and last week the town was opened with a great celebration in which the Governors of a number of Southern States, and many other distinguished public men, took part.

The Meat Trades' Journal publishes an interesting article on the United Kingdom live stock supply, from which it appears that Canada stands third in the supply of cattle to British markets, and fourth in the supply of sheep. At the head of the cattle list stands the United States, supplying the United Kingdom with 37.91 per cent. of its total imports. Denmark follows with a percentage of 17.85, and Canada stands third with 16.30, leaving the Netherlands fourth with 13.40. In sheep the Netherlands form by far the most important source of supply, contributing more than half of the whole sheep imports, while Canada's percentage is only 4.76. The United States have no better showing than 0.13. Commenting upon these figures, the Journal is naturally led to note with wonder the energy of little Denmark with its Lilliputian resources.

Referring to the recent contest in Richelieu, and the largely increased majority of the Conservative candidate, the Halifax Herald says: This sweeping majority, in the face of the fact that Hon. Wilfred Laurier, and his national allies in Quebec, made a desperate effort to capture the county with their Riel, race and religious cries, and Unrestricted Reciprocity, proves that "the great Liberal Leader" cannot hope to carry the more intelligent constituencies even in his own Province. In February, 1887, the late Capt. Labelle, a popular Liberal-Conservative candidate, carried the constituency by only seventy-one votes. When the leaders of the Nationalist party worked with the desperation of despair in behalf of a wealthy and influential Conservative candidate, the Dominion Government were sustained by a majority of over four times as large. It was indeed a great victory!

The Victoria, B. C., Colonist says: "Canadians, whenever they have a fair chance, make their mark in the United States. We find that they are appreciated there, and that when they choose to become citizens of the republic they stand as good a chance of advancement in public life as the natives of the country. Canadians occupy positions in the legislature of many of the northern and north-western states, and we see that the Republican candidate for the post of Lieutenant-Governor of the new state of South Dakota is a Canadian. His name is James Hayden Fletcher. He is a native of Prince Edward Island, and he did not emigrate to the States until he had arrived at middle age. He was known there as a man of talent and enterprise. He commenced life as a school teacher. He afterwards became a journalist, which profession he pursued with more than average success. He established the Island Argus, which was a flourishing paper when he sold it to the EXAMINER Printing Company. He was a city councillor and a candidate for legislative honors. In the United States he found a wider field for his talents and activities, and it would appear that he has made a good use of his opportunities.

Wedding Bells.

An auspicious event occurred shortly before noon to-day, at the residence of Mr. Theo. L. Chappelle, Prince Street, when George F. Williams, Esq., of Taunton, Mass., was united in marriage to one of Charlottetown's favorite daughters—Miss Florence A. D. Smith. The groom was supported by Mr. A. Irwin, of THE EXAMINER staff, while Miss Elsie Mason acted as bridesmaid.

At the conclusion of the marriage service, which was performed by Rev. John Read, luncheon was partaken of by the bridal party and invited guests. The presents on the occasion were numerous and handsome. Mr. and Mrs. Williams left by train this afternoon, to Summerside, en route to Taunton, Mass. THE EXAMINER with their many friends unites in wishing them the greatest prosperity in life.

Another Sudden Death.

We regret very much to learn that the Rev. David Honeyman, D. C. L., Curator of Nova Scotia's Museum of Natural Science, Halifax, died very suddenly in that city on Thursday afternoon last. While on his way home he fell on the street in an apoplectic fit, and three doctors, who were called, made fruitless efforts to save his life. In his death Nova Scotia loses a most cultured citizen. He was the greatest living authority on the geology of eastern Nova Scotia and Cape Breton, the founder of the Nova Scotia Institute of Natural Science, an honorary member of many learned and scientific societies of England and France, and a prominent member of the Royal Society of Canada. He was also the author of a large number of pamphlets on Nova Scotia's geology and resources. His fame extended to the United States, Great Britain and Europe; indeed, his erudition and depth of research were more fully appreciated abroad than at home. He came to Nova Scotia about 40 years ago, shortly afterward taking pastoral charge of Antigonish. A few years later he was released from the ministry, binding himself up entirely in his scientific studies. Heart disease was the immediate cause of death.

Dr. Honeyman took an active part in the promotion of exhibitions, and represented Nova Scotia abroad on several occasions—notably at London, Paris and Philadelphia. He was one of the most unassuming of men, gentle and kind; and he possessed a greater store of valuable information in his special lines than any other man in his generation. His death will be deeply regretted, not only by his hosts of friends, but by the Province generally, and men of learning and science the world over.

Boston Market Prices.

POTATOES.—Receipts for past six days, 93,500 bush; previous six days, 57,500 bush. There has been a larger supply offering for the past week and the market has been more in buyers' favor. At the close prices on eastern are ruling about 5 cents lower than a week ago with a fair demand. Western receipts are becoming quite heavy and are urging for sale at easy prices, and owing to their irregular condition and quality range from 40 to 50 cents per bush. We quote:— P. E. Island Hebrons..... 63 to 65 " Rose..... 60 to 62 " Stars and Bars..... 55 to 57 " Silver Dollars..... 55 to 57 " Chenangoes..... 58 to 60

FISH.—There is no very material change to report to-day. Mackerel are scarce at the following prices:— Mackerel, extra shore # bbl..... 30 00@.... " No. 1..... 25 00@.... " No. 2..... 23 00@.... " No. 3 large rimmed..... 20 00@.... " No. 3 plain..... 18 00@.... " English..... 16 50@.... For canned mackerel and lobsters the following are the prevailing prices:— Canned Mackerel.— 1 lb. tins labelled per doz..... 1 50 to 1 75 Canned Lobsters.— 1 lb. tins, labelled, new, per doz 1 60 to 1 75

EGGS.—Receipts for the week 221 boxes, 374 bbls., 12,209 cases; last week 1 box, 2 bbls., 9,171 cases. Receipts are increasing, but the demand has been well up to the supply so far. The few eastern extras received are now bringing 25 cents, and some of the best Michigan bring the same. Best marks of P. E. Island, N. S., and N. B., firm at 23 cents. Western selling at 22 and 23 cents as to grade. Good held stock is selling fairly at 20 to 21 cents. Some sales of choice hmed at 19c.

Personal.

Messrs. McLeod and Prowse, firemen on the P. I. Railway, have been promoted to the position of drivers on the Cape Breton Railway.

JOURNALISTIC.—The Moncton Times will be twenty-one years old early in December, and will celebrate the event by the issue of a special number of that progressive journal. It is intended that the special edition shall consist of at least sixteen pages, prettily illustrated. The special articles will cover the trade and business of the port for a period of years, the importance of the town as a railway centre, the manufacturing industries, the churches and religious growth, the town government, interesting sketches of prominent families, the growth of the Times newspaper establishment, etc., etc. It is also intended to enlarge the regular daily and weekly editions of the paper. We congratulate our lively contemporary on attaining its majority, and trust that the good luck that has attended it in the past may follow it in the future.

Horse Notes.

We learn from the Agriculturist that on Friday last Mr. Geo. Muttart, of Summerside, purchased from Mr. James McLeod a handsome chestnut colt, a year and a half old, by Westlawn, dam by Abdallah Messenger.

It is said that when W. C. Williams, the former owner of Axtell, turned him over to the $105,000 syndicate, he refused to allow the halter to go, but threw in a 50-cent blanket. And he only paid $150 for the dam of Axtell.

A Lexington, Ky., despatch says that W. H. Crawford, who bought the 2-year-old Constantine for $20,000 last Saturday, has decided to try him to beat Axtell's 2-year-old record of 2.12, if he gets a good day and track. If not, he will take him to California, and try to lower the 2-year-old record with him there.

The Agriculturist says: The old hero, All Right, 5817, has another son in the list, Charlie Mitchell, the well-known trotting gelding, formerly owned in Truro, having made a record of 2.28 1/2 at Boston on the 17th inst. He won the first two heats over a field of ten horses in the above time. Princess took the third heat in 2.27 1/2, and Andante the fourth in 2.30. The race was then postponed until next day, when Andante captured the fifth and sixth heats in 2.27 1/2, 2.27 1/2, Charlie Mitchell being a close second in each.

We had the pleasure a day or two ago of looking over a very beautiful and well conformed solid dark brown colt, belonging to Mr. J. McDonald, Vernon River. If judged by the scale of points this fellow would score very high, as he has a handsome head and neck, a good round barrel, well coupled, and a grand set of feet and legs. While his general appearance and action on the halter give one the impression that he will be speedy when developed, his breeding, which we give below, shows that he possesses blood lines that should justify that impression. He was sired by "Hernando, 1st dam by Black Pilot, 2nd dam by Don Juan, 3rd dam by M. Louis Pony and 4th dam by old Saladiu. Thus it will be seen that there is absolutely no cart blood in his veins. We congratulate Mr. McDonald on being the possessor of such a promising colt, and trust his most sanguine expectations in regard to him may be realized. We do not hesitate to predict that this colt will be heard from before many years have past.—Agriculturist.
