

Women

Hein A. MacDonald, Women's Editor, Phone 4-8506

The Guardian, Charlottetown, Sat., Jan. 20, 1962.

HAPPENINGS

Hostesses at the Charlotte Curling Club this afternoon will be Mrs. Reg Mahar, Mrs. William Boyles, Mrs. Lawrence Blakeney, Mrs. Clary Flemming, Mrs. Douglas George and Mrs. James Higgins.

Mrs. James Gaudet, Sydney, N.S. (nee Mary Walker, Charlottetown), is a patient in St. Rita's Hospital, Sydney, where she is expected to undergo surgery next week.

Mrs. Harold Stewart, Mt. Edward Road, Sherwood, was hostess to the Royalty Chapter IOOE on Tuesday evening, Jan. 16 with the Regent, Mrs. George Ayers, presiding.

Reports were given by the secretaries for Echoes, Services at Home and Abroad and Education.

A nominating committee was drawn up headed by Mrs. Eric Shepherd to bring in a slate of officers for the annual meeting in February.

A committee was also formed headed by Mrs. Ayers to go ahead with the compiling of the favors recipe book; all members to join in this project.

Lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. David Jardine.

Mrs. Wallace Bradshaw of Summerside spent this week in Montreal.

Miss Kaye Poole of New-Annan left Tuesday for Halifax, N.S., to enter the School of Nursing at the Victoria General Hospital.

Mayor and Mrs. W.A. Currie left Summerside yesterday to spend the weekend in Moncton, N.B. They were accompanied by Mrs. H.D. Smith.

Mrs. Leo Coyle of Lynn, Mass. is visiting in Summerside with her daughter, Mrs. Eldon Hickey and Mr. Hickey.

A highly successful bridge and auction party was held at the Royal Canadian Legion Home in Summerside on Wednesday evening, sponsored by the North Shore 35 tables in play and the following were prize winners: Bridge Ladies: 1. Mrs. Wilfred Perry; 2. Mrs. W.A. Allen; 3. Mrs. Gordon Hamay; Gentlemen: 1. G.A. Coles; 2. W.A. Currie; 3. Leo Blaquiere; Ladies: 1. Mrs. E. L. Walker; 2. Mrs. Stanley Dawson; 3. Mrs. Ann Perry; Gentlemen: 1. J.A. Harris; 2. Kenneth Walker; 3. Ralph MacLennan. David Morrison was convener of the party. Lunch was served at the conclusion.

Mr. Eldon Hickey returned this week to his home in Summerside from Montreal where he had attended a convention.

Mr. Claude Ives returned to Summerside on Wednesday from a trip to Montreal.

Mrs. Creelman MacArthur has returned to Summerside this week from a trip to Montreal.

Mrs. Norma Sutherland has returned to her home in Summerside.

MARY HAWORTH

Teenager Recommends Old-Fashioned Discipline

Dear Mary Haworth: I am a girl 15. Recently a 16-year-old girl friend eloped with a boy 17. Both were in high school and very immature, it seemed to me. Now their parents are supporting them.

Mary Ann's parents take the attitude that it's no use having the marriage annulled; that it wouldn't do any good trying to keep the youngsters apart, etc.;—the same attitude that I have encountered several times in modern fiction and over TV.

If I were to marry before I finish school and my parents had it annulled, it wouldn't be many years before I would love and respect them for doing so. I would appreciate their foresight in knowing that I was too young to cope with marriage even if I loved the boy.

With so many teenage marriages breaking up, I don't see how parents can cling to this positive attitude. They argue that you can't keep young lovers apart; but I think this is just a convenient, psychologist-approved excuse for taking the path of least resistance as parents.

I've never been in love, except for the usual crushes, but I am sure that some direct disciplinary action by my parents would make me think twice before slipping around to see a boy. I certainly wouldn't hate them for life if they used the hairbrush on me for deceiving them.

It is said that going steady leads to early marriage. Also, that trying to separate young lovers causes them to sneak dates and elope. If this is a fact, then we teenagers desperately need old-fashioned discipline to ment after a visit to Montreal.

The Good Fellowship Group of the Summerside Baptist Church met in the Hall on Tuesday evening and Rev. K.R. Hobson opened the meeting with prayer. The president, Mr. Ernest MacKay, conducted the business period. Mrs. Thomas Reid led the devotions and Mrs. Charles Ballem was pianist.

The theme of the Mission Study was "Work in India" and was presented by Mrs. Wyn Nickerson and assisted by Mrs. C. B. Jelly, Mrs. Ernest MacKay, Mrs. John Carson, Mrs. Charles Ballem, Mrs. Ross Leturgey and Mrs. Reid. Each of this Mission Study group was dressed in a sari to represent missionaries or phases of missionary work and at the conclusion of the meeting a luncheon was served by these hostesses was common to the country of India.

Mr. and Mrs. B.W.T. Leggett of St. John's, Woking, Surrey County, England, arrived on Monday to visit their daughter Mrs. David L. McInnis and family at Kensington.

Mrs. Robert Connolly left recently to return to her home at Fruitlands, Ont., after visiting her father, Mr. H.D. Boyle, Kensington.

Mrs. Margaret Connell has returned to her home at Kensington, after spending a few days at Charlottetown where she was the guest of her daughter, Mrs. George Gregory and Mr. Gregory, and visited other friends and relatives.

Mr. Rendell Caseley, Kelvin Grove, is a patient in the Prince County Hospital, Summerside.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Webster entertained on Jan. 15 at a card party sponsored by the Kelvin Grove W.I. when eight tables were in play. First prize for ladies was won by Mrs. Horace Paynter, and first prize for men by Gerald Miller. Consolation prizes went to Mrs. Lorne Crozier and John Picketts. Lunch was served by the hostesses assisted by Mrs. Gerald Miller, Mrs. Ian MacMurdo and Mrs. Eric MacMurdo.

Prize winners at the card party held at the Legion Home, Kensington on Tuesday evening were Mrs. Earle Carrier, Ladies' high; Ernest Bryant, men's high; Mrs. John Arsenault and John Inglis consolation; Mrs. Gordon Cousin's name was drawn for the door prize. The Jan. 23 card party has been cancelled.

On Tuesday evening the United Church Women's Organization for Marquette and Baltic Unit met at the home of Mr. Bruce Crozier with the president, Mrs. Kenneth Owen, presiding. The devotional period was conducted by Mrs. Owen. Next meeting to be at the home of Mrs. Bruce Riley with Mrs. Muriel Bryenton to have devotions and Mrs. Bruce Crozier to have charge of program. Following the meeting delicious lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. K. Owen.

On Tuesday evening the United Church Women's Organization for Marquette and Baltic Unit met at the home of Mr. Bruce Crozier with the president, Mrs. Kenneth Owen, presiding. The devotional period was conducted by Mrs. Owen. Next meeting to be at the home of Mrs. Bruce Riley with Mrs. Muriel Bryenton to have devotions and Mrs. Bruce Crozier to have charge of program. Following the meeting delicious lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. K. Owen.

Mix-Match Trio

PRINTED PATTERN

keep us out of premature involvements.

I gather you know something about psychology and I wish you would discuss this, as a possible help to some of our parents. I think you are sincerely interested in people and I have the highest esteem for your answers. Thank you, C.C.

Dear C.C.: In Mary's Ann's case, maybe her parents are wise in letting well enough alone. Maybe they're relieved and thankful to have her married and done with the risks of going steady—that bring so many girls to grief.

I agree with you that it seems to be a course of least resistance on the parents' part. But the parents' passivity probably signifies that they haven't the perspective, know-how and sense of direction to be successful family leaders.

They can't be explicit, authoritative, compelling, in bringing up children in the way they should do, for the basic reason that the parents, themselves, are victims of confusion. In the old-style phrase: "They don't know what it's all about."

To a large extent, both the parents and grandparents of the present crop of teenagers have lost their bearings, morally. They have no deep convictions about what to stand for, or stand against.

In this revolutionary (and evolutionary) 20th century—appraised by some scholars as the beginning of the post-Christian era—masses of people have drifted away, over the last 60 years, from traditional guideposts of right and wrong, good and bad, in the domain of private conduct. And in so doing, so doubt they

Baptist WMS Elects Officers In Summerside

SUMMERSIDE — The January meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the Summerside Baptist Church was held Monday evening in the church parlor. The vice-president, Mrs. J. F. MacNeill, opened with the repeating of a hymn in unison, after which Mrs. Alex MacDonald led the devotions, offering prayer and reading a New Year's poem. The 23rd Psalm was repeated in unison, after which an inspirational New Year meditation was presented and concluded with a prayer circle.

Mrs. MacNeill presented the Mission Study, stressing the need of more missionaries, especially nurses. She was assisted by Mrs. Robert Palmer, Mrs. C. B. Jelly, Mrs. W. G. Ellis, Mrs. Arthur Dunn and Mrs. L. Beck. As this is Bible year, Mrs. MacNeill gave many interesting facts about the work.

The following slate of officers was appointed for the ensuing year: president, Mrs. Alex MacDonald; vice-president, Mrs. Robert Palmer; secretary, Mrs. C. B. Jelly; treasurer, Mrs. W. G. Ellis. Mrs. MacNeill was hostess after the conclusion of the meeting.

Central Lot 16 WI Group Plans Programs

CENTRAL LOT 16—The January meeting of the Central Lot 16 Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Wilfred Lyle, which opened with a poem read by Mrs. Robert Betton.

Twelve members answered the roll by naming their first school teacher.

Some time was spent in arranging the programs for the next six months and Mrs. Frowse Yeo conducted several contests.

Mrs. Wilfred Lyle gave a report of treats sent in the shuttles at Christmas and a letter was received acknowledging gifts sent to the Prince County Hospital Annex.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. C. A. McFadden. Lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Frowse Yeo and Mrs. Larry Yeo.

have assumed they were making progress; or, at any rate, escaping the mold of the past. What was their goal? Well, "freedom," possibly; or "the more abundant life" of unfettered experience. So far as I can make out, this is the gist of the latter year existentialist and a beatnik philosophies—as well as the "free love" philosophy of the 1920s.

But the durable rule for the good life is unchanging. It has to do with faithful self-discipline and self-denial, as spelled out in the Ten Commandments and again in the Sermon on the Mount. Maybe humanity refuses the assignment; maybe it simply won't take the teaching to heart. In which case, maybe the world is heading into another Dark Ages, as some scholars prognosticate.

The question remains: How to transform mixed-up parents into wise leaders? The best answer I can give is—through the daily practice of family prayer. Now, who has the courage to lead the way, in overcoming embarrassed resistance to the idea?

M.H. Mary Haworth counseled through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write her in care of this newspaper.

Mix-Match Trio

PRINTED PATTERN

keep us out of premature involvements.

I gather you know something about psychology and I wish you would discuss this, as a possible help to some of our parents. I think you are sincerely interested in people and I have the highest esteem for your answers. Thank you, C.C.

Dear C.C.: In Mary's Ann's case, maybe her parents are wise in letting well enough alone. Maybe they're relieved and thankful to have her married and done with the risks of going steady—that bring so many girls to grief.

I agree with you that it seems to be a course of least resistance on the parents' part. But the parents' passivity probably signifies that they haven't the perspective, know-how and sense of direction to be successful family leaders.

They can't be explicit, authoritative, compelling, in bringing up children in the way they should do, for the basic reason that the parents, themselves, are victims of confusion. In the old-style phrase: "They don't know what it's all about."

To a large extent, both the parents and grandparents of the present crop of teenagers have lost their bearings, morally. They have no deep convictions about what to stand for, or stand against.

In this revolutionary (and evolutionary) 20th century—appraised by some scholars as the beginning of the post-Christian era—masses of people have drifted away, over the last 60 years, from traditional guideposts of right and wrong, good and bad, in the domain of private conduct. And in so doing, so doubt they

MR. AND MRS. VERNON ALEXANDER HOWATT

Moncton Nuptial Ceremony Is Of Interest To P.E.I. Friends

The marriage of Catherine Hayes Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell H. Miller, 165 Portledge Avenue, Moncton, and Vernon Alexander Howatt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon T. Howatt, 36 Waltheim Drive, Charlottetown, P. E. I., took place recently in St. John's United Church, Moncton, with Rev. F. E. Archibald officiating.

Mrs. Donald A. Steeves played the nuptial music and accompanied the guest soloist Mrs. Earl A. Fraser, who sang the selections, O Perfect Love and The Lord's Prayer.

The bride and groom spent a honeymoon in New York and eastern United States. They are residing at 623 High Street, Moncton. The groom is employed with Plant Adjustment Bureau.

The bride a graduate of Edgemoor, N.S., is employed with the Bank of Nova Scotia.

Friends and relatives were present at the wedding from Amherst, Halifax, Sydney and Yarmouth. N. S., Charlottetown and Summerside, P.E.I., and Montreal.

ELLEN'S DIARY

Days, Weeks Go Quickly For Family At Alderlea

"The End" Saturday will write presently to the tale of this January week. It has been a nice week weather-wise, the days pleasantly sunlit or quietly silver-gray. The sunlight loved its pretty patterns of shadows on the white of the winter-snow and for folks to wish upon past dusk was the crescent moon.

"Give us" we said "the familiar round to follow, the paths we best know." And many a loveliness was added unto us, many another favor of sight and sound given.

And the days passed quickly. They were, it came to mind like the elfin rustles of summer which comes and goes in the poplar by the gateway through no breath of wind is moving; or the arched rainbow, that even while we watch it against a far sky dissolves and is lost in the sunshine.

"I never" James himself said this evening "saw days go faster than these."

The farming keeps the men busy and the planning of its economy. This week piglets went to market to help maintain it and one to aid in its future, cute and red in color and a favorite of Alex's was kept from that litter to add to the number of sows of the farm. A herdshire was brought in in a necessary purchase—and younglings of beef are being fattened against a spring sale.

There was talk of "Another half-day's cutting" in the woodlot and on a recent day yesterday it was, the saw set in place for the wood-sawing ahead. Each day there were haulings by tractor along the fields or by road: grain and hay for the mangers, brought in from this or that other barn, straw for the bedding. And always the morning-loads of manure go out, or maybe this is continued later in the day, to be the main fertilizer upon which the crops depend.

For Mack this has proved to be a day for skating and hockey beyond, and afternoon privileged him to be a member of this and that young team, a happening which made his grandfather wonder if perhaps his livestock would in this absence from the farm pick up a telltale "streak of lean" in their makeup!

So on this farm that is Alderlea the days and weeks pass quickly, bearing us ever on a

WOMEN'S ORGANIZATIONS

Alice Turner Auxiliary Joins New UCW Group

O'LEARY — The first meeting of the Alice Turner Auxiliary of the United Church Women was held Monday evening at the home of Mr. Randal Boates with the president, Mrs. Raeford MacLean in the chair. The meeting opened with the study "Church Community," presented by Mrs. Randal Boates and Mrs. Douglas Adams. The worship theme "The Day of Beginning Again" was led by Mrs. George Benard.

The officers of the Auxiliary for the coming year dedicated themselves as Mrs. Alice Turner conducted the installation service.

Roll call was answered by 15 members and four visitors. A warm welcome was extended to the new members by the president. Correspondence consisted of a note of appreciation from Mrs. George Matheson for a treat at Christmas time.

Officers for 1962 are as follows: honorary president, Mrs. Alice Turner; president, Mrs. Edsel Dumville; vice-president, Miss Marion Pate; secretary, Mrs. Wynford Bridges; treasurer and finance, Miss Karol Bernard; manse, Mrs. Thina Ellis; nominating committee, Mrs. Randal Boates; program committee, Miss Marcia Pate; membership, community, friendship and visiting, Mrs. Alvin Yeo. flowers and social functions, Mrs. Douglas Adams; periodicals, press and publicity, Mrs. Donald Matheson; supply, social assistance, Christian citizenship and social action, Mrs. James Bagloe.

The treasurer gave her report, which showed a sum of $22.10 realized from a card party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Lawless.

Correspondence consisted of a number of thank you cards, letters from provincial conveners, and provincial president, March of Dimes. Our Lady's Missionaries. The members voted to send contributions to Our Lady's Missionaries and to the March of Dimes.

Several members brought sweaters which they had knit for the Red Cross. The various committees gave their reports. The members voted to send for the long playing record on the Pope's Encyclicals. It is planned to have this record played at future meetings and have a discussion on same. They also decided that each would make a homemade article for a bazaar to be held in the near future.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Peter Nelson and an enjoyable social hour followed.

WESTMORELAND W. I. Mrs. Wrexton Moore entertained the members of Westmoreland Women's Institute for the January meeting. Five members answered roll call.

Reports of committees were heard and new ones appointed as follows: sick, Annie Leard and Hattie Trowsdale; school, Kaie Atkins; educational, Kaie Atkins and Mrs. S. Moore; lunch, Blanche MacKenzie, Kaie Atkins and Berdina Canfield.

It was voted to get articles required for school. Spoons were bought and presented two new babies in the district.

A flowering plant was presented to Mrs. Crossman at Christmas. Mrs. Edna Mayhew invited members for the February meeting.

Lunch was served by hostess and committee in charge and a game of Bingo enjoyed.

IDA BAILEY ALLEN

Primitive Cooking Method Said Delicious With Lamb

THE HORN OF PLENTY The Shishabob is an adaptation of one of the most primitive methods of cooking. The pieces of meat were threaded on swords and then cooked over open fires. And, according to its Near Eastern heritage, Shishabob is always made with lamb.

Lamb is hearty and substantial, delicious and different, with a delicate flavour all its own, and greater eating enjoyment and greater eating enjoyment is to select a well-known packer's brand. Martha Logan, famous home economist, suggests cutting meaty chunks for Shishabob from the leg of lamb or shoulder. One and a half to 2 inch cubes cut from the leg are ideal for kabobs. The wise homemaker might also plan on 2 meals from the whole leg, cutting cubes from the shank end and roasting the butt end.

To allow full penetration of the piquant marinade the cubes of lamb are refrigerated in the vinegar sauce overnight. Before threading the meat the skewers can be run through a piece of sut for easy removal of the meat after cooking. The skewers are threaded with the cubes of lamb allowing space between the cubes for thorough cooking. As the cubes are broiled more of the piquant sauce is brushed over the meat. The vegetables go on the ends of the skewers for a final few minutes of broiling. And, there you have it, a meal on a skewer.

MENU Cream of Mushroom Soup Lamb En Brochette Garden Salad Salt Sticks Butter or Margarine Cookies

H. BENNETT CARR Insurance Counselling Dist. Supr. Sun Life of Canada Phone 48317 - 44455 Charlottetown, P.E.I.

MUSIC FESTIVAL SYLLABUS NOW READY

Classes for Church Choirs, Women's Institute, C.G.I.T. groups, etc. Also, vocal and instrumental selections for all ages, Rhythm bands, Solo and Choral reading.

Get your Syllabus NOW and plan for the Spring Festival!

(This ad kindly sponsored by Douglas Bros. & Jones)

RICHMOND

Presbyterian Women's Guild Holds Meeting

KENSINGTON — The regular meeting of the Kensington Presbyterian Young Women's Guild was held at the home of Mrs. Charles Bearsto. Based on Miss Misoqs, the meeting opened with the Lord's Prayer followed by scripture, read by Mrs. Ellsworth Mann. Mrs. Charles Bearsto gave a missionary reading and led in prayer.

A coffee maker which had been purchased, was displayed to the group Mrs. Keith Thompson, on behalf of C.O.C. and Explorers groups, thanked the Guild for a donation.

The next meeting will be the annual meeting when the nominating committee will bring in a new slate of officers.

Program consisted of a contest by Mrs. Ellsworth Mann and Mrs. James Clark.

Lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Nevein MacArthur.

salt, pepper, Worcestershire sauce, onion, bay leaf, and cloves. Pour the marinade over cubes of lamb. Chill for at least 6 to 8 hours or overnight in the refrigerator. Remove lamb cubes from the marinade. Thread cubes onto skewers. Lay a vineg on top for thorough cooking. The vegetables will be placed on the ends of the skewer later. Drop green pepper squares into boiling water for 2 minutes. Place skewers on a broiler pan 3 inches from the heat source. Broil 10 to 12 minutes, turning once. Thread the vegetables on the same skewers, alternating the mushrooms tomatoes and green peppers. Broil 2 to 3 minutes.

ORANGE BARBECUE LAMB SANDWICHES (Yield: 3 1/2 cups sauce) Sliced hot lamb roast 1/2 cup brown sugar 1/2 teaspoon mint leaves 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard 1 tablespoon grated orange rind

HOUSEHOLD HINT

A ragged yellow flame in a gas burner means the burner is not getting enough air with the gas. This type flame blackens cooking utensils and gives poor heat.

To remedy the situation, try cleaning all the ports with wire; also check the air shutter at the turn-on end to see if it is open enough.

1 1/2 cups catsup 1 cup water 1/2 cup orange juice 2-3 cup chopped onion Sandwich buns. Combine all ingredients in a saucepan. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat. Simmer, uncovered about 30 minutes. Spoon sauce over sliced lamb between sandwich buns.

FAST DAILY SERVICE Mail your Black & White also Colour Film to GARNHUM Photo Studio, P.O. Box 222, Charlottetown

SATURDAY MORNING CLEARANCE

BLOUSES $1.00 EACH NIGHTIES PYJAMAS SLIPS SWEATERS ea. 2.99 DUSTERS ea. 1.99

MATERNITY DRESSES — 1/3 OFF OPEN ALL DAY SATURDAY THE FASHION SHOPPE

island furriers' ltd. January SPORTSWEAR SALE starts Monday morning at 9 o'clock. One group—shags, wools, bulkies, angolan SWEATERS 1/2 price

Another group—Wools, bulkies, shags, etc. SWEATERS reg. 7.95 to 16.95 40% off

1 Rack SKIRTS: straight 1/2 price SKIRTS: tartan pleated

1 rack—reg. 14.95—24.95 SKIRTS: tartan pleated 33 1/3 off SKIRTS: straight styles shags

1 rack—reg. 14.45—24.95 Slacks: plains checks Save $6 to $8

Save up to 50% during this sale

all sales final island furriers ltd.

79 Grafton St. Dial 2-1273