

MAY 10, 1895.

AN OPPORTUNITY.

There is in the election for the Third District of Prince a splendid opportunity offered our western temperance friends and all those who are just now exercising Premier Peters, on account of his many reckless measures, to demonstrate their good faith and make their work square with their words.

DISHONEST AND INSINCERE.

The consistency of the Opposition is remarkable. Clamoring for economy in the public service and denouncing the Finance Minister because the decreases in the estimates are not more radical and far-reaching, they are not ready to make all the little petty capital they can by stirring up discontent in the officials whose salaries are necessarily reduced or not continued.

—Says the Chicago Times-Herald: The real substance and interesting question of the hour in this town is not silver nor gold, nor the Monroe doctrine, nor the tariff, nor the latest theology, nor the opinion of Heber Newton, but street cleaning. Spring, such as it is, with all its attendant duties, is upon us, and as all good citizens are intent on the extermination of dirt, we should the municipal authorities be intent on the removal of dirt.

—Professor Saunders, director of the Central Experimental Farm, gave an interesting account a few days ago of the work done at the experimental farms since the establishment of the farms in 1885. The work of distributing samples has greatly increased, showing that the farmers throughout the country appreciate the work done at the farms.

—The Ottawa Journal presents a carefully prepared digest of the budget speech and remarks:

—There is no cause for alarm, little for dissatisfaction. The deficit this year is large. But this is not a new thing. In the recent history of the business world. The national debt is large. There are good reasons for that in the public works of the Dominion. On the other hand, the taxation of the people has decreased markedly in recent years, our national credit is high, and best of all, there is visible, almost for the first time since the commencement of the Canadian Pacific Railway a genuine determination on the part of the national administration to keep Canada's expenditure really within her income.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

—Things under the care of the Provincial Government are getting to be very rotten—if we may judge by the story of the escape from jail this morning.

—A large increase of the earnings of the Toronto Street Railway moves the Toronto Globe to admit that "it is very large increase in traffic in face of the greatly increased use of the bicycle is regarded as evidence of trade improvement in the city."

—Sir Richard Cartwright complains that the managers of the sugar factories were warned in advance of the advance of duty, the Montreal correspondent of the Globe complains that they were taken by surprise. In any case the Government is very bad.

—Now that the Dominion Inspectors of steamboats are here on a tour of inspection, would it not be advisable to have them examine the boats belonging to the Lesser West Coast? The examination would not cost the Government anything. The travelling public would be better satisfied if they knew that the law was being fully complied with even to the lighting of the wharves.

—Montreal Gazette: Sir Richard Cartwright yesterday accused the Conservatives of going back to the days of Edward IV. for a precedent for their fiscal policy.

—Says the Chicago Times-Herald: The real substance and interesting question of the hour in this town is not silver nor gold, nor the Monroe doctrine, nor the tariff, nor the latest theology, nor the opinion of Heber Newton, but street cleaning.

NEWS NOTES.

—The Journal of Commerce estimates the fire loss for the United States and Canada during April at $1,018,150.

—The Spanish Government has decided to establish an arsenal, lock yard and armaments factory at Manila, capital of the Philippine Islands, and to erect elaborate fortifications.

—Cayaco, a small island in the West Indies, is inhabited exclusively by turtles. Several vast quantities have been made to establish human habitations there.

—Advices from Algiers announce that Sir Frederick Leighton, president of the Royal Academy, who has been ill for some time past, is now in such a condition that the hopes of his recovery have been abandoned.

—Emperor William's army now numbers a coal black negro among its commissioned officers. He has received the appointment of Major in the 3rd Regiment of Grenadier Guards of Potsdam, with the rank of lieutenant.

—Miss Braden (Mrs Maxwell), the novelist, will write no more novels after her present contract expires, in which she is engaged to finish her fifth book. Her first successful work, "Lady Audley's Secret," was published in 1862.

—A sort of prehistoric Venice is found to have existed in the Glastonbury marshes, England. The Manchester Geographic Society is making an investigation of the locality. Earthware found shows the inhabitants to have lived long prior to the Roman invasion.

—Mr Gladstone has written a letter to the Anglo-Armenian Association, in which he says: "Apart from local facts, of which I will not speak, the conduct of the Sultan and the Porte in connection with this question has been, to my mind, worse than their conduct in regard to Bulgaria in 1878."

—Gypsies in France have hitherto managed to avoid being numbered and traced. They roam through the country in bands, and as long as they did no serious harm they were left alone by the police. The gendarmes have orders to take a census of these nomads and to see that those who are not French are registered like other foreigners.

—There was a row recently in the German Imperial nursery, Friedland, Wilhelm insisting on flogging his brothers because he was crown prince. In the middle of it Kaiser Wilhelm appeared, and, picking up his successor, remarked: "Now that you have shown your brothers and the Kaiser, I will show you who is Emperor." He used a birch rod.

—The French President, M. Felix Faure, who is unostentatious and modest, will not be pleased with the regulations and ceremonies recently established by the Minister of Public Works concerning the forms to be observed by the railroad employees at the passing of a presidential train. They must abstain from crying out as usual the names of the stations; the service must be performed with an absolute silence, and orders are to be given only by whistling. The employees of all grades, when the presidential train is in sight and on its passing along the track, or by the stations, must uncover and remain bareheaded during the train's stop.

—Reports from eastern Texas tell of a regular waterpout which fell on the 7th inst. A report from Nacooches states that miles of fences were washed away, every bridge on Bonita Bayou was carried away, and a mile of railroad track on the East and West Texas line was washed out. Several citizens were compelled to climb trees by the fast rising water and were rescued with difficulty. The water being impassable, the country cannot be heard from. A Bee Hive despatch says that section of the country is flooded and travel is temporarily impeded.

—Those who can recall the strenuous action of Lord Selborne as a member of the established church will not be surprised to learn that one of the last letters that he wrote was a reply to the Vicar of Swansea, who had consulted him as to the desirability of his being a member of the church. His reply was: "I was the duty of a church to bear witness to the truth and to carry the Gospel message of faith and peace and good will to all sorts and conditions of men wherever they are found. I am firmly persuaded that the Church of England, as now constituted, was in a far more favorable position for the performance of that duty than any other church or denomination established branch of the Anglican communion in Scotland, Ireland, the colonies or the United States of America."

SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO THE EXAMINER.

PARLIAMENT OF CANADA.

A Dispute Over the Manitoba School Question.

Sir Richard is Looking to the Future.

OTTAWA, May 10. In the House of Commons, yesterday, McCarthy criticized the conduct of Lieutenant Governor Schultz and the Dominion Government in making public an opinion that Schultz had obtained from Dr. Bourmont on the Manitoba School Question, to which Mr. Foster replied very effectively. The Finance Minister took McCarthy sharply to task for presenting a case that was all hypotheses, all innuendo and insinuations.

Mr. Mills, of Bothwell, followed and took sides with McCarthy. Hon. Mr. Dickey emphasized the fact that McCarthy and Mills would deprive the Lieutenant Governor of the right to consult high constitutional authorities.

Joseph Martin seized the opportunity to make a fierce onslaught on Governor Schultz, and became so violent as to call for a pointed rebuke from the Speaker. When Hon. Mr. Daly rose in his place and denied the truth of one of his charges, Mr. Martin excitedly replied, "I don't care whether it is true or not." In the course of his remarks he said he would take McCarthy's opinion on constitutional questions longer before that of Dr. Bourmont, and asked Mr. Foster if the Manitoba school question was not a party question. To this, Hon. Mr. Foster raised a storm of Conservative cheers by asking, "If it is, on which side is my hon. friend and his party?"

The Public Accounts Committee had a stormy session yesterday. Messrs. McMillen, Lister, Davies, Mulock and other grays grew so outrageous in their attacks on the travelling expenses of Ministers that Sir Richard Cartwright had to call them down. He said, in his most pointed manner, that he did not believe in Cabinet Ministers travelling in such cheap style as to discredit the country.

At the annual meeting of the Dominion Artillery Association, the Governor General said that he would increase his prizes by $50.

The election of officers was as follows: President, Col. Prior, Vice Presidents, Col. Turnbull, Col. Moore, P. E. Island, Col. Call, Newcastle, Col. Lidzay, Quebec.

Premature Loss of Hair is almost invariably due to want of circulation of blood in the scalp. Formation of Dandruff is the result of the same deficiency of nourishment. Once the roots of the hair are destroyed nothing in existence can produce a growth of hair; but while the roots remain, even during apparent baldness, proper stimulant and nourishment will promote the growth of hair. These properties are found in which will always, if well rubbed into the scalp, PREVENT FALLING OF THE HAIR, REMOVE DANDRUFF, AND PRODUCE A LUXURANT GROWTH OF HAIR except when the roots are dead. It is a safe, clean, elegant preparation, and as a HAIR DRESSING has no equal. Ladies will find the wash a great auxiliary to the toilet, both on account of its delicate and agreeable perfume and its KEEPING THE HAIR IN CURL. Price 25 cents per bottle. Prepared at
