Cantwell's Pharmacy Entered Fourth Time Within Year

Thieves broke into Cantwell's Pharmacy on Grafton Street early Sunday morning and made off with a large quantity of cigarettes and a sum of money. This was the fourth time in recent months that local hoodlums picked this downtown drugstore as their target for the night. Entrance was effected by breaking the heavy plate glass in the pharmacy's front door. Mr. Cantwell said last night that the night watchman had checked the shop door at approximately 3:30 a. m. and the police about one half hour later. At press time police stated that no arrests had been made in connection with this robbery, but it is understood that they are on the watch for some one with suffering a recent wound possibly to one or both hands. Spilled blood was quite evident in the vicinity of the wrecked doorway, Mr. Cantwell noted. The break was discovered shortly after seven Monday morning by Wes Storey, whose electrical shop is located next door to the plundered pharmacy.

264 Enumerators Prepare To Begin Work Within Days

With 207 of the 243 polling divisions of this Province being rural the required pre-election enumeration of voters in winter would appear to present a stiff problem. But despite snow, sleet, storm, or blocked highways, the 264 provincial enumerators will have to complete this task between February 10 and February 15.

WORK BEGINS
Gilbert Gaudet, Q.C., returning officer for Queens was busy yesterday preparing material which will be sent to 130 enumerators in the constituency. Seventy-six of these will work in rural polls and 54 will work in the 27 urban polling divisions. William L. Deane, of Kensington, returning officer for Prince has 64 rural polling divisions and nine urban. A total of 80 enumerators will work in this area. Returning officer Howlan Mullally of Souris River will have the task of registering the voters of Kings County. To do this work he will have the services of 54 enumerators working in 54 rural polls. Across Canada, some 58,000 will be engaged in the task.

Death Monday Of Miss L. Earle

The death of Miss Lillian S. Earle of 18 West Street occurred in the P. E. Island Hospital on Monday, Feb. 3rd, after a lengthy illness. Miss Earle was a well known figure in musical circles in the city for many years where her services as a pianist added materially to the enjoyment of musical events. Miss Earle was the youngest daughter of the late Professor and Mrs. S. N. Earle and followed her father as organist at St. Paul's Anglican Church on his retirement. This position she capably filled for several years until forced to resign as a result of ill health.

Music Festival Aids The Dance

"Dancing to a musical beat is as old as the human race and children are naturally rhythmic in their tender years claims Mrs. Gordon MacMillan convener of the dance committee P.E.I. Musical Festival Association. "Dancing gives them poise and grace in their bearing which will stand them in good stead in maturity. "There are many classes for children in the Music Festival and this year there is a class for beginners. You will enjoy seeing these children in their colorful costumes performing at the festival and you will be assisting all those who are workers in this Festival by your attendance. "The need of expression together with the common instincts of rhythm and of religion is the basis of the dance. Folk dances of all nations are a communal expression, a devout togetherness in veneration for their peasant earth. "Dancing is a thing of the spirit and this year you will see children and older folk with music in their feet at our Music Festival."

"Y" Group Starts Winter Program

A large and enthusiastic group of young people turned up for the opening meeting of the winter session of the So-Ed Group of the Charlottetown Y.M.C.A. last week. There were more than sixty in the group which offers its services to those in the age bracket 18 to 35.

David Scales extended a welcome to the group and gave an outline of the program which has been prepared for the coming ten weeks.

Personal benefits to be derived from the group activities and the opportunity to help others at the same time, were described by George Anderson, Eastern Canada's representative on the National Council.

On the first night as the activities got underway, ball-room dancing seemed to have a special appeal to the young people and Dr. George Fisher was present to advise and give instruction to those who felt the need of such in this important recreational and social diversion.

Dr. Fisher and others will give instruction in this art throughout the sessions. Recordings were used at this session but a "live" band will be on hand at subsequent meetings. The next meeting of the group is on Wednesday of this week and will continue on succeeding Wednesday until April 2nd.

Talks on subjects of importance to young people, various physical recreations and handicraft are some of the things to be featured in this series of get-togethers.

There is still opportunity to register and any young person interested may phone or call at the
