Drobny Eliminated In 1st Round Of Wimbledon Play

WIMBLEDON, England (CP)—One of the biggest opening-day upsets in the history of the Wimbledon tennis championships gave an unexpected element of excitement Monday to a long day of eliminations under a boiling sun. Ramanathan Krishnan, a 19-year-old Indian economics student who decided at the last minute to play, eliminated fifth-seeded Jaroslav Drobny, the 1954 winner, 6-1, 4-6, 6-1, 6-4. The defeat of the popular Czechoslovakian veteran, now a citizen of Egypt, was the lone reversal of form.

Two of Canada's three-man contingent were knocked out of the competition. Don Fontana of Toronto forced top-seeded Lew Hoard of Australia to 9-7 in their first set, but the Aussie quickly ran out the second and third, 6-2, 6-0. Paul Willey of Vancouver was vanquished by Bobby Wilson of Britain, 6-1, 6-1.

The only Canadian winner was Larry Barclay of Montreal and Vancouver. He defeated M. Belkholha of France 6-1, 7-5, 1-5, 6-3. Hoard of Australia's one-two punch and seeded No. 2 behind Hoard, dropped a set to John Barrett of Britain before sewing up the match. The scores were 6-2, 6-1, 2-6, 6-1.

After the self-exiled Czech began the second set, the crowd began cheering for a comeback. But Drobny lost his first two services of the third set to trail 0-4. Krishnan, attacking Drobny's weakened service, refused to give the veteran an opening after that.

Vic Seixas of the U.S., the 1953 champion stung by lowly No. 8 seeding, toyed with Malcolm Fox of Baltimore 6-1, 6-2, 6-3, seldom having to go to the net where he is deadliest.

Seven Americans were beaten three of them by fellow countrymen.

Advancing with Seixas was a quiet of old campaigners—Budgie Patty and Hugh Stewart of Los Angeles, Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., and Herbie Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif.; young Davis Cup hopefuls Sam Giammalva of Houston, Barry McKay of Dayton, Ohio, Allen Morris of Atlanta and Gil Shea of Los Angeles, and outsiders Pablo Eisenberg of Millburn, N.J., Bob Perry of Los Angeles, John Pleitz of Long Beach, Calif., and Joseph Blatchford of Los Angeles.

MIXED SIGNALS

It appears as if the ball is hitting Chicago White Sox catcher Sherm Lollar on the head as he and first baseman Dave Philley vs for Bill Skowron's foul pop in the third inning at Yankee Stadium, New York. Philley was charged with an error for letting the ball drop. Chicago won the game 7 to 5.

Gerry Kesselring Winner Of Ontario Open Golf Ch'ship

BRANTFORD, Ont. (CP)—Gerry Kesselring of Toronto won the 33rd annual Ontario Open golf championship Saturday with a nine-under-par 207 for the 54-hole tournament.

It was the third time he had won the Open. His two previous victories were as an amateur.

Kesselring fired sub-par rounds of 68, 70 and 69 for the 207 total at the Brantford Golf and Country Club. He won the first prize of $1,000, the Dow-Kingsbeer Trophy.

Runner-up was Jerry Magee, last year's Ontario amateur champ, with 209. He carded a pair of 70s and a 69.

AMERICANS FALL BACK

Two American amateurs who were hot for the first round, came next. Jack Penrose, 42-year-old golfer from Miami, Fla., and Doug Sanders of Cedartown, Ga., posted scores of 210 and 211.

Kesselring managed to nip Penrose's bid to win the title when the latter went one over par on the last 18 holes. Penrose posted scores of 67, 70 and 73 while Sanders shot a sizzling 67 on the first round and blew to a 75 on the second. He steadied down to a 69 on the final round.

Rudy Horvath of Windsor Essex was next with a card of 212. Moe Norman of Kitchener Rockway posted a trio of 71s for 213.

There were 17 amateurs competing for spots on the four-man Ontario Willingdon Cup team. The four low amateur golfers,

Works Magic With Putter

By KEN METHERAL
 Canadian Press Staff Writer
 VIRGINIA WATER, Surrey, England (CP)—Stan Leonard, 41-year-old veteran from Vancouver and Lachute, Que., worked magic with his putter Monday to shoot a four-under-par 67 and take the individual lead at the half-way mark of the 72-hole Canada Cup international golf competition.

Leonard, who fired a 68 in Sunday's opening round, had a total of 135, one stroke ahead of Ben Hogan of the United States who shot a 69 Monday to go with Sunday's 68.

Leonard's fine play paced the two-man Canadian team to a three-stroke lead over the United States in the team section of the tournament.

His partner, Al Balding, 32, of Toronto had a 72 Monday after Sunday's 65, giving Canada 28 for the first 36 holes.

Sam Snead, after an opening 72, faded to a 76 Monday and the U.S. total was 286.

FINAL ROUNDS TODAY

The final 36 holes will be played in two sections today with the individual and team winners based on the same play. The top 20 of 29 teams will participate in the final rounds.

Leonard, who sharpened his golf on the U.S. pro circuit this season along with Balding and Quebec course, fired rounds of 71 and 75 Saturday to win the Duke of Kent Amateur golf tournament.

Chouinard's 146 score for 36 holes was two over par but was still one better than Bob Spence of Kanawaki, Que., and Mike Darling of the Whittlock Club, Montreal, who tied for second place with 147.

partment of play which let Hogan down.
 The little Canadian sank puts of five, 20, 15 and 19 feet for his birdies. He was in trouble only once when he caught a bunker on the 13th and had to take a five.

PLAYS WITH BRUISED HAND

Leonard was playing despite the effects of an accident to his right hand before the opening of the competition. Someone closed a car door on the hand and bruised it. But the injury had no apparent ill-effect on his play.

He shot the first nine holes of course in 33, to under par, getting birdie threes on the third and sixth hole and going one over par with a five on the ninth. He was also two under par on the back nine with a 34, going over par on the 13th with a five and then suddenly getting hot with three birdies in a row on the 16th, 17th and 18th where he took a three and two fours.

Chouinard Cops Golf Championship

QUEBEC (CP)—Fred Chouinard, playing on his home Royal Quebec course, fired rounds of 71 and 75 Saturday to win the Duke of Kent Amateur golf tournament.

Balding, who became the first Canadian to win a major U.S. pro tournament when he captured the $15,000 Mayfair Open in Florida in December, was one under par after eight holes but took a big seven on the par-four ninth. He birdied the 12th, was one over par with five on the 12th and 15th, then shot birdies on the 16th and 18th.

Jaycees Endorse Organized Swim

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE, Ont. (CP)—The chamber of commerce has announced it will endorse an organized swim across Lake Ontario this summer.

The chamber said it plans to award trophies for the swim and other organizations have indicated they will put up some of the prize money.

Brenda Fisher of England and Florence Chadwick of San Diego, Calif., already have said they will swim again this year, and another of last year's swimmers, 60-year-old Fernley Wheatcroft of Kingston, began training in the lake two months ago.

Refreshing—but not filling

Wonderful what the modern trend—the trend to lighter, less filling food and drink—has done for people's looks, as well as for their health!

It's this up-to-date taste in diet that makes today's men so lean and trim, keeps women so lovely and slender.

Pepsi-Cola keeps pace with this wholesome trend. Today's Pepsi-Cola is never heavy, never too sweet. It refreshes without filling.

Have a Pepsi—the modern, the light refreshment.
