The French took part in the affair with admirable bravery. On the next day this position was attacked by 8,000 Russians, as well from Sebastopol side as that of Balaklava; they were repulsed with great slaughter. The loss of the Russians must have been great.

It is affirmed that the fire of the batteries of the town had much slackened, and according to the reports of the wounded officers who had arrived at Bayukdere, the belief was still firmly entertained that Sebastopol would soon be in the hands of the Allies. Among the names of killed and wounded we find no general officers.

STRATFORD DE REDCLIFFE.

Lord Dunkellin is promoted to Captain and Lieutenant Colonel. Up to the 25th October, the siege and bombardment of Sebastopol continued with regularity and success, and the loss of life in the town of Sebastopol was so great that the air was said to be tainted by the number of unburied and putrifying dead.

Admiral Nachimoff had been killed by a shell.

The loss of the allies is comparatively small, and Lord Raglan is understood to be favourable to a prolonged bombardment in preferance to an immediate assault.

The London Times states that arrangements have now been made and will speedily be in operation for securing to the French and English governments a direct communication every other day from the Crimea to Paris and London.

Reinforcements to the number of 4000 were to be sent from England within a week, (October 30th,) to make up for the casualties of the campaign; this again brings us the British contingent to the strength originally sent out, namely, 30,000 infantry, with the usual proportion of cavalry and artillery. "Without," says the London Observer, "being too much disposed to take a gloomy view of the subject, it is impossible to deny that great casualties must have taken place in an army of little more than 30,000—from war and pestilence—to require to be recruited by 4000 men, to fill up the deficiencies caused in the ranks. So it is however." The regiments lately arrived from Canada muster no more than 500 to 600 men.

Preparations are being made in England for the seige of Cronstadt, which, it is said, will be undertaken in the spring. 120 gun-boats are to be constructed, each to carry two heavy guns, and also 40 floating batteries, each carrying 70 guns. The fleet will be under the command of Sir Edward Lyons. Admiral Napier is sick.

Omar Pasha had begun to make active demonstrations against Bessarabia; but it was doubtful whether he really intended to attack Ismail, before definite news should have arrived of the fall of Sebastopol.

The advanced guard under Sadyk Pasha was about to be reinforced by ten thousand men from Kilarsh, under Achmet Pasha; and Iskander Bey had actually left Rasova when the last despatches were sent off, at the head of four thousand men, to scour the Drobudscha, which the Russians were pompously declared to have invaded.

Prince Gortschakoff was certainly alarmed by these preparations, and he had recalled from the other side of the Dniester regiments which had already crossed the river on the way to the Crimea, and ordered them to resume their former position on the Pruth and the Danube. Prince Menschikoff may therefore so long as the Turks keep the field, look in vain for any help from the so called "Army of the South."

The R. M. S. Canada arrived at Ten Thursday.

Sebastopol still holds out, but particulars as to the progress of the siege very contradictory. The substance is that the operations of the Allies are progressing favourably

The reported seizure of four redoubts by the Russians at Balaclava is untrue.

On the 25th ult., 20,000 Russians surprised the Turks on the French rear, and took one redoubt. The British cavalry, with the 2d French division, repulsed the enemy by a brilliant charge. Latest accounts state that the British lost 1,000 killed and 60 prisoners.

At Sebastopol, the third parallel was opened by the besiegers on the 1st inst. British accounts report the city in ruins.

The Blockade is extended to all the Russian ports in the Black Sea and Sea of Azoff.

The Turks at Kars and Russians at Tiflis have gone into winter quarters.

The Steamer Lady Le Marchant arrived yesterday evening, but without an English Mail. She brought the intelligence of its arrival in Halifax on Thursday morning, but from the bad state of the roads, it had not arrived in Pictou when she left. She started last night, and will likely return again this evening.

We give above a summary of the news by the Steamer to New York, and also a telegraphic despatch to Pictou of the latest news.

☞No Family should be without them.—We speak of M'Lane's Liver Pills, which have become an indispensable Family Medicine. The frightful symptoms which arise from a diseased Liver manifest themselves, more or less, in every family; dyspepsia, sick headache, obstruction of the menses, ague and fever, pains in the side, with dry, hacking cough, are all the results of hepatic derangement—and for these Dr. M'Lane's Pills are a sovereign remedy. They have never been known to fail, and they should be kept at all times by families.

DIRECTIONS.—Take two or three going to bed, every second or third night. If they do not purge two or three times by next morning, take one or two more. A slight breakfast should invariably follow their use.

The Liver Pill may also be used where purging is simply necessary. As an antibilious purgative, they are inferior to none. And in doses of two or three, they give astonishing relief to sick headache; also in slight derangements of the stomach.

☞ Purchasers will be careful to ask for Dr. M'Lane's Celebrated Liver Pills, and take none else. There are other Pills, purporting to be Liver Pills, now before the public. Dr. M'Lane's Liver Pills, also his celebrated Vermifuge, can now be had at all respectable Drug Sotres in the United States and Canada.

Lieutenant Governor's Office, 17th Nov., 1854.

AT A MEETING OF COUNCIL.

PRESENT:

His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor, &c. &c.

HIS Excellency, with the advice of the Board, was pleased to order, that the Collectors of Excise for the different Ports in this Island be authorised and instructed to grant Permits for landing and admitting into this Island the several articles, the growth or produce of the United States of America, mentioned in the Reciprocity Treaty signed at Washington on the fifth day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-four, between Great Britain and the United States of America, on the Importers thereof giving special Bonds with time for payment, as in other cases, conditioned for the due payment of the Customs and Excise duties legally chargeable at the time of importation on the articles so imported, in the event that the same articles, the growth and produce of this Island, shall not, at the date of the Bond, be admitted into the United States of America free of duty; and if not so admitted, then the said Bonds to be enforced.

A true Extract, which I certify.
