A Cinderella Team

We're going to nickname Jim Jenkins "Cinderella Jim" if his team beats the Coastal Movers in the best-of-five semi-final series for the Prince County championship. His team, Inman Plumbing, had a 2-17 record in the regular schedule, and now those buckaroos have shelled Pete Devana and Lou White, two of the best pitchers seen in Prince County softball competition, to come from behind and beat Enman Drug, the team that did so well in Moncton, in the best of three semi-finals two games to one. Grabowski, who pitched Inman's boys to both victories, walked nine batters in that final game, which kept him in hot water for the first four innings, but he improved as the game progressed, allowing only one hit and no runs in the last innings. He walked a run across the plate in the second frame and the management considered lifting him for a pitcher who might be more on target, but they stuck with the veteran pitcher and it paid off.

Individual Stars

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE GAME — Gord Montford galloped from deep left to shallow centre field to pull in two Texas leaguers off the bat of "Toy-Toy" Gallant. Jim Jenkins hit a home run and chased his first sacker, John Pleason's kick had almost petered out before he staggered across the plate. We don't think Pleason specializes in track but he had a tough day at it Saturday. He ran sixteen bases in the seven innings, getting to first twice on errors and three times on hits. He scored three runs and died on second twice. Doug MacDonald and Gumps Gay, Enman outfielders, made spectacular glove-hand grabs to brighten up the 14-7 encounter.

Our co-worker, George Taylor, came up within a hootenanny of a game in Thursday's play-off tussle between Legion and Pontiacs. He hit an exceptionally long ball to left field for a three-run homer, and two of his pick-ups at short and throws to first had a pro flavor. We thought we'd mention it because George could not very well go into raptures in the press about his own superior playing.

A Personal Problem?

Our athletic prowess being what it is (or was), we never got nito that kind of dilemma, but if we ever do, modesty can go take a jump in the lake. For example, if we ever hit a hole in one, we'd devote at least two columns to the feat with "last week's you-know-what" at the end of each. We'd describe our stance, how we addressed the ball, and carefully gauged the drift of the wind, and what we had for breakfast that morning. This will probably never happen, as our golf stance, grip, and drive is a bit mediocre. (Don't reach for that dictionary, John. "Mediocre" means "lousy". Well, perhaps, not exactly that, but that's close enough).

LAST WEEK'S BOUQUET

These nine are the boys who get last week's bouquet
Jim Jenkins, Gord Montford,
John Pleason, Bob Sleigh.
They're underdogs all, and it gives you a lift
To see those guys fight—John McLaren, Jack Swift.
They never say die, they are grit to the core—
Jack Grabowski, Frank Wigglesworth, MacCormack, Wayne Moore.

Toronto's George Knudson Takes Top Spot In CPGA

By W. R. WHEATLEY

HALIFAX (CP) — George Knudson of Toronto; proficient from tee to green and only average with his putting, won the 54-hole Canadian Professional Golfers Association championship Saturday with a tournament-record score of 199.

One stroke behind Alvie Thompson of Toronto starting the final round, Knudson shot a one-under-par 67 over the Ashburn course and finished two strokes ahead of Thompson and defending champion Al Balding, another Torontonian.

Jerry Magee made it an all-Toronto chase for the top money by shooting a final-round 68 for a 204 total. In fifth place was veteran Stan Leonard of Vanrouver, still plagued by erratic iron shots in his two-over-par-70 finish for 205.

It was Knudson's first CPGA win and it brought him $1,500 first-prize money along with the Seagram Gold Shield.

Thompson, 1962 winner, and Balding collected $1,050 each. Magee won $750 and Leonard $650.

EASIER COURSE

Knudson's 199 beat the 202 tournament record set by Balding last year but it was made over Ashburn's par-68 course compared with a par-70 course when Balding made his record at the Edmonton Mayfair club last year.

"I'm five under par here for the 54 holes," said Knudson, "but Al was eight under last year and his 65 in the final round here was the best I have ever seen him play."

In his first two rounds Knudson shot a pair of 66s to Thompson's 66-65.

Playing in the threesome ahead of Thompson, Knudson dropped two strokes back at the second hole with a five to Thompson's par four but caught up again at the short par-three third.

Knudson sank a 15-foot birdie putt there and Thompson, playing a poor iron shot, took a five.

Knudson went in front to stay with a par-four at the fourth where Thompson played a weak wedge shot and took five to get down.

BAD PUTTING COSTLY

From there on Thompson's poor putting proved his undoing. He three-putted four greens while Knudson went methodically ahead despite three putts on the 10th green from 40 feet.

Knudson's second shot into a trap at the second hole cost him a par but he got the stroke back at the third with his 15-foot birdie putt.

He sank a six-footer from behind the hole for a birdie at the sixth and had an easy birdie at the long fifth where he reached the green in two. He missed a three-footer at the par-three eighth and took a four.

He was over par again at the 10th, again missing a three-footer, but got down a 12-foot putt for a par at the 11th.

At the long 16th Knudson reached the green in two and two-putted for a birdie from 25 feet. He parred the 17th and 18th.

WATCHED ALVIE

"From the scoreboard I knew all the time what Alvie was doing behind me," said Knudson. "For a while I thought I might have to shoot a 66, and possibly even birdie the last two holes, to win.

"I think I played better than usual but my putting was only about average. At the same time, I think the course was at least two shots harder, compared with the earlier rounds, because of the wind.

"The par threes here are excellent holes and the par fives give chances for birdies. I gambled off the tee where I thought I should, and it paid off."

Thompson bemoaned his four three-putt greens and intimated they cost him the title.

Two of the three-putt greens came on the first nine and he made the turn in two-over-par 36. He went par along the back nine to the 14th, where he again three-putted. He tried for an eagle at the 16th with a 15-foot putt but missed and settled for a birdie four. He three-putted the 17th and dropped a 12-foot birdie putt at the home hole.

Garrett Wins Junior Ch'ship

Ron Garrett captured the Belvedere Club Junior Championship Saturday. Ron shot a 83 in the first round and carded 89 in the second round for a total of 172.

E. O'Brien was runner-up with a 179. John Arsenault finished one stroke behind O'Brien to take third place honors.

Barbi Moreside defeated Holly MacMillan in a sudden-death play off. Barbi and Holly finished the 36 holes with 215. Barbi won the championship on the first hole in play-off match to win the "girls club championship."

Alan Pickard put two 49's together to win the first junior championship. Second spot went to Tommy Irwin and third place was Alan Dowling.

Morell Tops Souris Team

Morell blasted Souris Centennials 18-0 in Kings County baseball league action yesterday.

Louis Murphy all the way for Morell, allowing one hit, one walk, struck out 19.

Maynard Pacquet, Souris pitcher, was relieved by Buss Jamieson in the eighth, came back again in the ninth. Between them, they allowed 11 hits, six walks, struck out 11.

Murphy's bid for a no-hitter was ruined by a rule-book single in the first inning.

Calvin Creamer, Souris batter, was credited with a basehit. He was interfered with by the catcher.

Murphy led his team at the plate with three hits for six. Gary MacGuire had the longest hit in the game, a triple in the seventh with two men aboard.

Attention Horsemen

Declaration will be held at the Charlotteotwn track at 10 a.m. for the following classes. invitational junior and two invitational paces, also non winners of 300 and winners of 301 — 600 and winners of 601 — 900.

Patriot Invitational Pace Leaves The Wire Tonight

Old Home Week will swing into action in Charlottetown today, and one of the main attractions of the week long festivities will be the harness racing action. There will be afternoon and evening race programs on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday with a full card leaving the wire every evening, Monday through Saturday.

The Invitational Patriot Inaugural pace will be the main event on the eight dash card set to get underway at the local raceway tonight. The curtain raiser is set to leave the wire at 8.30.

The Patriot invitational will be split up between the fourth and eighth dashes on tonight's program. The entries will be trying for a purse of $2,500 and the horses taking part in the main event will include: Dee's Boy, June Byrd, Port Wallis Boy, Huckster, Crash Dive and Edgewood Scott.

BETTING CHOICES

June Byrd owned by the Greenbrier Farms, Charlottetown and driven by James 'Roach' MacGregor along with Edgewood Scott owned by Messrs. Mayhew, Ramsey and Howatt, Kinkora loom up as big favorites with the pari-mutuel patrons at the local raceway.

The Horse and Sulky club three year old pace will be featured on the first and fifth dashes. The Island's best young horses will be leaving the wire in these dashes and they will be facing top notch competition from mainland entries. The wise ones are saying that it will be between Eloise Wick and Teppy Gallon. Teppy Gallon is owned by H. Wisener, Pictou and will have George Mauger holding the ribbons.

The Wisener owned entry has a mark of 2:10.2. Island horsemen will likely be pulling for Mystery Judy to upset the apple cart and lead the highly touted field to the wire.

The Junior free-for-all will be staged in dashes three and seven. The field will include: Merry Note, Success Do, Mary Leah, The Sheik, Rio Grande, Rysedyke, Lady Lakeburn and Cyclone Kelly. Mary Leah looks like a good bet in this dash. Merry Note is likely to offer the stiffest competition.

Dashes six and seven will have five starters. Edgewood Hal owned and driven by Don MacNeill will be tough to beat in this group. Rushaway Chief also has the ability to come up with a win.

It shapes up like a real bang up card and there are sure to eb plenty of thrills for those who turn out to witness the action.

Tosmah Captures Chicago's Matron

NEW YORK (AP)—Tosmah, three-year-old filly, won the $81,550 Matron at Chicago's Arlington Park Saturday by half a length over Old Hat.

Tosmah, owned by Briardale Farms of Estel Manor, N.J., and ridden by Sammy Boulmetis, raced the 1⅛ miles in 1:49 2-5.

Tosmah and Miss Khalwar battled for the lead from the start into the backstretch turn. Coming around the home turn, Tosmah streaked ahead by four lengths and Old Hat, never far off the pace, came up to challenge in a close finish.

The victory was worth $49,050 to the winner's owner, Anthony Imbesi.

It was the daughter of Tim Tam's sixth victory in nine starts and boosted her career winnings to $304,569. Tosmah the previous Saturday won the $100,000 - added Arlington Classic.

NUBILE THIRD

Half a length behind Old Hat in third place was Nubile. Another half-length back in fourth was Abby's Crown.

Tosmah returned $6.80, $4.60 and $3.40. Old Hat paid $4.60 and $3.60 while Nubile was $3 to show.

Miss Khalwar wound up last in the field of 10.

Nubile survived a claim of foul lodge by jockey Ron Turcotte of Grand Falls, N.B., aboard Abby's Crown. Turcotte had claimed interference at the quarter pole.

At Saratoga Springs, Miss Cavandish, the pigeon-toed $1,500 yearling bargain, came from far off the pace and won the 84th running of the $56,200 Alabama Stakes to cement her claim to the three-year-old filly championship.

The long striding daughter of Irish stallion Cavan matched the stakes record of 2:03 1-5 for the 1¼ miles in pulling away in the final sixteenth of a mile for a two-length victory over Beautiful Day.

Castle Forbes was another 1½ lengths back for third place in the field of eight.

BANKROLL NOW $265,639

For her fourth victory, all in major stakes, Miss Cavandish earned $36,530 to boost her 1964 bank account to $233,868 and her career earnings to $263,639.
