S'side Sports Complex

SUMMERSIDE TOWN council Monday night, or at least members of the council took the stand that the town was unable to contribute $4,000 for the construction of the area's sports complex, being located behind the P.C. Vocational and Athena Regional High Schools.

Athena Regional High School contributed $4,000 toward the project, matched by the provincial government Dr. Hubert MacNeill has said another $4,000 contributed by the town of Summerside would also be matched by the government. Approximately $7,000 work has been taken care of at the complex, much of it approved under the winter works program.

Dr. MacNeill first started the sports-complex-ball rolling late last summer when he proposed the project be completed under the ARDA program. It was turned down cold by ARDA. Then he turned to the provincial government and Prince County for assistance. Most of the work, we understand, has been completed, but we have been unable to find out how much of it has been paid for

The complex, which includes an approved AAU of C track and field set-up, bleachers and a large playing field, was first proposed because P.E.I. was given the Eastern Canadian Age Class track and field championships for this year, July 24-25. Oh yes, and it's also Centennial Year.

Town Needs Facilities

LET'S FORGET about the Age Class meet, which will bring to P.E.I. for the first time in history more top notch athletes than she has ever seen before. And let's forget that even in that one weekend, the town will get back most, if not all, of its $4,000—we estimate the competitors and persons who will visit Summerside because of the meet will bring more than $4,000 trade with them.

But let's think of the future of recreation in Summerside. I have heard persons associated with recreation in Prince Edward Island say time and time again that both Summerside and Charlottetown don't spend enough money on recreation; on physical fitness.

Charley Ballem, physical education instructor for Summerside High School, told me yesterday that with Queen Elizabeth Park as it was last fall, the school didn't have enough clear area to carry out a complete recreation program. There were too many students and too large a program.

There is a possibility that a new school building will be built somewhere on the park. You don't have to guess how that would affect the recreation of the town and school. It would be very unfortunate.

The town softball league has been playing on a converted girls' field because there were no other facilities. It would be advisable that they look to the sports complex for a field for future years.

The Next Move

A MEMBER of the council, D. Alex MacDonald, is reported to have said at Monday's meeting that if the town was going to spend the specified amount of money ($4,000) it should have something in writing in regards to benefits for its citizens.

One word should do the trick: RECREATION. And any conscious citizen knows Summerside, most any community in fact, needs more recreation than it is getting.

I have no idea of the financial situation of the town of Summerside. Maybe they've already spent their quota on recreation for this year. I do know they spent $1,400 to give Queen Elizabeth Park a much needed, and I'm sure appreciated face lifting.

It seems to me however, that the council is thinking in small terms to even question giving $4,000 for something that will benefit the community this year and for years to come.

It has been suggested that the council and Summerside recreation committee meet to discuss the development of the community's recreation facilities. This should be done in the near future, before any more of the cleared, centrally located park is made unavailable to the community's youth.

NOT ON THIS BALL

Perfect throw from Roger Maris gets away from New York Yankees catcher John Blanchard as Red Sox catcher Russ Nixon charges to safety of home plate. Action takes place in second inning of first game of twi-nighter in New York's Yankee Stadium yesterday. Blanchard pretends he has ball in glove but his error is obvious. Nixon scored when Red Sox second baseman James Jones singled to right: He went on to second on the error. (AP Wirephoto)

Defending N.L. Champions Stand Pat In Big Shakeup

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Either the pennant contenders were afraid to make a move or they think they can win with what they have. That is the only explanation for the scarcity of big deals before the major league's trade deadline Monday night.

There was a late flurry in the American League when the powerful Minnesota Twins acquired pitcher Jim Grant from Cleveland Indians for Lee Stange, utility infielder George Banks and cash. It was a case of trading Stange, a young pitcher of promise, for an established regular.

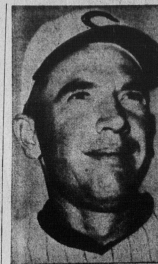
Most of the other clubs stood pat.

St. Louis Cardinals of the National League, gripped by a horrible slump, continued to make desperate moves and concluded another deal with Chicago Cubs. In order to get left-handed hitting strength for their outfield, the Cards grabbed Lou Brock, plus pitchers Jack Spring and Paul Toth for veteran pitcher Ernie Broglio, 38-year-old reliever Bobby Shantz and outfielder Doug Clemens.

But the clubs that are up in the major league pennant races and the defending champion Los Angeles Dodgers in the National League didn't make any moves. The Dodgers, still struggling, were expected to trade for a pitcher. They have won only 28 games and Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale have accounted for 16.

MOST MINOR MOVES

Except for the Cardinal-Cub swap, their second of the spring, most of the National League moves were of a minor nature. Houston bought outfielder-pinch-hitter Joe Gaines from Baltimore and sent outfielder Jim



BOB SKINNER

Wynn to the minors. Pittsburgh did a little bookeeping, restoring pitcher Don Cardwell to the active roster from the disabled list and farming out pitcher Fred Green.

The Cards picked up outfielder Bob Skinner from Cincinnati during the weekend and juggled their roster by sending Toth to the minors and bringing up relief pitcher Mike Cuellar from their Jacksonville farm. The Cubs cut outfielder Don Landrum and brought up outfielder Billy Ott from Salt Lake City.

Minnesota shipped Bill Dailey, the relief ace of last year, to the minors and brought up Bill Whitby, who had a 4-3 record at Charlotte. The Twins have started to use Jerry Kindall, acquired from Cleveland last week, as a second base replacement for slumping Bernie Allen.

Cleveland, with Billy Moran available, had no room for Banks and farmed him to Portland.

PITCHER NOT TRADED

Many baseball observers thought Los Angeles Angels would trade pitcher Ken McBride. Instead they added Vic Power and Lenny Green from Minnesota and Lou Clinton from Boston, in a deal for Lee Thomas. Power has been used at both first and third base and Green has been used as a pinch hitter.

Baltimore, in the thick of the American League race at this stage, made only one move and that to fortify its catching. With John Orsino a doubtful factor because of injuries, the Orioles acquired Charley Lau from Kansas City during the weekend for relief pitcher Wes Stock. They also recalled Herm Starrette a right - handed pitcher, from Rochester.

Kansas City, still making changes in an effort to get out of the American League cellar, sent pitcher Vern Handrahan of Charlottetown, P.E.I., to Rochester of the International League as part of the Lau-Stock deal and brought up outfielder Ricardo Joseph from Dallas.

But there was no blockbuster. No big, bold move. No win or bust gamble.

Northern Dancer Is Big Favorite

By JERRY GLADMAN

TORONTO (CP) — It's no secret that if E. P. Taylor's Northern Dancer was to vanish into thin air by Saturday, Jean Louis Levesque's Pierlou would be the most likely choice to win the 105th running of the Queen's Plate.

However, horses just don't vanish into thin air these days and Pierlou will have to be satisfied with his second choice rating behind the winner of the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness and most likely candidate for horse-of-the-year honors.

Pierlou heads a small field of seven or possibly eight challengers who will attempt to turn a trick termed impossible by most experts — upset the Dancer. Pierlou's performance, however, indicates the frisky colt is prepared to give it a good try.

Unhampered by his only threat, Conn Smythe's Northern Flight, who pulled up lame during the race, Pierlou romped to a 12½-length triumph in the Plate trial Monday. Jockey Avelino Gomez, who will probably handle Pierlou's reins Saturday, kept the horse under a tight hold right from the start.

CONCEDES RACE

Gomez, like almost everyone else, concedes the race to the Dancer, but refuses to rule out the impossible.

Says Gomez: "I must try to win of course, and I will be trying. But I must at least be sure of second and then maybe the big little horse (Northern Dancer) will be sick. Maybe he will not feel like running. Who knows these things?"

Grand Garcon, owned by Frank Sherman of Hamilton, is also not likely to be standing still Saturday.

Both Pierlou and Grand Garcon were purchased at Taylor's pre-priced yearling sales for $12,500 and $10,000 respectively. At the same time, Northern Dancer was available at $25,000, but there were no takers.

The rest of the field in the plate will probably be: Larkin Maloney's Brockton Boy; Jack Carmichael's Top Ruler, second to Pierlou in the trials; Later Mel, Wilf Farr's Canadian Oaks winner; and Return Trip, winner of a recent maiden race.

OWNER'S LONE HOPE

Smythe deferred a decision entering Jammed Lively, ruled as second choice prior to suffering an injury in the Marine Stakes. Jammed Lively would be Smythe's lone hope since Northern Flight pulled up lame.

Langcrest, owned by S. J. Langill of Montreal, may be another starter. And George Gardiner might possibly enter his Arabian Market, fifth and last in the second division of the trials.

Trainer Horatio Luro, who had the Dancer work out over Woodbine's main strip Monday, was satisfied.

"He did what I wanted," said Luro.

The Dancer worked a mile in one minute 40 seconds and finished the mile and an eighth in 1.53 4-5.

Major League Baseball Action

BALTIMORE (AP)—Juan Pizarro allowed only three singles, pitching the American League leading Chicago White Sox to a 5-0 victory over Baltimore in the first game of a doubleheader Tuesday.

Pizarro, bringing his record to 8-3, struck out six and allowed only two men to reach second base.

Pete Ward and Floyd Robinson backed Pizarro's pitching with homers, Ward connecting with a man on in the sixth and Robinson connecting with the bases empty in the seventh. The White Sox opened with two runs off Milt Pappas in the first inning.

SOX TOP ORIOLES

BALTIMORE (AP) — Juan Pizarro's three - hit pitching brought the American League leading Chicago White Sox a 5-0 first game victory over Baltimore Tuesday night, but the Orioles took the nightcap 3-1 as Steve Barber pitched a four-hitter.

The split left the White Sox eight percentage points ahead of the Orioles.

Pizarro, bringing his record to 8-3, allowed the Orioles only singles and received home run support from Pete Ward and Floyd Robinson.

Barber, a 20 - game winner last season, brought his record to 2-3 in the nightcap while pitching his first complete game of the year. He got all the support he needed when the Orioles scored three runs in the fourth.

Both winning pitchers were chased in two innings in their last starts.

BOSTON TOPS YANKS

NEW YORK (AP) — Frank Malzone drove a two-run homer into the left field stands in the eighth inning, carrying Boston to a 6-5 triumph over New York in the first game of a doubleheader Monday. The defeat halted the Yankees' winning streak at seven.

Malzone connected off Jim Bouton after the Yankee starter walked Dick Stuart.

The Yankees made it close in their eighth when Roger Maris led off with his 11th home run off starter Dave Morehead. Maris also singled home a run in the three-run first.

PIRATES NIP METS

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Southpaw Bob Veale, substituting for an ailing Bob Friend, struck out 12 batters Tuesday night and drove in the winning run as the Pittsburgh Pirates trimmed the New York Mets 2-1.

A'S DOWN TIGERS

DETROIT (AP) — Kansas City scored six runs after two were out in the fourth inning, three on a double by pitcher Diego Segui, and went on to defeat the Detroit Tigers 7-4 in the first game of a doubleheader Tuesday.

Segui had a two-hitter until the ninth when Don Demeter's single, Dick McAuliffe's double and Bill Freehan's single scored two runs. Wes Stock replaced Segui and ended the threat after Jerry Lumpe double home another run.

KINSMEN PARK

Sir , —In reply to the letter submitted by an "anxious parent" please allow me to answer it.

To begin with I do not think the author of the letter could be as "anxious" as he describes himself if he allows his "six and seven year olds" to be in danger by being hit on the head by a hard ball which is normally used in playing in this particular "children's" park.

I do not object to your "six and seven year olds" or "young ball players" as you describe them playing baseball in the park. My objection is to the teen-age boys who use foul language playing in this "under twelve years old playground".

Would you consider a peaceful Sunday afternoon, one that was slurred by foul language and the banging of balls which sometimes land near your person? No, of course you would not. Anyone that has this situation to contend with wouldn't be so "anxious" about your "young ball-players".

I don't, of course, consider a broken window, which can be repaired as serious as a broken arm or leg but I do consider a brain injury far more serious. Don't you?

The author of that letter also called the Kinsmen Park, which is not a ballfield, a spacious park. I take trouble to inform him that this park is just two acres in area which contains swings, a merry-go round, etc.

These "young ball-players" wouldn't, I don't presume, be anxious to play between this equipment. So, of course, they chose that part of that "spacious" playground which is near houses and is supposed to be used for games such as "croquet" for the under-twelve year olds. Wouldn't this be quite annoying to the people of this area?

I do not expect that in this area I will ever have a "peaceful" afternoon but I do expect that I will be in safety from brain injury on my personal property.

I request only that this so-called innocent game in which much foul language is used be stopped for older boys not your little six and seven year olds.

I am Sir, etc.,
AN ANNOYED CITIZEN

A POSITIVE REPLY

Sir — In reply to Tuesday's article concerning sports in the Kinsmen Park. I am inclined to agree with an anxious parent.

To what comparison is the sound of children's voices cheering over a home run than to the screech of a braking car—Or to the parent worrying as to where their children are, when, less than a week ago they felt secure in knowing they were in the playground.

I say let the kids "play ball" and if the fences aren't high enough to protect the windows then lets add a little wire to the fences and thus add a little fun for our younger citizens; also whatever reassurance we can give the parents regarding the safety of their children."

I am Sir, etc.,
AN ANXIOUS SISTER.

Star Golfer Is Abashed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Millionaire Arnold Palmer, golf's all - time leading money winner, was temporarily embarrassed Tuesday when he went out to practise for the National Open tournament.

He didn't have 65 cents in his pocket to pay for a bucket of practice balls.

Failing to float a quick loan, Palmer turned to a large gallery and said:

"Anybody got change for $100 bill?"

All he got was a loud guffaw.

Phillies Down Chicago Cubs 4-2

CHICAGO (AP)—Johnny Callison's leaping onehanded catch of Billy Williams' long drive with two men on base cut short a seventh inning rally and helped the Philadelphia Phillies trim the Chicago Cubs 4-2 Tuesday.

Williams slammed a 3-0 pitch off reliever Ed Roebuck and Callison raced to the wall in right-centre field for his sensational catch after the Cubs had scored two runs on pinch batter Jimmy Stewart's single.

The catch not only saved Roebuck and the National League-leading Phils but also helped starter Dennis Bennett gain his eighth victory against four losses. Roebuck replaced Bennett after Stewart had singled home the two runs.

The Phillies started their scoring in the second inning and might have had more than one run except for a great throw by Williams. Richie Allen opened the second with a single and advanced to second on an infield out. Roy Sievers singled to left and Williams threw Allen out at the plate.

Clay Dalrymple, however, followed with a double that scored Sievers. John Herrnstein's home run in the third made it 20 and the Phils scored again in the fourth on a double by Tony Gonzalez, an infield out and Bobby Wine's perfect squeeze bunt. Wine also singled in an insurance run in the ninth.
