Wife Of Police Chief Reveals Gambling Ties

By JOHN LEBLANC
TORONTO (CP)—The blonde wife of Police Chief W. Jack Shrubbs of Peterborough told the royal commission on crime here that for some months she was meeting and getting frequent telephone calls from gambling boss Vincent Feeley while her unsuspecting husband was a corporal in the Ontario Provincial Police anti-gambling squad.
Mrs. Glady Shrubbs, speaking barely above a whisper, testified that she gave no information knowingly to Feeley, was paid no money by him and quit seeing him after she realized it was "not the right thing to do," though he kept telephoning her for another year.

Chief Shrubbs, a key commission witness who has been ripping the lid off purported associations between organized gambling — including Feeley — and political and police officials, dom, apparently knew nothing of the 1957 association until another inquiry witness spilled a hint of it recently.

Mrs. Shrubbs testified she spoke to her husband for the first time about it last week, at the request of commission counsel Roland F. Wilson. She took the stand right after her husband had completed three days of headline-laden testimony that included recitals of big-money bribe offers from Feeley and others to co-operate with gamblers and of reported leakages of confidential information from high levels in the OPP.

WITNESSES BARRED

The tough Shrubbs was not in the commission chamber while his wife testified. Subpoenaed witnesses have been barred from hearing testimony of others by commission Mr. Justice W. D. Roach. One of Shrubbs' last pieces

4 NT Pass 5. Pass
5 NT Pass 6. Pass

Opening lead—four of clubs. This hand was played in a team match. At each table the final contract was six spades and a each table the opening lead was a club. However, the slam was made at one table and defeated at the other.

At the first table, declarer finessed the queen of clubs and lost to the king. East returned a club and South now had no trouble making the contract. He ruffed high, played a spade to the ace, and ruffed another club high. Then, after drawing trumps, he crossed to the ace of diamonds and discarded his heart losers on dummy's clubs.

At the second table, East adopted a more thoughtful line of defense and defeated the contract. Here, a 1-1-0, declarer finessed the club on the opening lead and lost to the king. But East, analyzing the bidding correctly, decided it was futile to return a club.

He realized that declarer's trumps must be solid and that a club return had practically no chance of developing a trump trick for West. He knew that South had chosen to finesse the club even though he had only a singleton and that he was therefore prepared for a club return.

East knew, furthermore, that South had jumped to two spades, even though it developed during the later bidding (in responding to the Blackwood calls) that South had only one ace and one king. He could therefore assume that declarer's trumps were impregnable.

The club return having been ruled out, East had to choose between playing a heart or a diamond. He knew from the bidding that South had the ace of hearts and West the king. But he also knew that a heart return would be unsuccessful because South would play the ace and eventually run his clubs to make the contract.

So East returned a diamond in the hope that declarer had only a singleton of that suit. As a result, South lost a vital entry to dummy and had to go down one.

Auto Maker Looks For Better Sales

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Studebaker-Packard Corp. has reported a loss of 2,600,000 for the first quarter of 1962 compared with a loss of $6,500,000 in the first quarter of last year. President Sherwood H. Egbert told the company's annual meeting "it is our belief that, although it is somewhat difficult to predict, the second quarter will be in the black."
