

University enrollment in the Atlantic area, and in many parts of Canada, decreased this fall. In face of this fact and believing the university has a distinctive role to play in the educational process, university educators across the country are looking into possible ways and means of attracting students. Moreover, they are investigating more deeply the exact nature and function of the modern university.

Here at U.P.E.I., a Student Recruitment Committee has been recently established. The suggestion for such a committee came from the Department of Student Services. This Department has, in its limited manner, been making efforts during past years to bring students to U.P.E.I. for their university years.

The Committee will look into the whole area of student recruitment and liaison with high schools in and outside the Province of Prince Edward Island. One of the thrusts of the Committee will be to tie together various individual recruitment initiatives on behalf of U.P.E.I. into a coordinated recruitment policy.

To this effect, the Committee encourages suggestions and opinions from all members of the U.P.E.I. community. Your recommendations are sought. It is hoped a report to President Baker will be available late in the semester.

Committee members are the following: R.J. LeClair-Liaison Officer, Chairman; Sister Irene Burge, Home Economics; Alan Reesor, Music Department; Robert Ellison, Business Administration; Dr. Willey, Education; one student to be appointed by the Student Union.

LONG DISTANCE FRIENDSHIP

My friend
I do not ask
much of you now that you have journeyed on and I have heard a different drum.

Just keep your heart's door ajar where I may enter quietly when shadows lengthen
and the warming sun is dying.

May I find a chair
to pull up
to the table of your thoughts, to break the still warm bread of friendship
browned at the fireplace of your caring.

And, as I live this prayer,
may His strong,
ever-present breath of life blow on the ash-flaked embers of our friendship.

May we feel the kindling glow and know that He makes our hearts burn within us.

May this inner glow reflect in the windows of our eyes that others may be warmed into recognizing Him through our breaking of the bread of friendship.

SHALOM...peace, and peace again.
