

NEW MOTEL INTERIORS ARE ATTRACTIVE

Lord Rollo Motel Opens At Scenic Souris West

The Lord Rollo Motel at Souris West which is now open with sixteen modern units available for the holidaymaker has already proved a popular spot. The first eight units have been in demand since they were ready for occupation on Dominion Day.

The Lord Rollo Motel is delightfully situated. It stands on the crest of a hill looking down on Colville Bay and Northumberland Strait, beautiful pastoral scenes and seascapes present themselves on every hand, making the locality an artist's paradise.

JOHN F. DOLAN

The warm waters of the bay and strait wash a magnificent stretch of white sandy beach. Various kinds of salt water and fresh water fishing can be enjoyed and, in season, there is excellent shooting. Facilities are available for tennis, golf, archery, badminton, croquet and other pastimes.

The individual units are furnished in a modern and comfortable style. Each is equipped with toilet and shower, hot and cold running water.

W.I. Exhibitors Advised To Conform With Regulations

Handicraft judges Mrs. Douglas George and Bertha Desroches Monday advised exhibitors that articles prepared for entry at the provincial exhibition should conform with the regulations laid down. For example, if a rug competition specified that wool rags should be used, cotton should not be used. At all costs, mixtures should be avoided.

Mrs. George and Miss Desroches Monday completed the judging of Classes 32, 33 and 34 of the Women's Institute handicrafts division. Class 31, which had 54 separate sections was judged by Mrs. E.S. Coffin and Mrs. G.N. Henry. The food and flower divisions were judged Tuesday.

INSTRUCTION NEEDED
H.B. Bugden who judged the photo and art work exhibit suggested that the exhibition should include an oil painting class reacted in those 16 years of age and under.

Though there were some very fine work shown especially in the photography exhibits, the art work division in general indicated the need for greater instruction, Mr. Bugden said.
