Our Fisheries

THE PROTECTIVE SERVICE WELL MAINTAINED AND HEARTILY ENDORSED BY CANADIAN FISHERMEN.

A member of the staff of the St. John Star called upon the Hon. George E. Foster at the Royal Hotel, and in the course of a few minutes obtained considerable information from the minister touching Canadian fisheries and their protection. Hon. Mr. Foster was in an especially communicative mood, and answered all questions freely and without reserve.

"What have you to say as to the charges of poaching by American vessels?" asked the Star man, "charges which are made from time to time by the opposition press."

Said the minister, with a quiet smile: "The rumors concerning this poaching are very indefinite in the main—very indefinite indeed. But whenever a special instance has been alleged, an investigation has been made, with results going to show that the rumors were unfounded—either a mistake as to the distance from shore at which fishing was carried on, or in the class of vessels alleged to be fishing. The fact is that, considering the extent of our coast, the amount of poaching is reduced to a minimum, and very few instances have been brought to the notice of the department."

"The protective service is, then, well executed?"

"The patrol of the cruisers is well marked out, is carefully followed, and is kept up sharply. The United States vessels themselves have, as I believe, strict orders to obey the law and keep outside the line. They show a well defined disposition to obey these orders. I have myself seen imperative instructions to keep out of Canadian waters, when crossing their fish, for fear of running into trouble."

"Do the Americans take kindly to our customs regulations?"

"The American fishermen cheerfully obey the Canadian customs laws, entering immediately on coming into port, and in their intercourse with our cruisers are always anxious to find out just what the regulations are, and to adhere to them. I may say that our waters board their own fishermen and give them similar instructions."

"It is charged that our customs laws are not as rigidly enforced as they were last year, with respect to American vessels engaged in the fisheries?"

"So far as the customs laws are concerned they are being as strictly enforced as last year, the only difference being that in places remote from a custom house when United States vessels come in seeking shelter, the commander of the cruiser (who is also a customs officer) on that particular station is authorized to enter and clear these vessels. Any insinuations, either that the law is not strictly enforced, or that customs regulations are allowed to be disregarded are not to be believed in the slightest degree."

"Are our fishermen doing well under this protection?"

"You mean as regards the catch? Take mackerel for instance. These fish so far this year have been well in shore. Around Prince Edward Island many have been taken in the harbors themselves by the old method of hook and line, and our fishermen are, as a rule, doing well, while up to this time the catch of United States vessels in their own waters has been poor. A notable feature this year is the increased number of mackerel seiners fitted out by our own people, many ports having doubled the number of last year. Our people seem pleased to have the inshore fisheries kept for them exclusively, and now the United States fishermen are kept out our people show a disposition to fit out vessels and reap the harvest for themselves. I find our fishermen hearty in their support of the protective service, and much more inclined than they were last year to assist in it. The expression is often heard, 'We will be satisfied if we can keep our fisheries for ourselves.'"

"What is the quality of the mackerel caught?"

"The fish are large and of excellent quality."

"By the way, how does the Acadia do her work?"

"Admirably! The Acadia proves a most serviceable vessel. She has excellent speed, rides steadily, is easily handled and gives perfect satisfaction. Her work is to visit the cruisers, see that they keep to their stations and make herself useful wherever needed."

"In Brief, And to the Point."
Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order. Bad cooking, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy. Remember: No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

CURRENT NOTES.

It is said that President Cleveland saves $35,000 of his salary of $50,000 and his extra allowance of $8,000 for the contingent expenses of his office.

Something like a dry rot is destroying potatoes in some places about Woodstock. Some potato fields have been ploughed over and sown with buckwheat.

At Union City, Ky., last week a negro named John Howes, on trial for assaulting a white girl, was taken from the officers by the crowd present and hanged from a beam in the court room.

The New South Wales Rifle Association has sent an official invitation to Col. Bacon, Secretary of the Dominion Rifle Association, for a Canadian rifle team to visit New South Wales next year.

Mr. H. A. Wicksteed, accountant of the Post Office Department, Ottawa, who has been nearly fifty years in the service, has applied for superannuation, and his request has either been granted or will soon be.

Eight hundred Icelanders are on their way to Canada. Iceland contains 70,000 inhabitants, and it is probable all will find their way to Canada within a few years, being driven out by the encroachments of glaciers.

It is understood in Ottawa that the ocean mail contract will not be settled until after the holidays, and that in the meantime the service will continue to be performed by the Allan line under a temporary arrangement.

Two more miraculous cures are reported from St. Anne. A young woman, named Monse, was completely cured of a paralyzed leg, and a young girl, named Gauthier, 13 years of age, whose sight was almost gone, is now completely cured.

Rev. Dr. Nichols, rector of Liverpool, positively declines to be nominated for the vacant bishopric. He supports most heartily the nomination of the venerable the archdeacon of Nova Scotia, Dr. Gilpin, who has consented to abide by the voice of the synod.

The United States fisheries schooner Grampus, Capt. J. D. Collins, is going to Labrador on a scientific mission. The Dominion Government has advised all Canadian officials to further the voyage in all possible ways and waive in its favor all Custom regulations.

A French paper in Ottawa gives the following figures as an estimate of the proportion of the French population in Eastern Ontario: Prescott, 64 per cent.; Russell, 39 per cent.; Ottawa (city), 34 per cent.; Stormont, 18 per cent.; Glengarry, 19 per cent.; Renfrew, 13 per cent.

The three-year-old child of Peter Dowd, of Lewisville, near Moncton, died on Thursday from the effects of sunstroke received on Tuesday. The little thing had been playing in the garden and when noticed was in a comatose condition, in which the child remained till death.

Chemists are hard at work in the French Antilles perfecting processes for making alcohol from sweet potatoes. Four gallons of alcohol can be made from 225 pounds of sweet potatoes. Portions of the pine lands of the Southern States and a part of New Jersey are also well adapted to the growing of the sweet potato.

A ten-year old son of James Carr, of Woodstock, N. B., met with a serious accident on Wednesday. He was amusing himself in a hay field, when, having carelessly gone in front of the mowing machine while in operation, his right leg was caught by the knives and completely severed above the ankle. He bears up bravely.

Captain Alexander Boudroit, master of the schooner Blondell, arrived at Sydney, C. B., from St. John's, Nfld., on the 22nd, and reports that he found a dory about sixty miles east of Sestarie, with a dead man in it. The dory was full of water and the body in a state of decomposition. There was too much swell on to examine the body or save the boat.

Edmund Douglas, a young man, 23 years of age, employed as a farm hand by Harvey Wilson, four miles from Moncton, was drowned on Thursday afternoon while bathing in the river. He attempted to swim the narrow creek, a rod and a half wide, and when in the middle sank and was dead before the body could be recovered. He belonged to East Mountain, near Truro.

A collision occurred at Spithead last week between the British ironclads Ajax and Devastation. The Devastation was considerably damaged and is leaking fast. The Devastation is a double screw iron turret ship, armor plated, of 9,330 tons and 6,650 horse power. The Ajax is a double screw iron armor plated turret ship, of 8,850 tons, 6,444 horse power. Both vessels are in the coast guard service.

It is understood in Ottawa that steps are being taken in England to supply the number of men required to form C Battery of Artillery to be stationed at Victoria, B. C. The men will, in all probability, be selected from naval coast party members of the British army. Their enlistment will be on the same terms as for other corps raised in Canada. The organization will probably be completed in the course of three months.

Frank Howard, of Sarnia, has recently been paying marked attention to Miss Lafarge, of Sarnia, Ont. Matters finally came to a crisis and the pair were to be married on the 23rd at Farmers Hotel, Sarnia. All the preparations were made. The bride, witnesses and clergymen were on time, but the bridegroom was missing. After waiting for a considerable time, a general search was instituted and the dead body of Howard was found suspended by a rope in the barn of the hotel premises.

On Thursday last, two young men, named George Mahoney and James Robertson, belonging to Churchover, Shelburne, N. S., went out fishing in a boat. About noon a heavy breeze sprung up from the northwest and continued until night. The boat was seen in the afternoon beating towards the land, but shortly after she disappeared and nothing had been seen of the occupants, who are supposed to have been drowned. Robertson leaves a widow and family in Churchover. Mahoney was unmarried.

Another sad case of drowning occurred at Harbor au Bouche, on Tuesday. A little boy named George Anderson, son of Daniel Anderson, merchant, of between ten and eleven years of age, accompanied by another boy of about the same age, went to bathe in the harbor, and George, happening to get into a deep hole, was drowned. His body was got in about twenty minutes after he sank, and every effort was made to resuscitate him, but of no avail, as life was extinct. He was a bright, smart, sensible little fellow.
