Premier Shaw Makes 1st Election Speech

SUMMERSIDE — Looking as hale and jovial as ever, Premier Walter Shaw, making his first public appearance since returning to the province from a two-month vacation in the British Isles, told an audience of well over 600 at a Young Progressive Conservative social evening in Kensington last night that he had the greatest respect for the Conservative candidate for Prince County in the Nov. 3 election, David MacDonald. "Because he understands the social and economic problems of this county."

He said he had heard comments that politics wasn't the place for a minister of the gospel. "I was inclined to agree with this," he said, "until the revelations in Ottawa six months ago. But then I came to the conclusion that if there is any place which needs a minister or missionary, that is the place."

Premier Shaw raised few political points but rather gave a general address.

WHO TOLD HIM? He did, however, refer to Prime Minister Pearson's counter-promise to the Conservative plank of a $100 old age pension. "I was amazed," he said, "to hear that Pearson has a better scheme because the provinces are coming in with him who?" he asked, "told him the provinces were going to join him in his scheme?"

The premier was obviously referring to an alleged statement by the Prime Minister in Charlottetown Saturday in which he said that anyone needed "more than $75, we'll see they get it" on a basis of need worked out by the provinces.

The premier assured the audience that a Diefenbaker government will provide a $100 pension without seeking assistance from the provinces.

Mr. MacDonald, in his address, said his reasons for entering the

Coroner's Jury Finds No Blame In Fatality

ALBERTON — A coroner's jury, empaneled by Dr. L.E. Prowse, Charlottetown, met in Alberton last night and brought in a verdict that Darlene Ruth Coughlin came to her death on Sept. 27, near Elmsdale from injuries received as the result of being struck by a car driven by Elmer Blanchard MacDonald. No blame was attached to the driver or any other persons at or near the scene of the accident.

The first witness, Dr. W.A. Sheha, Alberton physician, told being called to the scene of an accident near Elmsdale where he found a little girl lying on the highway. On examination he found the girl dead of a fractured neck. There were also multiple fractures of the right arm, light leg and multiple abrasions over the entire body.

Cst. Edward McCue, Alberton Detachment of the RCMP, described the scene of the accident and measurements taken and also explained photos taken of the area and the car. Skid marks measured 200 feet on the right side of the road. There was no evidence of liquor in the car on the driver.

Cpl. William A. Wilson, officer in charge of Alberton RCMP Detachment, told the jury that he went to the accident scene near Elmsdale where he found the little girl lying on the highway and a car partly in the ditch. "The girl was obviously dead," the corporal said. The driver of the vehicle was taken to the detachment where he volunteered a statement.

The next witness, Mrs. Floyd Hardy, Alberton, said she went to Elmsdale School on the day of the accident to pick up her children. She also picked up Randy Inman, Margaret Jane Campbell and Darlene Coughlin. She stopped her car at George Coughlin's driveway and let Randy and Darlene out. Mrs. Hardy said she saw a car coming from behind and warned the children to watch this car. The children waited for the car to pass but as another car came from the direction of Alberton, Darlene ran across the road towards her gate. Mrs. Hardy said she was getting the other children settled down and did not see the second car coming towards her.

Louis Arthur Gaudet, Summerside, mail transfer driver, said a car passed him at the railway crossing as he was driving towards Elmsdale. He estimated the car was travelling about 45 to 50 A short time later he came to the accident scene.

APPLIED BRAKES
Albert Blanchard MacDonald, driver of the accident vehicle, said he was driving from Alberton to his home in Elmsdale and saw a car stopped at the side of the road but at first didn't see anyone around it. Then he saw two children, the boy standing behind the car and the girl running across the road. "For a moment she stopped in the center of the road," he said. He sounded the horn and applied the brakes but was unable to stop in time to avoid striking the girl, he added. Mr. MacDonald said it was a fine clear day and that he had not been drinking.

Robert Ray Proffitt, Alberton mechanic, stated that he examined the MacDonald car after the accident and found it in good mechanical working order. The witnesses were cross examined by Crown Prosecutor George McMahon.

declaration would be made could not yet be determined.

Wilson made the plea in a message cabled Monday night to the Rhodesian leader. He said that "at this grave hour" Britain is open to any ideas to see whether agreement could be reached over the crisis of independence from Britain for the colony, which is governed by the white minority.

Wilson declared: "So far you have not responded."

REJECT PROPOSAL
Smith rejected the British proposal for Commonwealth mediation as "not practical." He said a Commonwealth mission is "not to contain self-professed enemies of Rhodesia's present white-dominated constitutional government."

And even with the best will in the world, he said, Commonwealth leaders would be too far from the issue at stake to decide. The issue, he said, is between Britain and Rhodesia only.

As for Wilson's warning that a seizure of independence would be rebellion, followed by crippling economic sanctions and perhaps even throwing central Africa into bloodshed, Smith declared:

"If Britain or any other outside interferences were to pro- work for no pay."

When the motion came to a vote, those in favor were Couns. Schurman, Perry, Grant, Molson and Ernest Morrison. Voting against the motion were Mayor George Key Jr., Coun. Eric Johnston and Coun. Milton Mellish.

Prince Charles Will Face Tough Education Hurdle

MERRIJOG, Australia (Reuters)—Prince Charles will come to school here next year in a new hurdle of the toughest and most democratic education any heir to the British throne has faced for centuries.

It was announced Monday at Buckingham Palace in London that the prince — 17 next month — will spend 3½ months at the Timbertop branch of Geelong Grammar School, one of Australia's leading academies.

He will be the first member of the Royal family to attend school in an overseas Commonwealth country. At the end of the term he will return to his own school, Gordonstoun in Scotland, the cold-shower establishment whose strict regime for turning out leaders of men has already toughened him up.

Timbertop is in the foothills of the great dividing mountain range at Merrijog, more than 100 miles northeast of Melbourne. Charles will be among 120 boys of about 15 and 16 who organize their life at the school with a minimum of supervision from teachers and staff.

ELECT OWN LEADERS
The running of the establish- ment is left almost entirely to the pupils, who elect their own leaders and change them frequently to give as many as possible a taste of leadership.

Because of his Gordonstoun experience and his superiority in age Prince Charles will have a dual role. He will continue his studies but he will also act as a supervisor, training the boys in hiking and outdoor activities.

Assistant Headmaster V. J. H. Tunbridge said the prince would not share a dormitory with other boys because they are younger than he. But he would eat with them and share other facilities.

Timbertop teacher Michael Hanley, 40, a South African, said Charles may well find himself a "slushy"—the term for the boys when they take their turn of serving food and washing dishes.

To his fellow-pupils he will be Pommie—the Australian slang for an Englishman.

WEAR JEANS
There is no uniform at Timbertop and the boys generally wear shirts, jeans and floppy Australian bush hats.

Accent is on development of maturity, character and individuality.

Each boy makes his own bed and his unit is inspected thoroughly every morning by a teacher for tidiness.

All maintenance work is done by the boys and the annual 500 tons of wood on which the school depends for its fuel is chopped, gathered and stacked by teams allotted to the work.

There is no organized sport but the boys have an intensive physical fitness program.

COMFORT SOMETHING To Think About . . .

If your furnace is over 10 years old, you may be money ahead to give it a good, close look!

HERE'S WHY:
The usual "life expectancy" of ordinary furnaces is about 10 years.

BUT EVEN MORE IMPORTANT
There have been so many wonderful improvements in the last 10 years you have a right to be discontented if you don't have a modern LENNOX heating system!

It actually shrinks hemorrhoids. This substance has been shown to produce a most effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection.

In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported. This improvement was maintained over a period of months! Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions—even cases of long standing.

This was accomplished by a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—developed by a world-renowned research institution. This substance is now obtainable in ointment or suppository form known as Preparation H. Ask for Preparation H Suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Available at all drug counters. Satisfaction or your money refunded.

thous of 100 miles in a week-end through rough bush country are not uncommon for the older boys.

They camp out and have compass-reading, nature and bushcraft lessons on the way. At the end of the term the pupils go on a five-day hike—sometimes covering nearly 200 miles—and once a year there is a 23-mile marathon run.

In Canberra, Prime Minister Menzies, said Monday the decision to send Prince Charles to school in Australia was an imaginative and practical step.

"Getting to know Australia through young Australians should prove of inestimable value for a prince whose future duties will require a comprehensive knowledge of the countries and peoples of the Commonwealth," he said.

TEMPER COSTS CASH
ST. HELLER, Channel Islands (CP)—Patrick McCarthy has an expensive temper. When he was not paid two hours over time for completing a wall at a hotel, he seized a sledge hammer and reduced the whole job to rubble within minutes. It cost him $231 in court.

Burning Rectal Itch Relieved In Minutes

This Special Hemorrhoid Remedy Contains a Unique Healing Substance That Relieves Pain As It Shrinks Hemorrhoids

One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "Itching Piles". It is most embarrassing for the sufferer during the day and especially aggravating at night.

If you want satisfactory relief—here's good news. A renowned research laboratory has found a unique healing substance with the ability to promptly relieve the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids.
