IN MEMORIAM

BIRT — In loving memory of George Birt, Mt. Stewart who was drowned June 28, 1951.
Dearest George, how we miss you,
For to us you were so dear,
We still have that sad heartache,
Because we could not keep you here,
They say time heals all sorrow,
And helps us to forget,
But after six long years dear George,
We still remember you.
Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by Mother and Father.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of the late Elizabeth Hughes wish to thanks Rev. Urban Gillis Rev. John Cash Dr. Alan MacMillan, Dr. Stewart MacDonald, sisters and nurses of the Charlottetown Hospital, friends and neighbors and all those who sent Mass cards, messages of sympathy or helped in any way during her illness and their recent sad bereavement.

John D. MacIntyre and family of Souris wish to thank all their friends and neighbors, societies, and organizations who helped us in any way during and after our recent fire.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. FRANCIS MacCARVILLE

The death occurred at her home in Emerald Jct. on April 8th.. of Mrs. Francis MacCarville at the age of 94. The late Mrs MacCarville had been in failing health for only a short time before her death during which time she was frequently visited by her pastor the Rev. E. L. Murray of Summerfeld who admnstered to her the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church of which she was a devout member.

Mrs. MacCarville was the former Bridget Johnston, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnson of Kinkora. Her husband predeceased her several years ago.

She spent her early days in Kinkora attending the local school; lived on her father's farm until she married the late Francis MacCarville and moved to Emerald where she had lived on the farm until her death ended a long and useful life.

Of a quiet and unassuming nature she left an everlasting impression on those whose lives she touched. Her countless deeds of charity will long be remembered by the people of surrounding districts. She was tenderly cared for during her illness by her son Raymond with whom she lived, also by her daughter, Mrs. Bennett Deighan and daughter-in-law Mrs. Earl McCarville. She was also visited many times by other members of her family.

She leaves to mourn, one sister Mrs. T. A. McIver; two daughters, Ellan, Mrs. Bennett Deighan, Emerald, above mentioned; also Camilla, Mrs. Leo McGregor, Toronto; also five sons, Ray with whom she lived; Wilbert and Earl, all of Emerald; John Russell, Lower Freetown; Ollie, South Freetown; several grand children and great grand children.

Despite bad weather conditions her funeral which was held at St. James Church, was largely attended, Rev. E. L. Murray, parish priest, celebrated the funeral mass. He also conducted services at the grave.

The pall bearers were: Clair Croken, Reggie Smith, Maurice Sinclair and Leslit Trainor.

The many mass cards and letters of sympathy and spiritual offering all bore silent tribute to the esteen the deceased was held by all.

May she rest in peace.

CARD OF THANKS

Members of the family of the late Mrs. Francis MacCarville wish to thank the pastor, Rev. E. L. Murray also Dr. Zelinski, for theiir frequent visits also all kind neighbours and friends who in any way assisted during the illness and death of their mother. They also wish to thank all who sent mass cards, spiritual offerings and letters of sympathy.

Moscow, Peiping and Belgrade Differ In Communist Line

LONDON Reuters —Three different brands of Communism competing for allegiance have given rise to new ferment within the Communist world.

The three emanate from Moscow, Peiping and Belgrade.

Though the fundamentals are the same, there are some important differences among the three. Several of these wer highlightd in the 17,000-word policy speech by Mao Tse-Tung published last week.

The question now confronting the east European countries is which road to follow.

Moscow follows its own road. Mao has just mapped out China's road. President Tito has been mapping Yugoslavia's independent road for the last nine years, since his breakaway from Moscow control.

THE POLISH ROAD

In Poland, party leader Wladyslaw Gomulka declared a "Polish road to socialism" last fall. It has many points in common with the Moscow road, some in common with Tito's road and some in common with Mao's.

Its main feature is an assertion Russia—but Gomulka is the first to realize there are defined limits to this "independence."

In Hungary last fall, it was a revolt against years of following the old Moscow road that sparked the bloody uprising.

In Stalin's day, Moscow was the centre which laid down the law on ideologica, political and economic matters.

China since the start of the Communist regime, has been a separate case and for a long time relations between Moscow and Peiping were a matter of guesswork.

Now, within the Communist camp, the voice of Asia is increasingly being heard.

The possible dangers of this for the international Communist camp were hinted at in a speech by a leading Czechoslovak Communist, Giri Hendrich, published June 19

He declared that "revisionism" at present is the main danger facing the international Communist movement. By revisionists, he presumably means those who attempt to "revise" acceped Communist theory.

Main points at issue in the current ferment wiithin the Communist world include:

1. The extent to which coercion shall be applied by the state in dealing with individuals. Since Stalin's death, there has been a general revulsion against the role of the secret police.

2. Whether parties other than the Communist party shall be allowed to exist—and if so, on what terms. Moscow says, "no, not at present." Yugoslavia says the same. Mao says, "by all means let other parties exist." Gomulka of Poland "yes, within certain limitations."

3. The extent of Communist party and state directions of the intellectuals and of all scientific and cultural activities.

4. Relations with the West. Should an individual Communist country be free to take its own decisions on trade and aid from the West?

Stalin barred Czechoslovakia from accepting Marshall Aid. Tito, faced by the Soviet economic blockade, turned to the West and got substantial aid. Recently, Gomulka has negotiated a long-term American loan, after previously accepting Soviet economic aid.

London Talks Timitable

This is the broad pattern of the Commonwealth statesmen's world-ranging talks.

Today—The opening session discussed the agenda, to be followed this afternoon by a discussion of East-West relations and recent shifts of policy in the Communist bloc.

Thursday—All - day discussions of the Middle East situation and the Suez crisis.

Friday—An analysis of the situation in Southeat Asia and the Far East.

Weekend—Informal outside-conference talks by groups of prime ministers with Macmillan at his official country residence, or with the Earl of Home, Commonwealth relations secretary.

Monday—The problem of world disarmament, including an exchange of ideas on the controversial issue of H-bomb tests. Britain's new defence policy based on the nuclear deterrent and her position as one of the world's three hydrogen bomb powers will form part of the background to the discussion on nuclear tests.

Tuesday—Problems related to a revision of the charter of the United Nations.

Wednesday—The economic and trading problems of the sterling area.

Thursday—Progress of various British colonial territories toward self-government within the Commonwealth.

Outside the conference proper there will be group discussions on defence by prime ministers whose countries are linked with Britain in various regional alliancs. India and Ceylon, as in past conferences, will not take part in these discussions.
