1st Prince PCs In Dark, Highway Work

ALBERTON BUREAU OF THE GUARDIAN
Bert Rix, Minnigash, was elected president of the First District of Prince Progressive Conservative Association at the annual meeting here last night.

William Arsenault, Cassebec, was elected vice-president and Desmond Gallant, Duvar, was re-elected secretary. Messrs. Rix, Alberton and James Doyle, Skippers Pond.

A vote of thanks was extended to the retiring president, Ernest Smallman, O'Leary. Douglas Rix chaired the meeting in the absence of Mr. Smallman.

Resolutions were passed urging the establishment of the West Point Ferry service to the mainland leading to tourist development and establishment of industry; urging the department of highways to continue the special treatment regarding road construction in the First District, especially for secondary roads; the construction of an all-weather highway from Tignish to Summerside.

Appreciation was expressed to Alberton and West Prince Board of Trade and other agencies or individuals who efforts to maintain the present train service. A request was made for the immediate expansion for use this centennial year of the Jacques Cartier Park at Kildare and the location of a Walter snow plow at Alberton to supplement the present service and for emergencies, funerals, opening up church areas and roadways and plowing lanes.

A resolution noted that tourist promotion material sometimes contains incorrect information and the tourist bureau to be asked to have this situation corrected.

Resolutions were also approved expressing loyalty and confidence in Premier W.R. Shaw and Conservative Leader John G. Diefenbaker.

Prayer Is Topic Of Sermon By Special Speaker At S'side

SUMMERSIDE BUREAU OF THE GUARDIAN
"Prayer is the universal method for approaching the throne of God. It is the universal means by which barriers are broken down and God is allowed to move into the lives of the members of his holy family that his spirit may bear witness to the spirit of God that they are all his children."

These were the words of Very Rev. C. Blaine Bell, D.D., special preacher for the Summerside Ministerial Association for the universal week of prayer, in a sermon at the Church of Christ before a large congregation last Sunday.

It was an easy thing to sit alone in the presence of the most high and holy God and let him examine the thoughts of our minds and all the desires of our hearts and then ask him for cleansing.

"It is no cowardly act, but one which requires the utmost courage, to ask God to give us the inspiration of his holy spirit that we may perfectly love him and worthily magnify his holy name in all that we say and do. But those who do this with sincerity of purpose can testify that though the spirit of God kneel ever so weakly, they rise ever so full of power."

Rev. D. L. Howlett was in charge of the service, assisted by Rev. A. W. Reynolds, who led the congregation in a responsive reading. The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Myra Morrison, sang the hymns.

The service this evening will be in the United Baptist Church, at 7:30 p.m.

Break Cases Adjoined

SUMMERSIDE — Magistrate W. Chester S. MacDonald adjourned to Jan. 9, the cases of four Summerside men charged with breaking and entering an Albany store owned by Alstair MacLeod on the morning of Dec. 30. The four men appeared in Prince County magistrate's court yesterday.

Three of the accused men, Ralph Souler, Francis Joseph Arsenault and Richard Aikens, are being represented by counsel Mel Campbell.

Souler had pleaded not guilty to the charge when arraigned before Magistrate MacDonald, Dec. 30. It is believed his case will be heard Jan. 14.

Aikens yesterday asked to change his plea from guilty to not guilty. The magistrate said he would make a decision on the request Jan. 9.

Arsenault had pleaded guilty to the break and enter charge, but counsel Campbell asked for a two-day adjournment so he could discuss the case before lawyers with his client.

Wayne Joseph Clow, the fourth member of the accused break and enter group, pleaded guilty to the charge and will be sentenced Jan. 9.

The department of labor which recently beefed up expenditure on vocational training. Some projects have been referred to the department of industry and some are considered to be covered by the activities of the Atlantic Development Board.

Tignish To Have Centennial Ice Sports, Dress Carnival

TIGNISH — The Tignish Sports Recreation Association to help celebrate centennial year in the province will hold a Centennial Ice Sports day and fancy dress carnival at the Tignish outdoor rink, Saturday, Jan. 10.

The sports will commence at 9 a.m. and be climaxed at 10 p.m. by the crowning of a "Centennial Queen".

This was some of the business dealt with at a recent board of directors meeting held in the fire hall.

Along with various ice sports, little league hockey competition will be played during the morning. David Harper, part time sports director with the association, will meet with his committee to finalize plans for the sports program.

In charge of the fancy dress carnival and evening entertainment are Mrs. Roy Edenshaw, Mrs. Milton Keough, Mrs. Irving Mockler and Mrs. Lester McAllduff.

It is understood that some entertainment is to be kept secret until the big day events are run off.

The cost of $700 was reported spent by the president, John Gavin, to have the outdoor skating rink put into first class shape for the skating season.

Major improvements were made to the property and buildings to make outdoor skating and hockey as comfortable as possible for the large number who take advantage of rink privileges.

The association as in the past will continue to promote a full winter's hockey program, along with many hours of supervised skating for the younger children. New hockey equipment will be purchased to add to what has already been bought by the association.

A generous donation of coal was acknowledged at the meeting from Andre Patur.

INCOME LEVEL

(Continued from page 1) of averaging professional incomes three or four times over a working lifetime, so irregular incomes would not be gobbled up by post-tax penalties.

The association's brief pointed to the case of a Montreal police officer who earned $4,400 when he was 19, and a city-employed psychiatrist, employed at 18.5 when he was 31. By the time they each had worked until they were 68, the psychiatrist would have earned only $400 a year more than the policeman because of the heavier tax bite.

"Up to a point, it may be argued that taxing is a disincentive to acquiring additional qualifications," said the brief.

But, it says, if organizations have proposed to the commission that professional persons, such as teachers with irregular incomes, be allowed to average their incomes over a number of years, the government should consider the tax bite. Farmers and fishermen now are the only taxpayers who can do this.

Maple Leaf Gardens Limited and the Montreal Canadiens Hockey Club submitted a joint brief some time ago calling for such a move on behalf of professional hockey players. Various medical and dental associations have made similar submissions to justify their members.

IN CRITICAL CONDITION

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — A Russian philosophy professor who applied last week for asylum here, has been placed in critical condition in hospital Saturday after a three-day stay in Dr. J. H. P. Stewart's University of Leningrad, who has been studying at Harvard since his extradition in exchange September, plugged Thursday night from the apartment in Cambridge, Mass. where he had been staying, the state department disclosed.

A.E.B. Murphy, Well Known Tignish Native, Dies In B.C.

The death occurred in Vancouver, B.C., on Dec. 27, 1963, of A.E.B. Murphy, 68, formerly of Tignish in his 68th year.

A son of the late Senator Patrick C. Murphy MD, and Mrs. Murphy, he was educated at Dalhousie and Laval Universities.

Shortly after the outbreak of World War One he joined with five of his brothers enlisted in the Canadian Army. He served overseas with the 8th Canadian Battery (The Honey 8th), in which he rose to the rank of captain, and was awarded the Military Cross for gallantry in action.

On his return to Tignish from overseas, he joined with a number of other war veterans organized the Tignish branch of the Great War Veterans Association in 1919, and in which he held the post of secretary.

Later he moved to British Columbia, where he held a position with the department of veterans affairs.

Mr. Murphy, is survived by

SELF-HELP

(Continued from page 1) several younger generations. Throughout the day there were several mentions made of the farmer's need to work more on his own.

Federation President Smith MacFarlane brought the matter up in his report as did the secretary J. Lincoln Dewar. At the dinner "help" was the keynote of Premier Shaw's address and that of the minister of agriculture, Hon. A.B. Maclean.

Lloyd Lockery of the P.E.I. Beef Producers' Association could not hope to solve their problems unless they were willing to work hard on themselves. He cited as an example the proposed cattle market and said "it will never become a reality unless we work ourselves. The government cannot grant us more money, but we will have to put up a certain percentage ourselves."

President MacFarlane felt that farmers and the association had been depending too much on others to do the thing for them.

One weakness of the farmers' union which was generally conceded at the meeting was his seeming lack of interest in the federation as all meetings at all levels, had been "very poorly attended" throughout the year.

COMPLAINTS ON ARDA

The meeting heard several complaints about ARDA, the strongest being that the organization was spending too much time in the development of parks and recreation where it was felt that the main purpose of ARDA should be to assist agriculture.

Several resolutions were passed with regards to assisting new industries to establish on the island. They included studying the possibility of establishing a light metal industry in Prince County and a fax industry for the province as a whole.

It was also proposed to investigate mussel and oyster shell deposits for sale.

Officers Elected

The Provincial executive of the P.E.I. Federation of Agriculture for 1964 was elected last night following the annual meeting of the association.

It will consist of: Smith MacFarlane of Harrington as president; J.A. Rossi of Milton, first vice-president; Daniel MacPherson of Oyster Bed as second vice-president; George MacDonald of St. Georges, president; with other members being Mrs. Estelle MacLean, Indian River; Albert Lindbaker, Lindbaker Road; James Cuthbert, Windsor; Eric Hamill, Newton; Fenton Mayne, Emerald; and J.E. Melish, Union Road.

C.P.A. director will again be Smith MacFarlane.

Building Progress To Be Checked

Dr. John D. Stirling, Montreal, chairman of the building committee for the Fathers of Confederation Memorial Citizens' Foundation, and Charles F. Scott, Ottawa, solicitor and secretary-treasurer for the foundation arrived in the city last night.

They are making an on-the-spot inspection of the progress made in the construction of the memorial building and meeting with officials here.

Dr. Stirling and Mr. Scott are guests at the Charlottetown Hotel, and plan leaving on their home tonight.

ISLAND LEGION

(Continued from page 1) Premier Lewis Shaw at the conclusion of his presentation commented on the cordial relations which have always existed between the legion and the government. He promised every consideration would be given to the requests which the legion contained.

The spokesman for the delegation, Edgar Johnson, secretary of the provincial command, read the concise but comprehensive brief in which the legion requested that the provincial government convention were presented for the government's consideration.

Mr. Hogan congratulated the government on its swift and efficient handling of the request in the brief of the legion. In the brief itself the government was commended for its action in providing Sherwood Hospital for the relief of retarded children in this province.

The brief stated that this was a project which had been approved by the board of the legion and expressed itself as being fully in accord with the legislation that the government might see fit to enact to further this cause and for the benefit of this less fortunate group of citizens.

NO ARDA

The second group of two or three others was approved as "rural development projects." However, it was stated that subjects cannot go forward until rural development areas have been designated. Such designation depends on treasury board decisions here and may take time.

The third group contains projects with "good chance of being approved" but which were held up because ARDA people in Ottawa need "some missing information." There is no reason, however, to suppose that this group will be rejected.

The fourth group of about five suggestions for projects appears to fall outside the ARDA scheme but they do seem to fit within areas coming under departments of government. Accordingly they have been passed to other departments for consideration. An example of this is a suggestion for a technical and educational program in handicrafts which has been referred

YOUNG BULL IS NAMED

Donbom Betty's Star, owned by Almon Wood and Sons, Little York has been nominated for consideration for All Canadian honors in the annual competition for Ayrshire cattle. The young animal won first prize in the class for junior yearling bulls at the Atlantic Winter Fair, Halifax in November.

The young bull's sire, Setwood Betty's Commander, is an approved sire with unusually high rating for production and classification among his progeny both in Canada and the United States. His grand sire, Setwood Cox's Burton, took the grand championship in two successive years at the Royal Winter Fair, Toronto. He was purchased from Donald A. MacIntyre, Finch Ont. The Woods also purchased late in 1963 a young bull calf from the McIntyres. The youngster is not named as yet but his dam has also been nominated for All Canadian honors. He's sired by a Setwood bull, a half-brother to
